Title 204—JUDICIAL SYSTEM GENERAL PROVISIONS

PART V. PROFESSIONAL ETHICS AND CONDUCT [204 PA. CODE CH. 81]

Proposed Amendments to the Rules of Professional Conduct Relating to Scope of Representation and Allocation of Authority between Client and Lawyer

Notice is hereby given that The Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is considering recommending to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court that it adopt amendments to Pennsylvania Rule of Professional Conduct (PA RPC) 1.2 relating to scope of representation and allocation of authority between client and lawyer that were approved by the Pennsylvania Bar Association (PBA) in November 2015, and amend PA RPC 1.2, as set forth in Annex A.

The proposed changes to PA RPC 1.2 include the addition of language to paragraph (d) and the creation of new paragraph (e).

The genesis and development of the proposed amendments arose out of numerous inquiries received by the PBA's Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility Committee and the Philadelphia Bar Association's Professional Guidance Committee from Pennsylvania lawyers asking whether it was ethically permissible to provide legal advice and assistance to clients engaged in the marijuana industry. The impetus behind the inquiries was the changing marijuana laws in the United States precipitating a growing need for legal assistance in this area. To date, over twenty states and the District of Columbia have enacted laws relating to marijuana. Pennsylvania enacted the Medical Marijuana Act on April 17, 2016.

Notwithstanding the trend toward some form of legalization of marijuana in this and other states, marijuana remains illegal under federal law. The Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C. § 811 et. seq. provides that marijuana is a "Schedule I" drug thereby making it unlawful to "manufacture, distribute, dispense, or possess a controlled substance." The conflict between federal law and state legislation legalizing the use of marijuana creates an ethical dilemma for Pennsylvania lawyers because current PA RPC 1.2(d) states that "A lawyer shall not counsel a client to engage, or assist a client, in conduct that the lawyer knows is criminal or fraudulent..." Pursuant to the current Rule, a Pennsylvania lawyer arguably is prohibited from assisting a client in various activities such as drafting or negotiating contracts that may relate, directly or indirectly, to the purchase, distribution or sale of marijuana even though such activities may be legal under state law.

An analysis of the Rules of Professional Conduct in other jurisdictions that have enacted laws relating to the legal use of marijuana demonstrates that these jurisdictions have varying ways of addressing this issue.¹ In Colorado and Washington, where medicinal and recreational use of marijuana is legal, a new Comment was added to Rule 1.2 to permit lawyers to advise and assist clients about marijuana issues without fear of discipline. Jurisdictions such as Arizona, Connecticut and Hawaii have amended Rule 1.2 to permit lawyers to ethically counsel or assist clients in matters that are permissible under their respective state laws. It is apparent that once a jurisdiction makes the policy decision to authorize some form of marijuana-related activity, those who choose to engage in such activity are better served if the legal profession is able to advise clients engaged in such activities without fear of professional discipline.

The purpose of the proposed amendments to PA RPC 1.2 is to reconcile the ethical concerns raised by inconsistent state and federal laws. The proposed amendments will provide guidance to Pennsylvania lawyers and remove uncertainty surrounding the duties of practitioners representing clients having some business relationship with the marijuana industry.

New language added to paragraph 1.2(d) provides for an exception found in new paragraph (e). Proposed new paragraph (e) permits a lawyer to counsel or assist a client regarding conduct expressly permitted by the law of the state where it takes place or has its predominant effect, provided that the lawyer counsels the client about the legal consequences, under other applicable law, of the client's proposed course of conduct.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments by mail or facsimile regarding the proposed amendments to the Office of the Secretary, The Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, 601 Commonwealth Avenue, Suite 5600, PO Box 62625, Harrisburg, PA 17106-2625, Facsimile number (717-231-3382), Email address Dboard.comments@pacourts.us on or before June 3, 2016.

TITLE 231. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

PART I. GENERAL

CHAPTER 1910. ACTIONS FOR SUPPORT

Rule 1910.16-1. Amount of Support. Support Guidelines.

(a) Applicability of the Support Guidelines.

(1) Except as [set forth] provided in subdivision (2) [below], the support guidelines set forth the amount of support which a spouse or parent should pay on the basis of both parties' net monthly incomes as defined in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-2 and the number of persons being supported.

(2) In actions in which the plaintiff is a public body or private agency pursuant to [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.3, the amount of the order shall be calculated under the guidelines based upon each obligor's net monthly income as defined in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-2, with the public or private entity's income as zero. In such cases, each parent shall be treated as a separate obligor and a parent's obligation will be based upon his or her own monthly net income without regard to the income of the other parent.

(i) The amount of basic child support owed to other children not in placement shall be deducted from each parent's net income before calculating support for the child or children in placement, including the amount of direct support the guidelines assume will be provided by the custodial parent.

Example 1. Mother and Father have three children and do not live in the same household. Mother has primary custody of two children and net income of $2,000 per month. Father's net monthly income is $3,000. The parties' third child is in foster care placement. Pursuant to the schedule at [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3, the basic child support amount for the two children with Mother is [$1,369] $1,415. As Father's income is 60% of the parties' combined monthly net income, his basic support obligation to Mother is [$821] $849 per month. The guidelines assume that Mother will provide [$548] $566 per month in direct expenditures to the two children in her home. The agency/obligee brings an action against each parent for the support of the child in placement. Father/obligor's income will be [$2,179] $2,151 for purposes of this calculation ($3,000 [net less $821] less $849 in support for the children with Mother). Because the agency/obligee's income is zero, Father's support for the child in placement will be 100% of the schedule amount of basic support for one child at the [$2,179] $2,151 income level, or [$520] $509 per month. Mother/obligor's income will be [$1,452] $1,434 for purposes of this calculation ($2,000 [net less $548] less $566 in direct support to the children in her custody). Her support obligation will be 100% of the schedule amount for one child at that income level, or $348 per month.

Example 2. Mother and Father have two children in placement. Father owes child support of $500 per month for two children of a former marriage. At the same income levels as above, Father's income for determining his obligation to the children in placement would be $2,500 ($3,000 less $500 support for two children of prior marriage). His obligation to the agency would be [$848] $849 per month (100% of the schedule amount for two children at the $2,500 per month income level). Mother's income would not be diminished as she owes no other child support. She would owe [$685] $686 for the children in placement (100% of the schedule amount for two children at the $2,000 income level).

(ii) If the parents reside in the same household, their respective obligations to the children who remain in the household and are not in placement shall be calculated according to the guidelines, with the parent having the higher income as the obligor, and that amount shall be deducted from the parents' net monthly incomes for purposes of calculating support for the child(ren) in placement.

Example 3. Mother and Father have four children, two of whom are in placement. Mother's net monthly income is $4,000 and Father's is $3,000. The basic support amount for the two children in the home is [$1,628] $1,660, according to the schedule at [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3. As Mother's income is 57% of the parties' combined net monthly incomes, her share would be [$928] $946, and Father's 43% share would be [$700] $714. Mother's income for purposes of calculating support for the two children in placement would be [$3,072] $3,054 ($4,000 less [$928] $946). She would pay 100% of the basic child support at that income level, or $1,032, for the children in placement. Father's income would be [$2,300] $2,286 ($3,000 less [$700] $714) and his obligation to the children in placement would be [$782] $784.

* * * * *

Rule 1910.16-2. Support Guidelines. Calculation of Net Income.

Generally, the amount of support to be awarded is based upon the parties' monthly net income.

* * * * *

(b) Treatment of Public Assistance, SSI Benefits, Social Security Payments to a Child Due to a Parent's Death, Disability or Retirement and Foster Care Payments.

* * * * *

(3) Foster Care Payments. If either party to a support action is a foster parent and/or is receiving payments from a public or private agency for the care of a child who is not his or her biological or adoptive child, those payments shall not be included in the income of the foster parent or other caretaker for purposes of calculating child support for the foster parent's or other caretaker's biological or adoptive child.

Example 1. The obligor has net monthly income of $2,000. The obligee's net monthly income is $1,500 and the obligee, as primary custodial parent of the parties' two children, receives $700 per month in Social Security derivative benefits on behalf of the children as a result of the obligor's disability. Add the children's benefit to the obligee's income, which now is $2,200 per month. At the parties' combined net monthly income of $4,200, the amount of basic child support for two children is [$1,272] $1,301. As the obligor's income is 48% of the parties' combined monthly net income, the obligor's preliminary share of the basic support obligation is [$611] $624. However, because the obligor's disability created the children's Social Security derivative benefits that the obligee is receiving, the obligor's obligation is reduced by the amount of the benefit, $700. As the support amount cannot be less than zero, the obligor's support obligation is $0 per month. If it were the obligee's disability that created the benefit, the obligor's support obligation would remain [$611] $624. If the obligor were receiving the children's benefit as a result of the obligor's retirement or disability, the obligor's income would include the amount of the benefit and total $2,700, or 64% of the parties' combined net monthly income. The obligor's share of the basic support obligation would then be [$814] $833 and would not be reduced by the amount of the children's benefit because the obligor, not the obligee, is receiving the benefit. Therefore, the obligor's support obligation is less if the obligee is receiving the benefit created by the obligor.

Example 2. Two children live with Grandmother who receives $800 per month in Social Security death benefits for the children as a result of their father's death. Grandmother also receives $500 per month from a trust established by Father for the benefit of the children. Grandmother is employed and earns $2,000 net per month. Grandmother seeks support from the children's mother, who earns $1,500 net per month. For purposes of calculating Mother's support obligation, Grandmother's income will be $1300, the amount she receives on behalf of the children in Social Security derivative benefits and the income from the trust. (If Mother were receiving the benefit on behalf of the children it would be added to her income such that Mother's income would be $2,300 and Grandmother's income would be $500.) Therefore, the obligee's and Grandmother's combined net monthly incomes total $2,800. The basic support amount at the $2,800 income level for two children is [$948] $949. Subtracting from that amount the $800 in Social Security derivative benefits Grandmother receives for the children, results in a basic support amount of [$148] $149. As Mother's income of $1,500 is 54% of the parties' combined income of $2,800, her support obligation to Grandmother is $80 per month. If Grandmother [were] was not receiving the children's derivative benefits or income from the trust, her income for purposes of calculating Mother's child support obligation would be zero, and Mother would pay 100% of the basic support amount because Grandmother has no [support obligation to] duty to support the children.

* * * * *

(1) Low Income Cases.

(A) [When] If the obligor's monthly net income and corresponding number of children fall into the shaded area of the schedule set forth in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3, the basic child support obligation shall [first] be calculated initially by using the obligor's income only. For example, [where] if the obligor has monthly net income of $1,100, the presumptive amount of support for three children is [$156] $110 per month. This amount is determined directly from the schedule in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3. Next, calculate the obligor's child support obligation [as in any other case, using both parties'] by using the parties' combined monthly net incomes and the formula in Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-4. The lower of the two [calculations] calculated amounts shall be the obligor's basic child support obligation.

Example: The parties have two children. The obligor has net monthly income of $1,500, which falls into the shaded area of the schedule for two children. Using only the obligor's net income, the amount of support for two children would be [$518] $472. Next, calculate support using [both parties'] the parties' combined incomes. The obligee has net monthly income of $2,500 so the combined net monthly income of the parties is $4,000. The basic [shild] child support amount at that income level for two children is [$1,240] $1,269. As the obligor's income is 38% of the combined net monthly income of the parties, the obligor's share of the basic support amount is [$471] $482. As the amount of support the obligor would pay using the obligor's income alone is [more] less than the amount calculated using both parties' incomes, the lower amount would be awarded[. Thus,] and the obligor's basic child support obligation is [$471] $472.

(B) In computing a basic spousal support or alimony pendente lite obligation, the presumptive amount of support shall not reduce the obligor's net income below the Self-Support Reserve of [$931] $981 per month. For example, if the obligor earns $1,000 per month and the obligee earns $300 per month, the formula in Part IV of [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-4 would result in a support obligation of $280 per month. Since this amount leaves the obligor with only $720 per month, it must be adjusted so that the obligor retains at least [$931] $981 per month. The presumptive minimum amount of spousal support, therefore, is [$69] $19 per month in this case.

(C) When the obligor's monthly net income is [$931] $981 or less, the court may award support only after consideration of the parties' actual financial resources and living expenses.

Rule 1910.16-3. Support Guidelines. Basic Child Support Schedule.

The following schedule [sets forth] represents the amounts spent on children [in] of intact families by combined net income and number of children. Combined net income is on the vertical axis of the schedule and number of children is on the horizontal axis of the schedule. This schedule is used to find the basic child support obligation. Unless otherwise provided in these rules, the obligor's share of the basic support obligation shall be computed using the formula set forth in Part I of [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-4.

Rule 1910.16-3.1. Support Guidelines. High Income Cases.

(a) Child Support Formula. [When] If the parties' combined monthly net income [is above] exceeds $30,000, the following three-step process shall be applied to calculate the parties' respective child support obligations. The amount of support calculated pursuant to this three-step process shall [in no event] not be less than the amount of support that would have been awarded if the parties' combined net monthly income [were $30,000. That amount shall be a] was $30,000, which shall be the presumptive minimum amount of support.

(1) First, the following formula shall be applied as a preliminary analysis in calculating the amount of basic child support to be apportioned between the parties according to their respective incomes:

One child: [$2,801] $2,839 + [8.5%] 8.6% of combined net income above $30,000 per month.

Two children: [$3,836] $3,902 + [11.6%] 11.8% of combined net income above $30,000 per month.

Three children: [$4,277] $4,365 + [12.6%] 12.9% of combined net income above $30,000 per month.

Four children: [$4,718] $4,824 + [14.3%] 14.6% of combined net income above $30,000 per month.

Five children: [$5,190] $5,306 + [15.8%] 16.1% of combined net income above $30,000 per month.

Six children: [$5,641] $5,768 + [17.1%] 17.5% of combined net income above $30,000 per month;

Rule 1910.16-4. Support Guidelines. Calculation of Support Obligation. Formula.

* * * * *

(c) Substantial or Shared Physical Custody.

(1) When the children spend 40% or more of their time during the year with the obligor, a rebuttable presumption arises that the obligor is entitled to a reduction in the basic support obligation to reflect this time. This rebuttable presumption also applies in high income cases decided pursuant to Rule 1910.16-3.1. Except as provided in subsection (2) below, the reduction shall be calculated pursuant to the formula set forth in Part II of subdivision (a) of this rule. For purposes of this provision, the time spent with the children shall be determined by the number of overnights they spend during the year with the obligor.

Example. [Where] If the obligor and the obligee have monthly net incomes of $5,000 and $2,300 respectively, their combined child support obligation is [$1,669] $1,701 for two children. Using the income shares formula in Part I, the obligor's share of this obligation is 68%, or [$1,135] $1,157. If the children spend 40% of their time with the obligor, the formula in Part II applies to reduce his or her percentage share of the combined support obligation to 58%, or [$968] $987. If the children spend 45% of their time with the obligor, his or her percentage share of the combined obligation is reduced to 53%, or [$885] $902. If the children spend equal time with both parents, the obligor's percentage share is reduced to 48%, or [$801] $816.

(2) Without regard to which parent initiated the support action, when the children spend equal time with both parents, the Part II formula cannot be applied unless the obligor is the parent with the higher income. [In no event shall an order] No order shall be entered requiring the parent with the lower income to pay basic child support to the parent with the higher income. However, [nothing in] this subdivision shall not prevent the entry of an order requiring the parent with less income to contribute to additional expenses pursuant to [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-6. [Pursuant to either party's initiating a support action] Based upon the evidence presented, the trier of fact may enter an order against either party [based upon the evidence presented] without regard to which party initiated the action. [In all cases in which] If the parties share custody equally and the support calculation results in the obligee receiving a larger share of the parties' combined income, then the court shall adjust the support obligation so that the combined net income is allocated equally between the two households. In those cases, no spousal support or alimony pendente lite shall be awarded.

Example 1. Mother and Father have monthly net incomes of $3,000 and $2,700 respectively. Mother has filed for support for the parties' two children with whom [they] the parties share time equally. Because the parties have equal custody and Mother has the higher income of the parties, Mother cannot be the obligee for purposes of the Part II calculation. Although Mother initiated the support action, she would be the obligor. Pursuant to the basic child support schedule at [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3, the support amount for two children at [their parents'] the parties' combined net income level is [$1,450] $1,487 per month. Mother's share is 53% of that amount, or [$769] $788. Father's share is 47%, or [$682] $699. [Application of subdivisions a. and b. of the Part II formula results in a 20% reduction in support when each parent spends 50% of the time with the children. Because the parties share custody equally, Mother cannot be the obligee for purposes of the Part II calculation because she has the higher income of the two parents. In these circumstances, although Mother initiated the support action, she would become the obligor even if Father has not filed for support. Father cannot be an obligor in the Part II calculations nor can the amount of support Mother is obligated to pay to Father be offset by calculating Father's adjusted amount of support under Part II because a support order cannot be entered against the parent with the lesser income. Using Mother as the obligor, her] Application of lines 11a and 11b of the Part II formula results in a 20% reduction in support when the obligor has 50% custody of the children. Mother's adjusted percentage share of the basic support amount is 33% (53% - 20% = 33%). Her adjusted share of the basic support amount is [$479] $491 (33% of [$1,450] $1,487). However, [instead of $479 per month] as this amount would result in Father having a greater share of the parties' combined net income ($3,191 vs. $2,509), Mother's support obligation would be adjusted to $150 per month to allocate the parties' combined net income equally between the two households[. This] and is the presumptive amount of basic support payable to Father under these circumstances.

Example 2. [Where] If the obligor and the obligee have monthly net incomes of $3,000 and $2,500 respectively, then their combined child support obligation for two children is [$1,426] $1,463. The obligor's share of this obligation is 55%, or [$784] $805 ($$1,463 \times 55\%$). If the children spend equal time with both parents, the formula in Part II results in a support obligation of [$499] $512 ($$1,463 \times 35\%$) payable to the obligee. Since this amount [gives the obligee $2,999 of the combined income, and leaves the obligor with only $2,501 of the combined income] results in the obligee having monthly net income of $3,012 and the obligor having monthly net income of $2,488, the obligor's support obligation must be adjusted to $250 to equalize the combined income between the parties' households[. This] and is the presumptive amount of basic support payable to the obligee under these circumstances.

(d) Divided or Split Physical Custody. When Each Party Has Primary Custody of One or More of the Children. Varied Custodial Schedules.

(1) Divided or Split Physical Custody. When Each Party Has Primary Custody of One or More of the Children. When calculating a child support obligation, and one or more of the children reside primarily with each party, the court shall offset the parties' respective child support obligations and award the net difference to the obligee as child support. For example, if the parties have three children, one of whom resides with Father and two of whom reside with Mother, and their net monthly incomes are $2,500 and $1,250 respectively, Father's child support obligation is calculated as follows. Using the schedule in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3 for two children at the parties' combined net monthly income of $3,750, the amount of basic child support to be apportioned between the parties is [$1,200] $1,224. As Father's income is 67% of the parties' combined net monthly income, Father's support obligation for the two children living with Mother is [$804] $820. Using the schedule in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3 for one child, Mother's support obligation for the child living with Father is [$276] $281. Subtracting [$276] $281 from [$804] $820 produces a net basic support amount of [$528] $539 payable to Mother as child support.

* * * * *

Rule 1910.16-6. Support Guidelines. Adjustments to the Basic Support Obligation. Allocation of Additional Expenses.

[Additional expenses permitted pursuant to this Rule 1910.16-6 may be allocated between the parties even if the parties' incomes do not justify an order of basic support.]

The trier of fact shall allocate between the parties the additional expenses identified in subdivisions (a)—(e). If, under the facts of the case, an order for basic support is not appropriate, the trier of fact may allocate between the parties the additional expenses.

(a) Child care expenses. Reasonable child care expenses paid by either parent, if necessary to maintain employment or appropriate education in pursuit of income, shall be allocated between the parties in proportion to their net incomes and added to his and her basic support obligation. When a parent is receiving a child care subsidy through the [Department of Public Welfare] Department of Human Services, the expenses to be allocated between the parties shall be the amount actually paid by the parent receiving the subsidy.

Example. Mother has primary custody of the parties' two children and Father has partial custody. Mother's monthly net income is $2,000 and Father's is $3,500. At their combined income level of $5,500, the basic monthly child support from the schedule in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-3 is [$1,426] $1,463 for two children. As Father's income is 64% of the parties' combined income, his share is [$913] $936. Mother incurs child care expenses of $400 per month and Father incurs $100 of such expenses each month. The total amount of child care expenses, $500, will be apportioned between the parties, with Father paying 64%, or $320. As he is already paying $100 for child care while the children are in his partial custody, he would pay the remaining $220 to Mother for a total child support obligation of [$1,133 ($913 + $220 = $1,133)] $1,156 ($936 + $220 = $1,156).

* * * * *

Rule 1910.16-7. Support Guidelines. Awards of Child Support When There are Multiple Families.

(a) When the total of the obligor's basic child support obligations equals [fifty percent] 50% or less of his or her monthly net income, there will generally be no deviation from the guideline amount of support on the ground of the existence of a new family. [For example, where]

Example: If the obligor requests a reduction of support for one child of the first marriage on the basis that there is a new child of the second intact marriage, and the relevant monthly net incomes are $2,500 for the obligor, $500 for the former spouse and $1,300 for the current spouse, then the request for a reduction will be denied because the total support obligation of [$1,140] $1,153 ([$584] $586 for the first child and [$556] $567 for the second child) is less than half of the obligor's monthly net income.

(b) When the total of the obligor's basic support obligations exceeds [fifty percent] 50% of his or her monthly net income, the court may consider a proportional reduction of these obligations. Since, however, the goal of the guidelines is to treat each child equitably, [in no event should either] a first or later family shall not receive preference[. Nor shall], and the court shall not divide the guideline amount for all of the obligor's children among the households in which those children live.

Example 1. The obligor is sued for support of an out of wedlock child. The obligor is already paying support for two children of the first marriage, and has an intact second marriage with one child. The relevant monthly net incomes are $3,800 for the obligor, $1,100 for the former spouse, $0 for the current spouse and $1,500 for the parent of the new child. The obligor's basic support obligations to each family are [$1,061] $1,091 for the two children of the first marriage, [$842] $862 for the one child of the second marriage, and [$708] $724 for the one child out of wedlock for a total support obligation of [$2,611] $2,677. Since the total of these obligations exceeds [fifty percent] 50% of the obligor's net monthly income of $3,800 per month, the court may consider a proportional reduction of all of the orders.

Example 2. The obligor is sued for support of three children of a second marriage. There is already an order in effect for two children of the first marriage. The relevant monthly net incomes are $1,600 for the obligor, $0 for the first spouse and $500 for the second spouse. The obligor's basic support obligations to each family are [$554] $555 for the two children of the first marriage and [$638] $642 for the three children of the second marriage for a total support obligation of [$1,192] $1,197. Since this total obligation leaves the obligor with only [$408] $403 on which to live, the [order for the three children of the second family is too high. The obligor also] orders are too high as the obligor must be left with a Self-Support Reserve of [$931] $981. However, reducing the order for three children while leaving the existing order intact would give preference to the first family, contrary to the rule. Therefore, both orders must be reduced proportionally.

Example 3. The obligor is sued by three obligees to establish orders for three children [born out of wedlock]. The net monthly [incomes] income for the obligor and for each obligee is $1,500. The court would determine that the obligor's basic support obligation for each child is $352 for a total obligation of $1,056 for three children. It would be incorrect to determine the guideline amount for three children, in this case $1,189, and then divide that amount among the three children. However, due to the total support amount exceeding 50% of the obligor's net income, the support orders should be reduced proportionately consistent with subdivision (b) and ensure the obligor retains the Self-Support Reserve of $981 consistent with Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-2(e).

(c) For purposes of this rule, the presumptive amount of the obligor's basic support obligation is calculated using only the basic guideline amounts of support, as determined from the formula in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-4, and does not include any additional expenses that may be added to these amounts pursuant to [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-6. In calculating the presumptive amount of the obligor's basic support obligation, the court should ensure that the obligor retains at least [$931] $981 per month consistent with [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-2(e).

Example 1. Assume that the obligor is paying [$565] $566 per month support for one child of the first marriage, plus an additional $200 per month for child care expenses. The obligor requests a reduction in this support obligation on the basis that there is one new child of the second intact marriage. The relevant incomes are $2,400 for the obligor and $0 for both the former and current spouses. The obligor's request for a reduction should be denied because the total of the basic guideline obligations for both children is only [$1,130] $1,132 ([$565] $566 for each child) and [this amount] does not exceed 50% of the obligor's net monthly income. No reduction should be given on the basis that the obligor's contribution to child care expenses for the first child results in an overall support obligation of [$1,330] $1,332 which exceeds 50% of the obligor's net monthly income. Thus, the presumptive amount of basic support for the two children is still [$1,130] $1,132 ([$565] $566 for each child). The court must then consider the deviation factors under [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-5 and the parties' respective contributions to additional expenses under [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-6 in arriving at an appropriate amount of total support for each child.

Example 2. Assume that the obligor is paying $360 per month support for one child of the first marriage. The obligor has one new child of the second intact marriage. The relevant incomes are $1,500 for the obligor and $0 for both the former and current spouses. No reduction should be given on the basis of the obligor's new child because the total of the basic guideline obligations for both children is only $720 ($360 for each child) and this amount does not exceed 50% of the obligor's net monthly income. Since, however, this amount leaves the obligor with only $780 per month, the court should proportionally reduce the support obligations so that the obligor retains [$931] $981 per month. Thus, the presumptive amount of basic support for the two children is [$569] $519 ([$284.50] $259.50 for each child). The court must then consider the deviation factors under [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-5 and the parties' respective contributions to additional expenses under [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-6 in arriving at an appropriate amount of total support for each child.

PUBLICATION REPORT

Recommendation 152

The Domestic Relations Procedural Rules Committee (Committee) is proposing amendments to Pa.R.C.P. Nos. 1910.16-1, 1910.16-2, 1910.16-3, 1910.16-3.1, 1910.16-4, 1910.16-6, and 1910.16-7. The amendments are being proposed as part of the quadrennial support guideline review mandated by federal and state law and the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure. Consistent with the support guideline reviews in 2008 and 2012, the Committee engaged the assistance of Jane Venohr, Ph.D. from the Center for Policy Research, Denver, Colorado, who had been contracted by the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services to serve as a technical and economic adviser.

In addition to advising the Committee on technical issues of support and the current economic climate, Dr. Venohr prepared a report outlining her research, which was utilized by the Committee during this support guideline review process. Dr. Venohr's report entitled "2015-2016 Pennsylvania Child Support Guideline Review: Economic Review and Analysis of Case File Data" is available for public inspection on the Committee's website (<http://www.pacourts.us/courts/supreme-court/committees/rules-committees/domestic-relations-procedural-rules-committee>).

In conducting the quadrennial review, the Committee not only considered the economic data provided by Dr. Venohr, but also, the practical everyday experiences of litigants, attorneys, judges and domestic relations personnel involved in the domestic relations process. With that said, no significant changes to the support guidelines rules or underlying policies are being proposed by the Committee, excepting the support guidelines schedules and the Self-Support Reserve. The methodology, Income Shares Model, and the economic data set for child-rearing expenditures, Betson Rothbarth-3, continue to be the foundation of the support guideline schedules and have been for at least the past three quadrennial reviews.

Dr. Venohr's economic data for the updated schedules recommended by the Committee in this Recommendation is based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI), September 2015 data. The 2012 guideline review utilized economic data from the September 2011 CPI. Dr. Vehnor's analysis of the intervening four years demonstrated a relatively small increase in the economic price levels. As a result of the methodology and economic data set remaining constant, the slight upward change in price levels is the impetus for a slight increase in the support schedules.

It should be noted that Recommendation 146 proposed an amendment to Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910-16-4(d) prior to the publication of this Recommendation. Recommendation 146 is currently in the rulemaking process; however, as Recommendation 146 has not been adopted by the Court at the time of publication of this Recommendation, the current rule is used in this Recommendation and illustrates the changes to the current rule based on the proposed support guidelines. Should the Court adopt and promulgate Recommendation 146, this Recommendation will be revised to reflect any changes to Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910-16-4(d).

EXPLANATORY REPORT

Proposed Adoption of New Pa.O.C. Rule 14.6 and Form G-05

In 2014, the Elder Law Task Force delivered a comprehensive 284-page report detailing 130 specific recommendations to help lay the foundation for improvements in tackling elder law issues in the courts and by other government entities. The report contained a number of specific recommendations for amendment of the Orphans'

Court Procedural Rules. Those recommendations are currently under consideration by the Committee. The report also suggested modification of current statewide forms for guardianship matters and the addition of several new forms to assist in monitoring guardianships.

In 2015, the Committee published for comment the proposed rescission and replacement of several guardianship forms, as well as the addition of several new forms. 45 Pa.B. 1070 (March 7, 2015). One of the proposed forms was a “Deposition of Written Interrogatories of Physician or Licensed Psychologist,” which was intended to be completed by the evaluator and reflect the evaluator’s assessment of the capacity of the alleged incapacitated person. In uncontested matters, this form could be submitted to the court in place of sworn testimony. With this form, it is intended that the evaluator could be relieved of the burden of testifying in person, as well as avoiding unnecessary fees in uncontested cases. Moreover, the need for one less witness to appear would ease scheduling difficulties. This form is not intended to replace the need for live testimony in contested cases.

Currently, an expert is permitted by statute to submit his or her evaluation by deposition in lieu of live testimony, 20 Pa.C.S. § 5518; however, the form for providing this evaluation by written deposition varies by county. The proposed form would become a mandatory statewide form to be used by each and every evaluator who is providing testimony by deposition regarding the capacity of an alleged incapacitated person where incapacity is uncontested.

The Committee reviewed the comments received from the prior publication of this form, formed a subcommittee, and invited a physician and practitioners in the field to participate. After much deliberation, the now-titled “Deposition by Written Interrogatories” was substantially revised.

With sincere appreciation for the volunteer efforts of the subcommittee, the Committee has accepted the revised form to be published anew for comment. The Committee also proposes a new Rule 14.6 to implement this form, establish the circumstances in which it may be used, and provide commentary guiding its intended use. The Committee invites the bench, bar, and public to submit their comments, suggestions, or objections to this proposal.

During the interim, the Committee continues its efforts to develop more comprehensive statewide rules and forms for guardianship proceedings. These rules and forms will be published for comment at a later date.

TITLE 231. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

PART II. ORPHANS’ COURT RULES

CHAPTER XIV. GUARDIANSHIPS OF INCAPACITATED PERSONS

(Editor’s Note: See Supreme Court Order No. 682, dated December 1, 2015, effective September 1, 2016, published at 45 Pa.B. 7098 (December 19, 2015) for the text of Rule 14.5 as follows.)

Rule 14.5. Forms.

The following forms located in the Appendix shall be used exclusively.

- (a) Important Notice—Citation with Notice;
- (b) Annual Report of Guardian of the Estate;
- (c) Annual Report of Guardian of the Person; [and]
- (d) Guardian’s Inventory[.]; and
- (e) Deposition by Written Interrogatories.

Explanatory Comment: In accordance with Rule 1.8, these forms must be used exclusively and cannot be replaced or supplanted by a local form.

(Editor’s Note: The following rule is new and printed in regular type to enhance readability.)

Rule 14.6. Deposition by Written Interrogatories.

Evidence of incapacity may be admissible through a deposition by written interrogatories using the form provided in the Appendix to these rules under the following circumstances:

- (a) The deponent is qualified by training and experience in evaluating individuals with incapacities for the type alleged in the petition;
- (b) The deponent signs, dates, and verifies the response to the written interrogatories; and
- (c) Incapacity is uncontested.

Explanatory Comment: This rule and referenced form are intended to permit the admission of expert testimony by written deposition rather than live testimony. See 20 Pa.C.S § 5518. The rule is permissive; whether a deposition is admitted in lieu of testimony is at the discretion of the court. Nothing in this rule is intended to preclude the court from requiring the deponent to appear or requiring supplementation if the court is not satisfied with the response contained within the deposition. With the necessity of cross-examination, when capacity is contested, the use of a deposition by written interrogatories pursuant to this rule is not permitted.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMITTING EXPERT TESTIMONY BY ANSWERS TO WRITTEN DEPOSITION

To establish incapacity, the petitioner must present testimony from an individual qualified by training and experience in evaluating persons with incapacities of the type alleged by the petitioner. As an accommodation to such expert witnesses, the Court will accept such testimony by answers to written interrogatories rather than require their testimony.

IT IS THE OBLIGATION OF COUNSEL OR A PARTY OFFERING EXPERT TESTIMONY BY ANSWERS TO
WRITTEN DEPOSITION TO ENSURE COMPLIANCE WITH THESE INSTRUCTIONS

In order for such testimony to be accepted by answers to Written Deposition, the following conditions must be met:

- 1) All of the following interrogatories are clearly and legibly answered or designated as “not applicable.”
- 2) The answers are signed and verified subject to the penalties of Title 18 Pa.C.S. § 4904 (relating to unsworn falsification to authorities) by the individual offering such testimony.
- 3) A signed copy of the answers to the Written Deposition is filed with the Clerk of the Orphans’ Court at least three (3) business days before the hearing on the petition to establish incapacity.

The failure to satisfy ALL of the foregoing instructions may, in the Court’s discretion, result in the answers being rejected and require the testimony of the expert witness in person or by telephone, and may result in a delay or a rescheduling of the hearing.
