

PROPOSED RULEMAKING

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

[55 PA. CODE CHS. 51, 2380, 2390, 6100,
6200, 6400 AND 6500]

Home and Community-Based Supports and Licensing

The Department of Human Services (Department), under the authority of sections 201(2), 403(b), 403.1(a) and (b), 911 and 1021 of the Human Services Code (62 P.S. §§ 201(2), 403(b), 403.1(a) and (b), 911 and 1021) and section 201(2) of the Mental Health and Intellectual Disability Act of 1966 (50 P.S. § 4201(2)), proposes to rescind Chapters 51 and 6200 (relating to Office of Developmental Programs home and community-based services; and room and board charges), amend Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500 and adopt Chapter 6100 (relating to support for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism) to read as set forth in Annex A.

Purpose of Proposed Rulemaking

The purpose of this proposed rulemaking is to support individuals with an intellectual disability or autism to live in and participate fully in the life of their community, to achieve greater independence and to have the full range of opportunities enjoyed by all citizens of this Commonwealth. This proposed rulemaking strengthens community supports to promote person-centered approaches, community integration, personal choice, quality in support delivery, equity, accountability in the utilization of resources and innovation in service design.

This proposed rulemaking governs the program, operational and fiscal aspects of the following: (a) home and community-based supports (HCBS) provided through the adult autism, consolidated and person/family directed support 1915(c) waiver programs; (b) Medicaid State plan HCBS for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism, such as targeted support management; and (c) services funded exclusively by grants to counties under the Mental Health and Intellectual Disability Act of 1966 (50 P.S. §§ 4101—4704) or Article XIV-B of the Human Services Code (62 P.S. §§ 1401-B—1410-B). This proposed rulemaking amends licensing regulations in Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500 to eliminate duplication and conflict in the areas of training, rights, person-centered support plans (PSP), incident management, positive intervention and medication administration. This proposed rulemaking also rescinds and replaces Chapters 51 and 6200.

This proposed rulemaking is needed to continue the Commonwealth's eligibility for Federal financial participation in the HCBS waiver programs. See 42 CFR Part 441 (relating to services: requirements and limits applicable to specific services). This proposed rulemaking protects the health, safety and well-being of the individuals receiving supports in individual-directed, family-based, community residential and day programs funded through the HCBS waivers, the Commonwealth's Title XIX State plan and State-funds-only allocations.

This proposed rulemaking eliminates unnecessary language, streamlines processes and reduces the volume of regulation. This proposed rulemaking incorporates consistent and best practice terms, language and principles throughout the regulations.

Background

Chapter 51 was published at 42 Pa.B. 3230 (June 9, 2012) under the authority of the act of June 30, 2011 (P.L. 89, No. 22) that permitted the Department of Public Welfare to promulgate certain assistance and eligibility regulations as final rulemakings through an abbreviated regulatory process. (The Department of Public Welfare was renamed the Department of Human Services by the act of September 24, 2014 (P.L. 2458, No. 132).) In response to numerous concerns about Chapter 51 from individuals who receive support, families, advocates, providers and county programs, in January 2015, the Department initiated a comprehensive revision of Chapter 51, applying a widely representative and interactive community participation process that encourages and values external stakeholder participation throughout the regulatory development, proposed rulemaking and final promulgation regulatory processes.

Requirements

Proposed Chapter 6100 encompasses the program, operational and fiscal aspects of the following: three Office of Developmental Programs HCBS Federally-funded waiver programs including the consolidated waiver, the adult autism waiver and the person/family directed support waiver; Medicaid State plan HCBS for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism, such as targeted support management; and services funded exclusively by grants to counties under the Mental Health and Intellectual Disability Act of 1966 or Article XIV-B of the Human Services Code.

This proposed rulemaking encompasses health, safety and well-being protections for individuals with a disability or autism who receive support in a licensed adult training facility, vocational facility, community home for individuals with an intellectual disability or family living home.

Summary of Major Revisions, Additions and Deletions

Chapter 6100. Support for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism

Inclusion of base-funding. Chapter 6100 replaces Chapter 51. Chapter 6100 enlarges the scope of the chapter to incorporate program and operational provisions for services funded exclusively by grants to counties under the Mental Health and Intellectual Disability Act of 1966 or Article XIV-B of the Human Services Code. The inclusion of these services in the scope of this proposed rulemaking is intended to provide protection and support for individuals who are not served in an HCBS waiver program, but who receive similar supports and services through State-funds-only allocations. Only certain program and operational sections of this proposed rulemaking apply to these services. Specifically, the fiscal operations of the programs continue to be regulated under Chapter 4300 (relating to county mental health and intellectual disability fiscal manual).

Provisions for individuals with autism. This proposed rulemaking incorporates provisions for the regulation of HCBS adult autism supports. Under Chapter 51, many regulatory exemptions were specified for the adult autism waiver, thereby creating a system of inconsistent opportunities for individuals with an intellectual disability versus individuals with autism. In response to concerns from individuals with autism and disability advocates, the Department proposes to thoroughly incorporate the adult autism waiver program into this proposed rulemaking. In some cases, best practice program concepts from the adult autism waiver are proposed for inclusion across the intellectual disability program; in other cases, similar health, safety and well-being protections afforded to individuals with an intellectual disability are proposed to apply to the adult autism program. The goal of the more comprehensive inclusion of the adult autism waiver in Chapter 6100 is to provide similar safeguards and opportunities for both individuals with autism and individuals with an intellectual disability.

This proposed rulemaking expands the scope of Chapters 6400 and 6500 (relating to community homes for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism; and life sharing homes) to include individuals with autism. This proposed rulemaking codifies existing practice whereby community homes and family living homes that support individuals with autism are inspected and licensed under the same licensing regulations that govern homes serving individuals with intellectual disabilities. Chapters 2380 and 2390 (relating to adult training facilities; and vocational facilities) currently include individuals with autism.

Improved flow and format. To aid in overall readability, rather than disperse regulatory exemptions and special program requirements throughout the chapter, the special program provisions and exemptions are listed at the end of the chapter. The special program sections include the adult autism waiver, agency with choice, support coordination and targeted support management services, organized health care delivery and vendor goods and services. This proposed format improves the flow and readability for the mainstream of programs affected by this proposed rulemaking and shortens the overall length of the regulations.

Plain English and definitions. This proposed rulemaking uses plain English and consistent terminology. In addition, acronyms are kept to a minimum to aid in readability. Further, unnecessary language is proposed to be deleted making the regulations shorter and easier to read.

Chapter 6200 rescission. Chapter 6200 is proposed to be rescinded. Chapter 6200 applies to non-HCBS supports, while Chapter 51 applies to HCBS supports; however, the provisions of the two chapters are unnecessarily different and require duplicative administrative systems. This proposed rulemaking includes the same updated room and board provisions for both HCBS and State-funds-only programs, providing application across the community system. The proposed rescission of regulations reduces the administrative burden for providers, the county programs and the Department.

Federal compliance. The Commonwealth must demonstrate full compliance with the Federal requirements in 42 CFR Part 441 by March 17, 2019. This proposed rulemaking addresses the key components of 42 CFR Part 441.

Reduction of licensing duplication. Four existing chapters of licensing regulations govern many of the same facilities that are also funded through the HCBS waivers, the Commonwealth's Title XIX State plan and State-funds-only allocations. To provide consistency among the HCBS provisions and the four licensing chapters, this proposed rulemaking includes revisions to the four licensing chapters to promulgate the same requirements for six major program and operational areas including staff training, rights, incident management, PSPs, positive interventions and medication administration. See the "Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500—licensing regulations" portion of this proposed rulemaking for a detailed description of the proposed amendments to these chapters.

Background check clarity. Changes are proposed to cast a wider net on the categories of persons who shall complete background checks. Household members, volunteers, life sharers and interns who provide a support and staff persons will require a criminal history check.

Staff training overhaul. Traditionally, the licensing regulations have dictated the specific training courses that each staff person shall complete upon initial hire and on an annual basis. This proposed rulemaking takes a new approach whereby only four core courses are required, with much of the training program designed by the provider based on the needs of the individuals.

As suggested by the external stakeholder regulation work group, latitude is provided for the provider to design its own training plan to meet its administrative needs for each staff position, while encompassing specifications of the individuals' PSP. Four core courses are required for all persons who provide HCBS: person-centeredness; rights; abuse prevention and reporting; and incident prevention and reporting. In sync with the community home licensing regulations, training in positive interventions is required if an individual served may have a dangerous behavior. Also consistent with licensing regulations, training in medications administration is required if the person will administer medications. The licensing regulations continue to require facility-based courses, such as fire safety, cardiopulmonary resuscitation and first aid.

The proposed number of 24 annual training hours matches the number of hours currently required in Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500. Only 12 training hours are required annually for management and other nondirect support staff persons, 8 hours of which are required in the four key areas (person-centeredness, rights, abuse and incidents), as these are core value and protection areas that everyone who works for the provider, including maintenance and office workers, shall understand and embrace.

To provide truly integrated, person-centered and value-based supports, all members of the organization shall understand the core values and protection areas. This includes a maintenance worker, office worker or volunteer who may greet and interact with an individual, observe a reportable incident or have knowledge of an allegation of abuse.

Expansion of individual rights. This proposed rulemaking encompasses a broad array of individual rights. Several of the rights are Federal requirements. Most of the rights are already enumerated under Chapter 6400, which are applicable for community homes. These rights shall be protected equally for an individual who receives support in the individual's own home, a family home, through nonfacility based supports, as well as in facility-based programs.

Modification of the PSP. The individual support plan provisions have been streamlined to address the Federal requirements. "Individual support plan (ISP)" is proposed to be updated to "PSP" to align with the Federal language of "person-centered" plan. As requested by the external stakeholder regulation work group, clarification of the required documentation of support delivery for purposes of eligibility for Federal financial participation was also added.

Use of positive interventions. This proposed rulemaking proposes to propel this Commonwealth forward as a leader of humane treatment of individuals with disabilities by prohibiting the use of chemical restraints, mechanical restraints, exclusion and many manual restraints. The use of a physical protective restraint is permitted by trained staff, in an emergency situation, to protect the life safety of the individual or others. A rights team shall review the use of a restraint and all rights violations. Several organizations, such as the Disability Rights Pennsylvania and The Arc, have encouraged and applauded the elimination of restraints.

Facility characteristics. A proposed section addresses the Federal requirements for facility size and community location to promote integration into the community. See 42 CFR Part 441. This proposed rulemaking sets a maximum program capacity size of 4 individuals for residential facilities and 15 individuals at any one time for day facilities, with the caveat that with the Department's approval, existing residential facilities may be able to retain their current size limit of 8.

In addition to the size restriction, facilities may not be located adjacent to or in close proximity to another day or residential human service facility, with an exception for existing programs, subject to the Department's approval.

Array of payment options. This proposed rulemaking allows an array of payment options including fee-based, cost-based, managed care and other methodologies. This array of payment options is intended to allow the continued research, design and implementation of payment mechanisms to address the evolving needs of individuals with intellectual disabilities and autism over the coming decade. The Department and some providers agree that the current system of cost-based reimbursement for residential habilitation is costly and inefficient. The Department agrees that providers, advocates and self-advocates should be included in discussions to transition from the cost-based system to a more viable payment system.

Refresh of the data used to establish fee schedule rates. This proposed rulemaking requires the refresh of data every 3 years. In addition, the Department will request public comment on the market-based factors prior to establishing new fee schedule rates.

Fee-schedule criteria expanded. The factors considered to establish fees through the market-based approach have been expanded including individual needs, a review of the HCBS service definitions as provided in the Federally-approved waivers and waiver amendments and the associated costs, as well as the fiscal impact of compliance with Federal and Commonwealth laws and regulations and local ordinances. The Department may also consider other criteria that impact costs, such as the cost of living in a particular geographic area, if the criteria significantly affects staffing costs.

Reduced requirement for reporting donations. In response to concerns from the external stakeholder regulation work group, and in particular nonprofit providers, this proposed rulemaking proposes to eliminate the reporting of an unrestricted donation that is not used for an allowable HCBS cost, a restricted donation used for a purpose other than an HCBS and for a noncash donation of $1,000 or less.

Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500—Licensing regulations

The Department proposes to amend Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500 to mirror proposed Chapter 6100 in the areas of training, rights, person-centered support planning, incident reporting, positive intervention and medication administration. This proposed rulemaking significantly reduces duplication and conflict across proposed

Chapter 6100 and the four chapters of licensing regulations. The proposal to reduce regulatory duplication by amending five chapters of regulations at the same time is precedent setting, requiring the cooperation and coordination of multiple Departmental program offices and functions. The Department supports the reduction of recordkeeping for providers, county programs and the Department. These reductions include: reduced compliance paperwork; reduced time spent on compliance monitoring by the designated managing entities and the Department; lessened compliance management functions required at the provider level; and the opportunity for reduced oversight, without reduced protections for the individuals.

Chapter 2380. Adult training facilities

Staff training. Chapter 2380 requires 24 hours of annual training for the chief executive officer (CEO), full-time program specialists and direct support staff persons in the areas of human services, fire safety, first aid, Heimlich and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. This proposed rulemaking requires 24 hours of training for full-time and part-time direct support staff, but only 12 hours of training for management and other nondirect support staff, including the CEO. This proposed rulemaking reduces the number of annual training hours from 24 hours to 12 hours for the CEO. The proposed training sections are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it administratively less complex to manage a comprehensive staff development program and easier to transfer staff persons from one program to another within a large, multifunction provider agency.

Rights. The proposed adult training facilities regulation includes a more robust section on individual rights based on more current lists of rights in other licensing regulations. The proposed sections on individual rights are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it easier to approach training on rights from a systemic perspective, manage regulatory compliance across a multiservice agency and assure the continuity of supports for the individual.

PSP. This proposed rulemaking simplifies the PSP process, addresses the Federal requirements and most importantly matches the PSP requirements across the entire support system for the individual. Without the proposed amendments, the multiple chapters of regulations could: 1) require two support plans with two sets of procedures and content areas; 2) cause confusion as to which plan applies; 3) result in the poor coordination of supports for the individual; or 4) create management oversight challenges for the provider.

Incident reporting. The requirements in Chapter 2380 to file a separate death report, create incident policies and maintain incident records for seizures, noninpatient hospitalization or emergency room visits are proposed to be deleted. Reporting timelines, however, remain unchanged. The types of incidents to be reported and the timelines for reporting are streamlined and in sync across the intellectual disability and autism programs. Further, the incident investigation procedure and reporting requirements codify current incident management practices.

Positive intervention. This proposed rulemaking creates a system-wide approach to behavior management to avoid the conflict of applying differing methods of behavior management across varied service locations, treats individuals with dignity and respect, and uses positive interventions as a means to affect behavior.

The broad definition of a "restrictive procedure," the requirement to create restrictive procedure policies and the design of a detailed and free-standing restrictive procedure plan are reduced. Certain types of restraints such as chemical restraints, mechanical restraints, exclusion and many manual restraints are proposed to be no longer permitted. This proposed rulemaking creates a seamless and uniform system of positive interventions, restraint prohibitions and emergency protective restraint procedures. This proposed rulemaking incorporates positive intervention planning into the PSP process as opposed to developing a separate behavior plan.

Medication administration. The section on medications clarifies the special training required for the administration of epinephrine for allergies, as well as for the administration of insulin injections.

Chapter 2390. Vocational facilities

Staff training. Chapter 2390 requires 24 hours of annual training for the CEO, the program specialist, the production manager and floor supervisors (direct support workers) in the areas of human services, vocational services, fire safety, first aid, Heimlich and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. This proposed rulemaking requires 24 hours of training for direct support staff including program specialist, the production manager and the floor supervisors, but only 12 hours of annual training for management and other nondirect support staff. This proposed rulemaking reduces the number of annual training hours from 24 hours to 12 hours for the CEO. The proposed sections on training are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it administratively less complex to manage a comprehensive staff development program and easier to transfer staff from one program to another within a large, multifunction provider agency.

Rights. Proposed amendments to the vocational facilities regulation include the addition of a more robust section on individual rights. The proposed sections on individual rights are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it easier to manage regulatory compliance across a multiservice agency and to assure continuity of supports for the individual.

PSP. This proposed rulemaking simplifies the PSP process, addresses the Federal requirements and most importantly matches the PSP requirement across the entire support system for the individual. Without the proposed amendments, the multiple chapters of regulations could: 1) require two support plans with two sets of procedures and content areas; 2) cause confusion as to which plan applies; 3) result in poor coordination of supports for the individual; or 4) create management oversight challenges for the provider.

Incident reporting. This proposed rulemaking clarifies the types of reportable incidents to coincide with the requirements in other licensing regulations, such as Chapters 2380 and 6400. Reporting timelines, however, remain unchanged. The types of incidents to be reported and the timelines for reporting are streamlined and in sync across the intellectual disability and autism programs. Further, the incident investigation procedures and reporting requirements codify current incident management practices.

Positive intervention. Neither positive intervention nor the prohibition of restraints are currently addressed in Chapter 2390. This proposed rulemaking creates a system-wide approach to behavior management that avoids conflict of applying differing methods of behavior management across varied service locations, treats individuals with dignity and respect, and uses positive interventions as a means to affect behavior. This proposed rulemaking aligns the positive intervention requirements uniformly across all intellectual disability and autism programs. This proposed rulemaking creates a seamless and uniform system of positive intervention, restraint prohibitions and emergency protective hold procedures.

Medications administration. A proposed section on medication administration is added to permit trained, nonmedically licensed staff persons to administer prescription medications, epinephrine injections for allergies and insulin injections.

Chapter 6400. Community homes for individuals with an intellectual disability or autism

Scope. This proposed rulemaking expands the scope of Chapter 6400 to include individuals with autism. This proposed rulemaking codifies existing practice whereby community homes that support individuals with autism are inspected and licensed under the same licensing regulations that govern homes serving individuals with intellectual disabilities.

Staff training. Chapter 6400 requires 24 hours of annual training for the CEO, full-time program specialists and direct support staff persons in the areas of human services, fire safety, first aid, Heimlich and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. This proposed rulemaking requires 24 hours of training for both full-time and part-time direct support staff, but only 12 hours of training for management and other nondirect support staff, including the CEO. This proposed rulemaking reduces the number of mandated training hours from 24 hours to 12 hours annually for the CEO. The proposed sections on training are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it administratively less complex to manage the staff development program and easier to transfer staff from one program to another within a large, multifunction provider agency.

Rights. Chapter 6400 addresses specific residential care rights such as privacy, communication, participation in planning and abuse protection. The proposed sections on individual rights are clarified and consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it easier to manage regulatory compliance across a multiservice agency and to assure continuity of supports for the individual.

PSP. This proposed rulemaking simplifies the PSP process, addresses the Federal requirements and most importantly matches the PSP requirement across the entire support system for the individual. Without the proposed amendments, the multiple chapters of regulations could: 1) require two support plans with two sets of procedures and content areas; 2) cause confusion as to which plan applies; 3) result in the poor coordination of supports for the individual; or 4) create management oversight challenges for the provider.

Incident reporting. The requirements in Chapter 6400 to file a separate death report, create incident policies and maintain incident records for seizures, noninpatient hospitalization or emergency room visits are proposed to be deleted. Reporting timelines, however, remain unchanged. The types of incidents to be reported and the timelines for reporting are streamlined and consistent across the intellectual disability and autism program. The incident investigation procedures and reporting requirements codify current incident management practices.

Positive intervention. This proposed rulemaking creates a system-wide approach to behavior management that avoids conflict of applying differing methods of behavior management across varied service locations, treats individuals with dignity and respect, and uses positive interventions as a means to affect behavior. The broad definition of a "restrictive procedure," the requirement to create written restrictive procedure policies and the design of a detailed and free-standing restrictive procedure plan are reduced. Certain types of restraints such as chemical restraints, mechanical restraints, exclusion and many manual restraints are proposed to be no longer permitted. This proposed rulemaking creates a seamless and uniform system of positive interventions, restraint prohibitions and emergency protective hold procedures. This proposed rulemaking incorporates positive intervention planning into the PSP process as opposed to developing a separate behavior plan.

Chapter 6500. Life sharing homes

Scope. This proposed rulemaking expands the scope of Chapter 6500 to include individuals with autism. This proposed rulemaking codifies existing practice whereby family living homes that support individuals with autism are inspected and licensed under the same licensing regulations that govern homes serving individuals with intellectual disabilities.

Terminology. “Family living” is proposed to be changed to “life sharing” to reflect the current terms used to describe the living arrangement.

Staff training. Chapter 6500 requires 24 hours of annual training for the primary caregiver and full-time life sharing specialists in the areas of human services, fire safety, first aid, Heimlich and cardiopulmonary resuscitation. This proposed rulemaking requires 24 hours of training for the primary caregiver and life sharing specialists, with 8 hours of those hours in the areas of person-centeredness, abuse prevention and reporting, incident reporting and positive interventions if the individual served has a dangerous behavior. Training in fire safety and first aid, Heimlich and cardiopulmonary resuscitation continue to be required as part of the 24 hours. The proposed sections on training are consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it administratively less complex to manage a comprehensive staff development program and easier to transfer staff from one program to another within a large, multifunction provider agency.

Rights. Chapter 6500 addresses civil rights, as well as specific residential care rights such as privacy, communication, participation in planning and abuse protection. The proposed sections on individual rights are clarified and consistent with proposed Chapter 6100, making it easier to manage regulatory compliance across a multiservice agency and to assure continuity of supports for the individual.

PSP. This proposed rulemaking simplifies the PSP process, addresses the Federal requirements and most importantly matches the PSP requirement across the entire support system for the individual. Without the proposed amendments, the multiple chapters of regulations could: 1) require two support plans with two sets of procedures and content areas; 2) cause confusion as to which plan applied under what circumstances; 3) result in the poor coordination of supports for the individual; or 4) create unmanageable management oversight challenges for the provider.

Incident reporting. The requirements in Chapter 6500 to file a separate death report and maintain incident records for seizures, noninpatient hospitalization or emergency room visits are proposed to be deleted. Reporting timelines, however, remain unchanged. The types of incidents to be reported and the timelines for reporting are streamlined and consistent across the intellectual disability service system. The incident investigation procedures and reporting requirements codify current incident management practices.

Positive intervention. This proposed rulemaking creates a system-wide approach to behavior management that avoids conflict of applying differing methods of dangerous behavior management across varied service locations, treats individuals with dignity and respect, and uses positive interventions as a means to affect behavior. The broad definition of a “restrictive procedure,” the requirement to create written restrictive procedure policies and the design of a detailed and free-standing restrictive procedure plan are proposed to be deleted. Certain types of restraints such as chemical restraints, mechanical restraints, exclusion and many manual restraints are proposed to be no longer permitted. This proposed rulemaking creates a seamless and uniform system of positive interventions, restraint prohibitions and emergency protective hold procedures. This proposed rulemaking incorporates positive intervention planning into the PSP process as opposed to developing a separate behavior plan.

Medications administration. The section on medications clarifies the special training required for the administration of epinephrine for allergies. Life sharing caregivers who administer medications would be required to take and pass the Department’s medication administration training course, as opposed to receiving training from the individual’s health care practitioner. The Department’s medication administration training course is well-developed and has been refined continually since its inception in 1982, making it effective, meaningful and accessible for life sharing caregivers.

Affected Individuals and Organizations

Proposed Chapter 6100 applies to a broad scope of programs receiving Commonwealth and Federal funds. This proposed rulemaking applies to approximately 944 HCBS and base-funded providers providing support to more than 50,000 individuals with an intellectual disability or autism.

The proposed amendments to Chapters 2380, 2390, 6400 and 6500 apply to approximately 4,900 community homes serving 15,000 individuals, 1,700 family living homes serving 2,200 individuals, 370 adult training facilities serving 13,900 individuals and 170 vocational facilities serving 11,400 individuals.

The Department supports and is committed to managing an active and open community participating process throughout the development of this proposed rulemaking. The public process included the following.

From February through August 2015, the Department held 9 days of external stakeholder regulation work group meetings with a diverse group of stakeholders. A total of 43 persons were selected to represent the broad range of interests, experiences and ideas including self-advocates, advocates, county programs, providers, universities and provider organizations. The purpose of the work group was for the Department to listen to the concerns and suggestions from interested parties and to cultivate constructive dialogue and promote an understanding of the views of others.

Each of the major sections of the draft rulemaking were reviewed and discussed by the work group on three occasions: first, a review of any requested changes to Chapter 51; second, a review and comment on the Department’s draft regulatory language; and third, a comprehensive review of each section of the draft rulemaking. Work group notes and a revised draft rulemaking were shared with the work group immediately following each meeting. The work group was encouraged to comment at the meetings and to submit written comments following each meeting. Many work group members shared the draft proposed rulemaking with other interested parties outside the work group. Nonwork group members were encouraged to attend the regulation meetings as observers and submit written comments. More than 80 written public comments were received and carefully reviewed and considered in drafting this proposed rulemaking. Numerous edits were made to the draft rulemaking from February through September 2015 in response to public comment.

The Department commends and greatly appreciates the expertise, time and attention contributed by the work group, as well as the productive and forward-thinking comments provided by the work group and others who contributed written comments.

In addition to the regulation work group meetings, 22 meetings with Statewide and regional advocacy, provider and county organizations, and representatives were held to discuss specific areas of this proposed rulemaking. These discussions focused on the constituent issues that are important to particular affected parties. The Department appreciates the constructive and helpful advice and suggestions provided during these meetings.

At the request of the work group, the Secretary of the Department of Human Services convened a fiscal sub-work group to review and consider the future payment system direction of the Commonwealth's HCBS program. In December 2015, the sub-work group presented its report to the Secretary of Human Services. While the formal recommendations of the sub-work group did not require regulatory amendments, several regulation edits were made in response to comments from the sub-work group.

The Department will reconvene the external stakeholder regulation work group following publication of this proposed rulemaking to review and consider edits to this proposed rulemaking based on the analysis of the formal public comments received.

Accomplishments and Benefits

This proposed rulemaking supports individuals with an intellectual disability or autism to achieve greater independence, choice and opportunity in their lives. This proposed rulemaking strengthens community supports by promoting equity, innovation, person-centered approaches and community participation.

Benefits for self-advocates, families and advocates include strengthened individual rights, assistance to locate and sustain employment, strict discharge conditions and procedures, minimum notice required for transition to a new provider, prohibition of restraints except for an emergency protective physical hold, a rights team to review potential rights violations, improved protections for individuals with autism and medication administration by trained, nonmedically licensed persons.

Benefits for providers include the reduced administrative burden by coordinating multiple chapters of Departmental regulations, the inclusion of autism programs in the core standards to alleviate the administrative burden of managing dual processes, the ability to submit innovation projects, a flexible staff training plan designed by the provider, the reduction in the conflict of interest requirements, clarification of the documentation required to support a claim, flexible payment options to support potential changes to the payment methodologies, more frequent updates of the market-based data for fee-based rates and the reduction of the donation reporting requirements.

Benefits for county intellectual disability programs include clarity of roles for the support coordinators and targeted support managers, deletion of conflicting PSP time frames between the Federal waivers and the multiple chapters of regulations, acknowledgement of county human rights committees and the regulation of services funded exclusively by grants to counties. These proposed amendments provide consistent program requirements on a Statewide basis to support the ease of county-to-county transitions, as well as transitions from services and supports funded through State-funds-only allocations to HCBS Federal funding.

Additional benefits include compliance with the Federal requirements to support continued Federal HCBS funding, the reduced volume of regulations with improved coordination efforts across multiple chapters of regulations providing an opportunity for streamlined compliance monitoring, consistent program requirements for the individuals across multiple funding sources, aligning intellectual disability and autism standards to the benefit of both programs and establishing a baseline of core values across multiple programs.

Fiscal Impact

The provider's regulatory compliance management and associated self-monitoring costs will be reduced. By simplifying and shortening the length of the regulations, and by coordinating the program and operational requirements across multiple chapters of licensing regulations as well as across multiple funding streams, the complexity of regulatory compliance management is significantly simplified. The cost impact for a provider will vary based on the pay scale and number of management positions devoted to regulatory compliance.

Some new costs may be associated with this proposed rulemaking regarding background checks and staff training since a wider net has been cast as to who shall submit a background check and receive training in areas such as rights, abuse and incidents. Under this proposed rulemaking, all persons who provide supports should submit a background check to identify any history of abuse, assault, theft or other crimes that may impact the well-being of an individual. This provision is supported by many self-advocates and advocates. In addition, it is critical that persons who provide reimbursed supports have the minimum training necessary to identify and know what to do if they observe abuse, an incident or a violation of rights. This includes a volunteer, a student and a consultant who provides supports and will be alone with an individual. This does not include the individual's friends or family who do not provide a reimbursed support.

The fee for the completion of a Pennsylvania State Police background check is $8. The fee for the completion of a child abuse history certification is $8. The cost for the completion of a background check and a child abuse history certification may be absorbed by the job applicant or by the employer. The overall cost impact relating to background checks and training will vary, as some providers already require background checks on all persons and some provide training for a broader scope than is currently required by regulation, thus negating or minimizing a cost impact.

The Department convened a fiscal sub-work group of the external stakeholder regulation work group to study alternatives to the current fee-based and cost-based payment systems. This sub-work group met for multiple months through 2015, and continues to meet to research and recommend long-term payment system initiatives and solutions. This proposed rulemaking provides an array of payment mechanisms including fee-based, cost-based, managed care and other rate-setting methodologies so that payment alternatives may be further examined. This full array of payment options is proposed to allow the Department, in consultation with stakeholders, to continue to research, design and implement payment mechanisms to address the evolving needs of individuals with intellectual disabilities and autism over the coming decade. The fiscal impact of a change to the Department's payment system cannot be estimated until new payment options are determined, an effective date is established and updated budget figures are available.

Paperwork Requirements

Increased paperwork will result from the expansion of the scope of the persons for which background checks and training is required.

Decreased paperwork for the provider will result in the reduction of the provider's regulatory compliance efforts as a result of the coordination of multiple chapters of regulations and the reduction in the number of regulations. An opportunity is provided for the Department and the county programs to better coordinate and reduce duplicative monitoring efforts between licensing and waiver compliance management; this monitoring reduction will reduce paperwork for the provider, the county program and the Department.

Decreased provider paperwork will result from the elimination of duplicate and conflicting incident reporting requirements for licensing and waiver compliance. Also eliminated is the provider paperwork required by licensing regulations to maintain a record of incidences that are not reportable, such as minor illnesses. While many providers will choose to retain this documentation as best practice, the Department will no longer review this documentation for regulatory compliance.

The PSP is simplified and the process is streamlined, thus reducing paperwork. One comprehensive and coordinated PSP is required across all programs and funding streams. This will reduce the paperwork for the provider, the county program and the Department.

Decreased provider paperwork will result from the reduction in the conflict of interest and the donation reporting requirements.

Effective Date

This proposed rulemaking will be effective upon final form publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. The Department, however, will consider establishing varied effective dates for certain regulations to coincide with a Commonwealth fiscal year.
