READER'S GUIDE TO THE PENNSYLVANIA BULLETIN AND THE PENNSYLVANIA CODE

Pennsylvania Bulletin

The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the official gazette of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is published weekly. A cumulative subject matter index is published quarterly.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin serves several purposes. It is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, which is the official codification of agency rules and regulations, Statewide court rules, and other statutorily authorized documents. Changes in the codified text, whether by adoption, amendment, rescission, repeal or emergency action, must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

The following documents are published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin: Governor's Executive Orders; Summaries of Enacted Statutes; Statewide and Local Court Rules; Attorney General Opinions; Motor Carrier Applications before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; Applications and Actions before the Department of Environmental Protection; Orders of the Independent Regulatory Review Commission; and other documents authorized by law.

The text of certain documents published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin is the only valid and enforceable text. Courts are required to take judicial notice of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

Adoption, Amendment or Repeal of Regulations

Generally an agency wishing to adopt, amend or rescind regulations must first publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a Proposed Rulemaking. There are limited instances when the agency may omit the proposal step; it still must publish the adopted version.

The Proposed Rulemaking contains the full text of the change, the agency contact person, a fiscal note required by law and background for the action.

The agency then allows sufficient time for public comment before taking final action. A Final Rulemaking must be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin before the changes can take effect. If the agency wishes to adopt changes to the Proposed Rulemaking to enlarge the scope, it must repropose.

Citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin

Cite material in the Pennsylvania Bulletin by volume number, a page number and date. Example: Volume 1, Pennsylvania Bulletin, page 801, January 9, 1971 (short form: 1 Pa.B. 801 (January 9, 1971)).

Pennsylvania Code

The Pennsylvania Code is the official codification of rules and regulations issued by Commonwealth agencies, Statewide court rules and other statutorily authorized documents. The Pennsylvania Bulletin is the temporary supplement to the Pennsylvania Code, printing changes when they are adopted. These changes are then permanently codified by the Pennsylvania Code Reporter, a monthly, loose-leaf supplement.

The Pennsylvania Code is cited by title number and section number. Example: Title 10 Pennsylvania Code § 1.1 (short form: 10 Pa. Code § 1.1).

Under the Pennsylvania Code codification system, each regulation is assigned a unique number by title and section. Titles roughly parallel the organization of Commonwealth government.

How to Find Rules and Regulations

Search for your area of interest in the Pennsylvania Code. The Pennsylvania Code is available at www.pacode.com.

Source Notes give the history of regulations. To see if there have been recent changes not yet codified, check the List of Pennsylvania Code Chapters Affected in the most recent issue of the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

A chronological table of the history of Pennsylvania Code sections may be found at www.legis.state.pa.us/cfdocs/legis/CH/Public/pcde_index.cfm.

A quarterly List of Pennsylvania Code Sections Affected lists the regulations in numerical order, followed by the citation to the Pennsylvania Bulletin in which the change occurred.

The Pennsylvania Bulletin is available at www.pabulletin.com.

Fiscal Notes

Section 612 of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P. S. § 232) requires the Governor's Budget Office to prepare a fiscal note for regulatory actions and administrative procedures of the administrative departments, boards, commissions and authorities receiving money from the State Treasury. The fiscal note states whether the action or procedure causes a loss of revenue or an increase in the cost of programs for the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions. The fiscal note is required to be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin at the same time as the change is advertised.

A fiscal note provides the following information: (1) the designation of the fund out of which the appropriation providing for expenditures under the action or procedure shall be made; (2) the probable cost for the fiscal year the program is implemented; (3) projected cost estimate of the program for each of the 5 succeeding fiscal years; (4) fiscal history of the program for which expenditures are to be made; (5) probable loss of revenue for the fiscal year of its implementation; (6) projected loss of revenue from the program for each of the 5 succeeding fiscal years; (7) line item, if any, of the General Appropriation Act or other appropriation act out of which expenditures or losses of Commonwealth funds shall occur as a result of the action or procedures; and (8) recommendation, if any, of the Secretary of the Budget and the reasons therefor.

The omission of an item indicates that the agency text of the fiscal note states that there is no information available with respect thereto. In items (3) and (6) information is set forth for the first through fifth fiscal years, following the year the program is implemented, which is stated. In item (4) information is set forth for the current and two immediately preceding years. In item (8) the recommendation, if any, made by the Secretary of the Budget is published with the fiscal note. "No fiscal impact" means no additional cost or revenue loss to the Commonwealth or its local political subdivision is intended. See 4 Pa. Code Chapter 7, Subchapter R (relating to fiscal notes).

Reproduction, Dissemination or Publication of Information

Third parties may not take information from the Pennsylvania Code and Pennsylvania Bulletin and reproduce, disseminate or publish information except as provided by 1 Pa. Code § 3.44:

§ 3.44. General permission to reproduce content of Code and Bulletin.

Information published under this part, which information includes, but is not limited to, cross references, tables of cases, notes of decisions, tables of contents, indexes, source notes, authority notes, numerical lists and codification guides, other than the actual text of rules or regulations may be reproduced only with the written consent of the [Legislative Reference] Bureau. The information which appears on the same leaf with the text of a rule or regulation, however, may be incidentally reproduced in connection with the reproduction of the rule or regulation, if the reproduction is for the private use of a subscriber and not for resale. There are no other restrictions on the reproduction of information published under this part, and the Commonwealth hereby consents to a reproduction.

Amendments to Rules of Organization and Procedure of the Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; Order No. 85

By this Order, the Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is amending its Rules of Organization and Procedure to modify Rule § 93.148 regarding administrative change in status from administrative suspension to inactive status.

The Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania finds that:

(1) To the extent that 42 Pa.C.S. § 1702 (relating to rule making procedures) and Article II of the act of July 31, 1968 (P.L. 769, No. 240), known as the Commonwealth Documents Law, would otherwise require notice of proposed rulemaking with respect to the amendments adopted hereby, those proposed rulemaking procedures are inapplicable because the amendments adopted hereby relate to agency procedure and are perfunctory in nature.

(2) The amendments to the Rules of Organization and Procedure of the Board adopted hereby are not inconsistent with the Pennsylvania Rules of Disciplinary Enforcement and are necessary and appropriate for the administration of the affairs of the Board.

The Board, acting pursuant to Pa.R.D.E. 205(c)(12), orders:

(1) Title 204 of the Pennsylvania Code is hereby amended as set forth in Annex A hereto.

(2) The Secretary of the Board shall duly certify this Order, and deposit the same with the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts as required by Pa.R.J.A. 103(c).

(3) The amendments adopted hereby shall take effect 30 days after publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin.

ANNUAL REGISTRATION OF ATTORNEYS

§ 93.148. Administrative change in status from administrative suspension to inactive status.

(a) Enforcement Rule 219(k) provides that an inactive attorney who has been administratively suspended for failure to file the annual form and pay the annual fee required by § 93.146(b)(2) of these rules, may request an administrative change in status form from the Attorney Registration Office. The form must be filed by mail or delivered in person to the Attorney Registration Office and said Office shall change the status of an attorney eligible for inactive status under this subsection (a) upon receipt of:

(1) the annual form required by § 93.142 of these rules;

(2) payment of the annual fee required by § 93.141 of these rules;

(3) payment of the annual fee that was due in the year in which the attorney was administratively suspended;

[(3)] (4) payment of all collection fees and late payment penalties assessed under § 93.142(b)(2) and § 93.144 of these rules; and

[(4)] (5) payment of an administrative processing fee of $100.00.

Where a check in payment of the fees and penalties has been returned to the Board unpaid, the Attorney Registration Office shall immediately return the attorney to administrative suspension, and the arrears shall not be deemed to have been paid until a collection fee, as established by the Board under § 93.142(b)(2), shall also have been paid.

(b) Enforcement Rule 219(k) provides that an active attorney who has been administratively suspended for failure to file the annual form required by § 93.142 and pay the annual fee required by § 93.141 must comply with § 93.145 (relating to reinstatement of administratively suspended attorneys) before becoming eligible to register as inactive or retired.

TITLE 231. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

PART I. GENERAL

CHAPTER 400. SERVICE OF ORIGINAL PROCESS

SERVICE PURSUANT TO SPECIAL ORDER OF COURT

Rule 430. Service Pursuant to [Special] Order of Court. [Publication.]

[(a) If service cannot be made under the applicable rule the plaintiff may move the court for a special order directing the method of service. The motion shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the investigation which has been made to determine the whereabouts of the defendant and the reasons why service cannot be made.

Official Note: A sheriff's return of "not found" or the fact that a defendant has moved without leaving a new forwarding address is insufficient evidence of concealment. Gonzales v. Polis, 357 A.2d 580 (Pa. Super. 1976). Notice of intended adoption mailed to last known address requires a "good faith effort" to discover the correct address. Adoption of Walker, 360 A.2d 603 (Pa. 1976). An illustration of a good faith effort to locate the defendant includes (1) inquiries of postal authorities including inquiries pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 39 C.F.R. Part 265, (2) inquiries of relatives, neighbors, friends, and employers of the defendant, (3) examinations of local telephone directories, courthouse records, voter registration records, local tax records, and motor vehicle records, and (4) a reasonable internet search.

See Rule 1064 for additional requirements for service of original process by publication for actions to quiet title involving subsurface mineral, oil, or natural gas rights.]

(a) If service cannot be made under any other rule, a party may file a motion with the court for an order permitting any methods of service which are reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant.

(1) The methods of service requested may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following:

(i) service via email or social media account;

Official Note: Any contact through email or social media account must comply with the Rules of Professional Conduct.

(ii) mailing the legal paper to an address known to be the defendant's address;

(iii) mailing the legal paper to an address the defendant is currently receiving mail;

Official Note: Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 39 C.F.R. § 265.2, postal authorities are required to state in writing whether a defendant is currently receiving mail at a particular address.

(iv) service by any other method which is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant; and

(v) if service cannot be accomplished by any of the above listed methods, service by publication consistent with due process.

(2) Upon request of a party, the court may allow any competent adult to make service in the manner provided by Rule 402(a).

(3)(i) The motion requesting service pursuant to subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(iv) shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the investigation that has been made to determine the whereabouts of the defendant, the reasons why service pursuant to any other rule cannot be made, and the reasons why the method of service requested is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant.

(ii) The motion requesting service by publication pursuant to subdivision (a)(1)(v) shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the investigation that has been made to determine the whereabouts of the defendant, and the reasons why service pursuant to subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(iv) cannot be made.

Official Note: See Rule 1064 for additional requirements for service of original process pursuant to this rule for actions to quiet title involving subsurface mineral, oil, or natural gas rights.

[(b)(1)] (b) If service of process by publication has been authorized by rule of civil procedure or order of court, the publication shall be by advertising a notice of the action once in the legal publication, if any, designated by the court for the publication of legal notices and in one newspaper of general circulation within the county. The publication shall contain the caption of the action and the names of the parties, state the nature of the action, and conclude with a notice substantially in the following form:

This rule applies to all complaints including those where service is [by publication] pursuant to Rule 430. [For the mandatory content of the publication in such cases see Rule 430(b).] When a defendant is served outside the United States, Rule 1026(b) provides a sixty-day period for pleading.

(c) Each court shall by local rule designate the officer, organization, agency or person to be named in the notice from whom information can be obtained.

(d) A court may by local rule require the notice to be repeated in one or more designated languages other than English.

Subchapter D. ACTION TO QUIET TITLE

Rule 1064. Service.

In actions involving subsurface mineral, oil, or natural gas rights, if the plaintiff seeks to serve original process [by publication] pursuant to Rule 430 and obtains actual knowledge of a last known address of the defendant outside the county in which the property is located, the plaintiff shall explain in the affidavit required by Rule [430(a)] 430 the search for the defendant in that locale.

Official Note: For service of original process, see Rule 410 governing service in actions involving real property. See Rule 430 for additional requirements for service of original process [by publication].

EXPLANATORY COMMENT

The amendment of Rule 430 governing service pursuant to order of court, including service by publication, is intended to clarify procedure and modernize such service. The amended rule sets forth the standard by which a court may evaluate whether a method of service may be used and encourages the use of various methods. While the current rule implicitly permits service by any method so ordered by the court, not just publication, the amendment explicitly provides the methods and the procedure to follow.

Subdivision (a) of the amended rule provides that when a motion requesting service by court order, the court may permit any method that is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant. See Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306 (1950) (holding that an alternative method of service should provide “notice that is reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and afford them an opportunity to present their objections”). Mullane continues to be controlling law. See Jones v. Flowers, 547 U.S. 220 (2006).

A party who seeks service pursuant to this procedure is required to file a motion with the court requesting the method or methods of service that are reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant. Subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(v) lists the methods of service that may be used. Recognizing the usefulness of electronic media, the methods available for service include email and social media accounts. Subdivision (a) also permits service by more traditional method: mailing a legal paper to an address known to be the defendant's address or to an address where the defendant is currently receiving mail.

Subdivision (a)(3)(i) requires a motion requesting a method of service pursuant to subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(iv) to be accompanied by an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the investigation that has been made to determine the whereabouts of the defendant, the reasons why service pursuant to any other rule cannot be made, and the reasons why the method of service requested is reasonably calculated to provide actual notice to the defendant. When leave is sought to serve by email or social media account, the moving party must set forth with specificity in the affidavit the reasons the moving party believes the email or social media account belongs to the defendant, and the basis for concluding that the defendant regularly accesses the email or social media account. When service by this method is approved, unless the court provides otherwise, service of the summons or complaint must be made on the defendant through email or by sending or posting on the social media account a private message designed to minimize public access or disclosure of the filing of the action against the defendant.

Service by publication remains as a method of service in the rule. If service cannot be accomplished by any of the methods in subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(iv), subdivision (a)(1)(v) permits the court to order service by publication to the extent that such service is consistent with due process. Subdivision (a)(3)(ii) requires a motion requesting service by publication to include an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the investigation that has been made to determine the whereabouts of the defendant, and the reasons why service cannot be made pursuant to subdivision (a)(1)(i)—(iv).

Subdivision (a)(2) permits service by a competent adult provided there is court approval to do so.

Current subdivision (b)(2) has been deleted. The subdivision, which provided for a court to permit service by publication against the heirs or assigns generally if set forth in the complaint or affidavit they are unknown, has been removed in light of the holding in Northern Forests, II v. Keta Realty Co., 130 A.3d 19 (Pa. Super. 2016), petition for allowance of appeal denied, 158 A.3d 1237 (Pa. 2016).

Conforming amendments have also been made to Rule 1018.1 governing the notice to defend and Rule 1064 governing additional requirements for service of actions to quiet title in subsurface mineral, oil, and gas rights. These amendments delete the reference to "service by publication" and instead refer to "service pursuant to Rule 430".

TITLE 231. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

PART I. GENERAL

CHAPTER 400. SERVICE OF ORIGINAL PROCESS

SERVICE GENERALLY

Rule 401. Time for Service. Reissuance, Reinstatement, and Substitution of Original Process. [Copies for Service.]

(a) Original process shall be served within the Commonwealth within [thirty] 30 days after the issuance of the writ or the filing of the complaint.

Official Note: See Rule 404 for the time for service outside the Commonwealth.

(b)(1) If service within the Commonwealth is not made within the time prescribed by subdivision (a) of this rule or outside the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by Rule 404, the prothonotary upon praecipe and upon presentation of the original process, shall continue its validity by reissuing the writ or reinstating the complaint, by writing thereon “reissued” in the case of a writ or “reinstated” in the case of a complaint.

(2) A writ may be reissued or a complaint reinstated at any time and any number of times. A new party defendant may be named in a reissued writ or a reinstated complaint.

(3) A substituted writ may be issued or a substituted complaint filed upon praecipe stating that the former writ or complaint has been lost or destroyed.

(4) A reissued, reinstated, or substituted writ or complaint shall be served within the applicable time prescribed by subdivision (a) of this rule or by Rule 404 after reissuance, reinstatement, or substitution.

(5) If an action is commenced by writ of summons and a complaint is thereafter filed, the plaintiff, instead of reissuing the writ, may treat the complaint as alternative original process and as the equivalent for all purposes of a reissued writ, reissued as of the date of the filing of the complaint. Thereafter the writ may be reissued, or the complaint may be reinstated as the equivalent of a reissuance of the writ, and the plaintiff may use either the reissued writ or the reinstated complaint as alternative original process.

Official Note: If the applicable time has passed after the issuance of the writ or the filing of the complaint, the writ must be reissued or the complaint reinstated to be effective as process. Filing or reinstatement or substitution of a complaint which is used as alternative process under this subdivision, has been held effective in tolling the statute of limitations as the reissuance or substitution of a writ.

[(c) The copy of the original process to be served upon the defendant shall be attested by the prothonotary or certified by the plaintiff to be a true copy.]

CHAPTER 1000. ACTIONS

VENUE AND PROCESS

Rule 1008. Copies for Service.

Rescinded.

[Official Note: For the requirement of attested or certified copies for service, see Rule 401(c).]

EXPLANATORY COMMENT

The Civil Procedural Rules Committee is proposing the rescission of Rule 401(c), which provides for the prothonotary to attest or for the plaintiff to certify that a copy of the complaint to be served on the defendant is a true copy. Originally adopted in 1946 as part of former Rule 1008, the attestation or certification provided a mechanism to ensure that the original and any copy to be served had been authenticated as a true copy in a time when reproduction of documents was more labor-intensive and prone to error. Today, the requirement is anachronistic given modern methods of document reproduction that easily permit exact copies. The note to rescinded Rule 1008 cross-referencing Rule 401(c) has also been deleted.

TITLE 231. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

PART I. GENERAL

CHAPTER 1910. ACTIONS FOR SUPPORT

Rule 1910.4. [Commencement of Action. Fee.] Domestic Relations Section. Commencement of Action. No Filing Fees. Authorized Fees.

[(a) An action shall be commenced by filing a complaint with the domestic relations section of the court of common pleas.

Official Note: For the form of the complaint, see Rule 1910.27(a).

See Pa.R.C.P. No. 1930.1(b). To the extent this rule applies to actions not governed by other legal authority regarding confidentiality of information and documents in support actions or that attorneys or unrepresented parties file support-related confidential information and documents in non-support actions (e.g., divorce, custody), the Case Records Public Access Policy of the Unified Judicial System of Pennsylvania shall apply.

Section 961 of the Judicial Code, 42 Pa.C.S. § 961, provides that each court of common pleas shall have a domestic relations section.

(b) No filing fee shall be required in advance.

Explanatory Comment—1994

The rule continues the practice under repealed Section 6704(a) of the Judicial Code in providing that the action shall be commenced by the filing of a complaint. The complaint will be filed with the domestic relations section of the court of common pleas. Section 961 of the Judicial Code provides for each court of common pleas to have a domestic relations section.

Subdivision (b) continues the prior practice under the repealed Act of July 13, 1953, P.L. 431, § 14, 62 P.S. § 2043.44, which provided: “No fee shall be required to be paid in advance.”]

(a) Each court of common pleas shall have a domestic relations section that shall be the filing office for pleadings and documents for child support, spousal support, and alimony pendente lite actions.

(b) A party shall commence actions for child support and spousal support by filing a complaint in the domestic relations section. A party shall commence an action for alimony pendente lite by filing a complaint in the domestic relations section if a divorce complaint has been filed with the prothonotary.

Official Note: See Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.27(a) for the form of the complaint.

See Pa.R.C.P. No. 1930.1(b). To the extent this rule applies to actions not governed by other legal authority regarding confidentiality of information and documents in support actions or that attorneys or unrepresented parties file support-related confidential information and documents in non-support actions (e.g., divorce, custody), the Case Records Public Access Policy of the Unified Judicial System of Pennsylvania shall apply.

See the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services Child Support Program for e-services, including filing for support or requesting a modification of an existing support order at <https://www.human.services.state.pa.us/cs/ws/>.

See Pa.R.C.P. No. 1920.31(a)(2) regarding the filing of alimony pendente lite actions in the domestic relations section.

(c) The domestic relations section shall not require payment of a filing fee to commence or modify an action.

(d) Unless authorized by statute, a judicial district shall not impose additional fees in actions for child support, spousal support, and alimony pendente lite. The domestic relations section shall collect fees through the Pennsylvania Child Support Enforcement System (PACSES).

Official Note: The statutorily authorized fees in actions for child support, spousal support, and alimony pendente lite include the genetic testing fee, the federally mandated annual fee, and fees associated with statewide court operations referenced in 204 Pa. Code § 29.351.

Rule 1910.16. Support Order. Allocation.

(a) In an order awarding child support and spousal support or child support and alimony *pendente lite, the court may on its own motion or upon the motion of either party:

(1) Make an unallocated award in favor of the spouse and one or more children[,]; or

(2) State the amount of support allocable to the spouse and the amount allocable to each child.

Official Note: See 23 Pa.C.S. § 4348(d) for additional matters [which] that must be specified in an order of support if arrearages exist when the order is entered.

(b) [An unallocated order in favor of the spouse and one or more children shall be a final order as to all claims covered in the order. No motion for post-trial relief may be filed to the final order.] An unallocated order for child support and spousal support or child support and alimony pendente lite shall be a final order as to all claims covered in the order. Motions for post-trial relief may not be filed to the final order.

Official Note: The procedure relating to Motions for Reconsideration is set forth in [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1930.2.

Explanatory Comment—2018

Subdivision (b) resolves the question of the appealability of an unallocated order and any other claims adjudicated in that order. The rule declares the orders are final and appealable. Not only is the unallocated support order final and appealable, so are the other claims covered in the order, irrespective of whether those would be final and appealable had the claims not been a part of the order awarding unallocated support.

Rule 1910.16-4. Support Guidelines. Calculation of Support Obligation, Formula.

(f) Allocation. Consequences.

(1) An order awarding [both spousal and] child support and spousal support or child support and alimony *pendente lite may be unallocated or may state the amount of support allocable to the spouse and the amount allocable to each child. [Each] The order shall clearly state whether it is allocated or unallocated even if the amounts calculated for child [and spousal support are delineated on the order] support and spousal support or child support and alimony pendente lite are delineated in the order. However, Part IV of the formula provided by these rules assumes that an order will be unallocated. Therefore, if the order is [to be] allocated, the formula set forth in this rule shall be utilized to determine the amount of support allocable to the spouse. If the allocation of an order utilizing the formula would be inequitable, the court shall make an appropriate adjustment. Also, if an order is [to be] allocated, an adjustment shall be made to the award giving consideration to the federal income tax consequences of an allocated order as may be appropriate under the circumstances. [No consideration of federal income tax consequences shall be applied if the order is unallocated or the order for the spousal support or alimony pendente lite only.] The federal income tax consequences shall not be considered if the order is unallocated or the order is for spousal support or alimony pendente lite only.

Official Note: The 2005 amendment supersedes Diamant v. Diamant, 816 A.2d 256 (Pa. Super. [Ct.] 2003), to the extent that it held that the tax savings from payments for the benefit of a spouse alone or from an unallocated order for the benefit of a spouse and child must be considered in determining the obligor's available net income for support purposes. [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-4(f)(1) states that the guidelines formula assumes that the order will be unallocated. The tax consequences of an order for a spouse alone or an unallocated order for the benefit of a spouse and child have already been built into the formula.

(2) When the parties are in higher income brackets, the income tax considerations are likely to be a more significant factor in determining an award of support. A support award for a spouse and children is taxable to the obligee while an award for the children only is not. Consequently, in certain situations, an award only for the children will be more favorable to the obligee than an award to the spouse and children. In this situation, the trier of fact should utilize the [guidelines which result] method that results in the greatest benefit to the obligee.

[When] If the obligee's net income is equal to or greater than the obligor's net income, the guideline amount for spouse and children is identical to the guideline amount for children only. Therefore, in cases involving support for spouse and children, whenever the obligee's net income is equal to or greater than the obligor's net income, the guideline amount indicated shall be attributed to child support only.

(3) Unallocated charging orders for child support and spousal support[,] or child support and alimony pendente lite[,] shall terminate upon the death of the [payee spouse or payee ex-spouse] obligee.

(4) In the event that the obligor defaults on an unallocated order, the court shall allocate the order for collection of child support pursuant to the Internal Revenue Service income tax refund intercept program or for registration and enforcement of the order in another jurisdiction under the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act, 23 [Pa.C.S.A. §] Pa.C.S. §§ 7101 et seq. The court shall provide notice of allocation to the parties.

Official Note: This provision is necessary to comply with various state and federal laws relating to the enforcement of child support. It is not intended to affect the tax consequences of an unallocated order.

[Explanatory Comment—2005

Rule 1910.16-4(a) sets forth the income shares formula used to establish the support obligation. Subdivision (b) provides the method for calculating support for seven or more children as the basic support schedule in Rule 1910.16-3 sets forth the presumptive amount of support for only up to six children.

Subdivision (c) sets forth the method for calculating the presumptive amount of support in cases where the children spend 40% or more of their time during the year with the obligor. When there is equal time sharing, subsection (2) reduces the support obligation further so that the obligor does not pay more than is necessary to equalize the parties' combined income between the two households. Subsection (3) expressly excludes SSR cases from application of this rule. Since the SSR already reduces support to a minimal level, no further reduction should be given for the amount of time spent with the children.

Subdivision (d) relates to the calculation of support in divided or split custody cases. It retains the existing method for offsetting the parties' respective support obligations when one or more of the children resides with each party.

Subdivision (e) governs spousal support obligations when the custodial parent owes spousal support. It has not been amended, other than to update the example to be consistent with the new schedule at Rule 1910.16-3.

In subdivision (f), the guidelines continue to presume that the order will be unallocated for tax purposes. However, new language has been added to subsection (f)(1), and a new Note has been inserted, to clarify that an obligor's tax savings from payment of a spousal support order or an unallocated order for a spouse and child should not be considered in calculating the obligor's available net income for support purposes. Subsection (3) is intended to insure alimony tax treatment of unallocated orders pursuant to § 71 of the Internal Revenue Code. Rule 1910.19(d) provides that all spousal support and alimony pendente lite orders terminate upon the death of the payee. Termination of a charging order does not affect arrears existing at that time. Subsection (4) provides for administrative allocation of the order in two instances: 1) when the obligor defaults on the order and it becomes necessary to collect support by intercepting any income tax refunds that may be due and payable to obligor; and 2) when the obligor defaults and the order must be registered in another state under the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act (UIFSA). As the Note indicates, this administrative allocation is not intended to affect the tax consequences of the unallocated order.

Explanatory Comment—2010

The basic support schedule incorporates an assumption that the children spend 30% of the time with the obligor and that the obligor makes direct expenditures on their behalf during that time. Variable expenditures, such as food and entertainment, that fluctuate based upon parenting time, were adjusted in the schedule to build in the assumption of 30% parenting time. Upward deviation should be considered in cases in which the obligor has little or no contact with the children. However, upward deviation may not be appropriate where an obligor has infrequent overnight contact with the child, but provides meals and entertainment during daytime contact. Fluctuating expenditures should be considered rather than the extent of overnight time. Downward deviation may be appropriate when the obligor incurs substantial fluctuating expenditures during parenting time, but has infrequent overnights with the children.

The calculation in Rule 1910.16-4(c) reduces an obligor's support obligation further if the obligor spends significantly more time with the children. The obligor will receive an additional 10% reduction in the amount of support owed at 40% parenting time, increasing incrementally to a 20% reduction at 50% parenting time. This method still may result in a support obligation even if custody of the children is equally shared. In those cases, the rule provides for a maximum obligation which may reduce the obligation so that the obligee does not receive a larger portion of the parties' combined income than the obligor.]

Explanatory Comment—2018

The allocation of a support order is of great significance to the parties. The issue of allocation may arise in a support action if child support and spousal support or child support and alimony pendente lite are sought. The decision to allocate a support order will determine the party that pays the federal income tax, which affects the actual money available to the beneficiary of the order.

Allocation of a support order may not be appropriate in all cases. Rather, the decision to allocate must be based upon the facts of the particular case. Subdivision (f) makes clear that the court has the authority to allocate the order and that the decision rests in the discretion of the court. The court or the parties may raise the question of allocation.

Rule 1910.17. Support Order. Effective Date. Change of Circumstances. Copies of Order. Priority of Distribution of Payments.

Explanatory Comment—2010

Subdivision (d) has been moved from [Rule] Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.16-7 and expanded for clarification. It addresses the priority of the distribution of payments and collections in all cases, not just those involving multiple families. However, collections realized through the interception of federal tax returns by the Internal Revenue Service are subject to federal distribution priorities. See 45 CFR § 303.72(h). An unallocated order for child support and spousal support or child support and alimony pendente lite has the same priority as a child support order.

(c) The averments in the counterclaim shall be deemed denied unless admitted by an answer.

(a)(1) If a party has raised a claim for alimony, counsel fees, or costs and expenses, the parties shall file a true copy of the most recent federal income tax return, pay stubs for the preceding six months, a completed Income Statement in the form required by Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.27(c)(1), and a completed Expense Statement in the form required by Pa.R.C.P. No. 1910.27(c)(2)(B). (b)(1) Orders [of child support, spousal support, alimony or alimony pendente lite] for alimony may be enforced as provided by the rules governing actions for support and divorce, and in the Divorce Code.

The failure to claim child support before the entry of a final decree of divorce or annulment shall not bar a separate and subsequent action [therefor].

(d) Upon entry of a decree in divorce, [any] an existing order for spousal support shall be deemed an order for alimony pendente lite if any economic claims remain pending.

Explanatory Comment—2018

As amended, Pa.R.C.P. No. 1920.31 precludes parties from raising claims for child support, spousal support, and alimony pendente lite as counts in a divorce action. Instead, parties shall file those claims in the domestic relations section as a separate action from the divorce. The amendment of this rule is not intended to affect the legal distinction between spousal support and alimony pendente lite.

[(a) In an order awarding child support combined with spousal support, alimony pendente lite or both, the court may on its own motion or upon the motion of either party

(1) make an unallocated award in favor of the spouse and one or more children, or

(2) state the amount of support allocable to the spouse and the amount allocable to each child.

(b) An unallocated order in favor of the spouse and one or more children shall be a final order as to all claims covered in the order.

Explanatory Comment—1989

The allocation of a support order is of great significance to the parties and the court. It has impact upon two substantive areas, federal income taxation and subsequent modification of an order.

With respect to taxation, the decision to allocate a support order will determine which party pays the federal income tax and thus the actual amount of money available to the beneficiary of the order. With regard to subsequent modification of an order, allocation will enable the court to determine whether modification is warranted since the amount of support each beneficiary is receiving is known.

The issue of allocation arises in a support action where both child and spousal support are sought. It also surfaces in actions for divorce in which child support is sought together with spousal support, alimony pendente lite or both. Two rules are proposed to govern these situations, one for support actions (amended Rule 1910.16) and one for divorce actions (new Rule 1920.56).

Allocation of a support order may not be appropriate in all cases. Rather, the decision whether to allocate must be based upon the facts of the particular case. Subdivision (a) of each rule makes clear that the court has the power to determine whether or not to allocate and that the decision rests in the discretion of the court. The question of allocation may be raised by the court on its own motion or by the parties.

Subdivision (b) of each rule settles the question of the appealability of an unallocated order and any other claims adjudicated in that order. The rule declares such orders to be final and therefore appealable. Not only is the unallocated support order final and appealable, so also are any other claims covered in the same order irrespective of whether they would be final and appealable had they not been a part of the order awarding unallocated support.]

Rule 1920.74. Form of Motion for Appointment of Master. Order.

(a) The motion for appointment of a master shall be substantially in the following form:

(Caption)

MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF MASTER

_____ (Plaintiff) (Defendant), moves the court to appoint a master with respect to the following claims:

() Divorce

() Annulment

() Alimony

[() Alimony Pendente Lite]

and in support of the motion states:

(1) Discovery is (is not) complete as to the claim(s) for which the appointment of a master is requested.

(2) The non-moving party (has) (has not) appeared in the action (personally) (by his or her attorney, _____, Esquire).

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Title 25—ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY BOARD [25 PA. CODE CH. 109]

Safe Drinking Water; General Update and Fees

The Environmental Quality Board (Board) amends Chapter 109 (relating to safe drinking water) to read as set forth in Annex A. This final-form rulemaking has three parts:

- Incorporate the remaining general update provisions that were separated from the proposed Revised Total Coliform Rule (RTCR) as directed by the Board on April 21, 2015, including revisions to treatment technique requirements for pathogens, clarifications to permitting requirements, and new requirements for alarms, shutdown capabilities and system service.

- Amend existing permit fees and add new annual fees to supplement Commonwealth costs and fill the funding gap ($7.5 million).

- Establish the regulatory basis for issuing general permits, clarify that noncommunity water systems (NCWS) require a permit or approval from the Department of Environmental Protection (Department) prior to construction and operation, and address concerns regarding gaps in the monitoring, reporting and tracking of back-up sources of supply.

Collectively, this final-form rulemaking will provide for the increased protection of public health by every public water system (PWS) in this Commonwealth, and ensure that the Department has adequate funding to enforce the applicable drinking water laws, meet State and Federal minimum program elements, and retain primacy (primary enforcement authority).

Safe drinking water is vital to maintaining healthy and sustainable communities. Proactively avoiding incidents such as waterborne disease outbreaks can prevent loss of life, reduce the incidents of illness and reduce health care costs. Proper investment in PWS infrastructure and operations helps ensure a continuous supply of safe drinking water, enables communities to plan and build future capacity for economic growth, and ensures their long-term sustainability.

One or more of these amendments will apply to all 8,521 PWSs in this Commonwealth.

This final-form rulemaking was adopted by the Board at its meeting of April 17, 2018.

A. Effective Date

This final-form rulemaking is effective upon publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. Based on advisory committee and public comments, this final-form rulemaking includes the following deferred implementation dates:

- The amended turbidity treatment technique requirements for membrane filtration are required 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking to allow additional time to achieve compliance.

- The amended turbidity monitoring requirements are required 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking.

- The amended monitoring requirements for reserve sources and entry points are required 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking.

- The new comprehensive monitoring plan requirements are required 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking.

- The new alarm and shutdown capability requirements are required 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking unless an alternate compliance schedule is approved in writing by the Department.

- The new system service requirements are required from 1 to 3 years after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking, based on system population.

- The new annual fees are required beginning January 1, 2019, to allow additional time for PWSs, boards and authorities to include the new fees in their 2019 budgets. Budgets for 2018 are already completed.

C. Statutory Authority

This final-form rulemaking is being made under the authority of section 4(a) of the Pennsylvania Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA) (35 P.S. § 721.4(a)), which authorizes the Board “. . .to adopt such rules and regulations of the department, governing the provision of drinking water to the public, as it deems necessary for the implementation of the provisions of [the SDWA].” With respect to the fees in §§ 109.1401—109.1409, section 4(c) of the SDWA authorizes and directs the Board to “establish fees for permit applications, laboratory certification and other services.” This final-form rulemaking is also being made under the authority of section 1920-A(b) of The Administrative Code of 1929 (71 P.S. § 510-20(b)), which authorizes the Board to promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the performance of the work of the Department.

D. Background and Purpose

The General Assembly found in section 2 of the SDWA (35 P.S. § 721.2) that it is “in the public interest for the Commonwealth to assume primary enforcement responsibility under the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.” When the SDWA was passed, the purpose was to create a drinking water program to allow the Commonwealth to obtain legal primacy over the Federal program in this Commonwealth.

The Department is the agency that was delegated authority to implement the Safe Drinking Water Program (Program), including the Program elements necessary for the Commonwealth to assume and maintain primary (in other words, lead) administration and enforcement authority under the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act (42 U.S.C.A. §§ 300f—300j-27). See section 5(a) of the SDWA (35 P.S. § 721.5(a)). The Department, through the Bureau of Safe Drinking Water, provides services to over 8,500

PWSs serving 11.3 million citizens to ensure compliance with the SDWA and the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act. The Board adopted this final-form rulemaking to ensure the continued implementation of critical Program activities under applicable Federal and State law requirements.

Part I. General update provisions

This final-form rulemaking incorporates the remaining general update provisions that the Board previously determined should be proposed in a separate rulemaking. These general updates:

- Clarify the source water assessment, source water protection area and source water protection program elements and requirements.
- Amend the treatment technique requirements for pathogenic bacteria, viruses and protozoan cysts by adding specific turbidity performance requirements for membrane filtration.
- Amend the disinfection profiling and benchmarking requirements to clarify that all PWSs using filtered surface water or groundwater under the direct influence of surface water (GUDI) shall consult with the Department prior to making significant changes to disinfection practices to ensure adequate Giardia inactivation is maintained.
- Amend and clarify the monitoring, calibration, recording and reporting requirements for the measurement of turbidity.
- Amend the permit requirements to clarify the components that must be included in a permit application for a new source, including a source water assessment, a pre-drilling plan, an evaluation of water quantity and quality, and a hydrogeologic report.
- Amend the design and construction standards to require PWSs using surface water or GUDI sources to be equipped with alarm and shutdown capabilities. These provisions are required for a plant that is not staffed continuously while the plant is in operation.
- Clarify that treatment technologies shall be certified for efficacy through an approved third party.
- Update the system management requirements for community water systems (CWS) to strengthen system service and resiliency by requiring completion of an uninterrupted system service plan (USSP) which focuses on utilizing auxiliary power or a combination of alternate provisions such as finished water storage and interconnections.
- Clarify system management responsibilities relating to source water assessments and sanitary surveys.
- Amend the corrective action time frames in response to a significant deficiency for PWSs using groundwater and surface water sources to be consistent.
- Delete the provision that allows a PWS to avoid the requirement for a corrective action by collecting five additional source water samples after an E. coli-positive triggered source water sample.

Amendments to source water assessment and protection programs

The source water assessment and protection amendments will not only protect public health, but should also help to maintain, reduce or avoid drinking water treatment costs. Source water protection represents the first barrier to drinking water contamination. A vulnerable drinking water source puts a water utility and the community it serves at risk and at a disadvantage in planning and building future capacity for economic growth. Contamination of a CWS source is costly for the water supplier and the public. For example, it is estimated that the total cost of the May 2000 Walkerton, Ontario, E. coli contamination incident was $64.5 million. Livernois, J. (2001), "The Economic Costs of the Walkerton Water Crisis." In addition to increased monitoring and treatment costs for the water system, a contaminated source may result in costs associated with containment or remediation, legal proceedings, adverse public health and environmental effects, reduced consumer confidence, diminished property values and costs to replace the contaminated source.

A case study in Texas showed that water suppliers in source water areas with chemical contaminants paid $25 more per million gallons to treat drinking water than suppliers in areas without chemical contaminant detections. Dearmont, D., McCarl, B.A. and Tolman, D.A. (1998), "Costs of Water Treatment Due to Diminished Water Quality: A Case Study in Texas," Water Resources Research, 34(4), 849–853. A study by The Trust for Public Land showed that for every 4% increase in source water turbidity (an indicator of water quality degradation from sediment, algae and microbial pathogens), treatment costs increase by 1%. The Trust for Public Land (2002), "The Cost of Not Protecting Source Waters." A study by the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee stated that "reducing pollution inputs from pipes and land-based sources can reduce locality costs to treat drinking water sources to safe standards." Legislative Budget and Finance Committee (2013), "A Cost Effective Alternative Approach to Meeting Pennsylvania's Chesapeake Bay Nutrient Reduction Targets." According to the Legislative Budget and Finance Committee study, a study by the Brookings Institute suggested that a 1% decrease in sediment loading will lead to a 0.05% reduction in water treatment costs. Source water assessments can support and enhance emergency response, improve land use planning and municipal decisions, complement sustainable infrastructure initiatives, and help prioritize and coordinate actions by Federal and Commonwealth agencies to better protect public health and safety.

Amendments to surface water treatment requirements

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) describes turbidity as "a measure of the cloudiness of water. It is used to indicate water quality and filtration effectiveness (such as whether disease-causing organisms are present). Higher turbidity levels are often associated with higher levels of disease-causing microorganisms such as viruses, parasites and some bacteria. These organisms can cause symptoms such as nausea, cramps, diarrhea, and associated headaches." National Primary Drinking Water Regulations, EPA 816-F-09-004 (May 2009). This final-form rulemaking will ensure that PWSs consistently produce water that meets turbidity standards to help ensure the delivery of safe and potable water to all users.

The proposed rulemaking was intended to reduce the public health risks related to waterborne pathogens and waterborne disease outbreaks. Costs related to waterborne disease outbreaks are extremely high. For example, the total medical costs and productivity losses associated with the 1993 waterborne outbreak of cryptosporidiosis in Milwaukee, WI, was $96.2 million—$31.7 million in medical costs and $64.6 million in productivity losses. The average total cost per person with mild, moderate and severe illness was $116, $475 and $7,808. Corso, P.S., et al. (2003), "Cost of Illness in the 1993 Waterborne Cryptosporidium Outbreak, Milwaukee, Wisconsin,” Emerging Infectious Diseases, 9(4), 426—431.

When problems such as rapid changes in source water quality, treatment upsets requiring a filter backwash or other unforeseen circumstances occur at filter plants, an immediate response from water plant operators is needed. This final-form rulemaking is intended to ensure that operators are promptly alerted to major treatment problems or, if an operator is unable to respond, that the plant will automatically shut down when producing inadequately treated water. Therefore, this final-form rulemaking will prevent situations that pose an imminent threat to consumers, reduce PWS costs related to corrective actions and issuing public notice, reduce costs to the community and maintain consumer confidence.

While the Department favors establishing more stringent individual filter effluent (IFE) and combined filter effluent (CFE) turbidity compliance and trigger levels of 0.30 Nephelometric Turbidity Units (NTU) and 1.0 NTU for surface water filtration plants, in response to numerous comments from the Small Water Systems Technical Assistance Center Advisory Board (TAC) and public commentators, the Department is deferring these amendments until the EPA completes its 6-year review of the Federal turbidity requirements established under the Surface Water Treatment Rules. This will allow the Department to consider the EPA’s proposed changes before moving forward with proposed amendments to applicable State regulatory requirements. Until that time, the Department encourages filter plant operators to voluntarily meet optimal water quality levels and respond to trends of increasing turbidity as quickly as possible. This can be accomplished through the use of the Department’s existing programs, including the Area-Wide Optimization and Filter Plant Performance Evaluation (FPPE) and Partnership for Safe Water programs. Through these programs, the Program has always dedicated significant resources toward compliance assistance/violation prevention at surface water filtration plants.

Revisions to system service and auxiliary power requirements

The amendments to system service and auxiliary power requirements will strengthen system resiliency and ensure that safe and potable water is continuously supplied to consumers and businesses. A continuous and adequate supply of safe drinking water is vital to maintaining healthy and sustainable communities.

PWS sources and treatment facilities in this Commonwealth are susceptible to emergency situations resulting from natural and manmade disasters. Examples of emergencies from recent years include tropical storms, flooding, high winds, ice, snow, industrial chemical plant runoff, pipeline ruptures and transportation corridor spills. These emergencies have resulted in significant impacts to consumers and businesses due to inadequate water quantity or quality, and required water supply warnings and advisories. For example, in 2011, Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee caused flooding, water line ruptures and power outages resulting in mandatory water restrictions and boil water advisories (BWA) at 32 PWSs in this Commonwealth. In 2012, Hurricane Sandy caused similar problems at 85 CWSs. Most of the impacted systems were small systems where redundancy and back-up systems were lacking. By comparison, systems with redundancy and adequate planning maintained operations until the power was restored with little negative impact to their customers. Countless incidents at individual CWSs have occurred due to localized emergencies with interruptions in potable drinking water service that could have been prevented if adequate preparation and equipment were available.

In addition, numerous wastewater treatment plants were forced to send untreated sewage to waterways in this Commonwealth during these major weather events. PWSs that use these waterways as a source of supply for drinking water were at an increased risk due to extremely elevated turbidity levels and pathogen loading. Effectively treating drinking water during and after emergencies requires increased vigilance and operational control.

Water outages caused by power failures or other emergencies can cause additional adverse effects including:

- Lack of water for basic sanitary purposes, such as handwashing and flushing toilets.
- Increased risk to public health when water systems experience a sharp reduction in supply, which can result in low or no pressure situations within the distribution system. Low pressure can allow intrusion of contaminants into distribution system piping from leaks and backflow from cross connections.
- Dewatering of the distribution system can result in physical damage to pipes when the system is re-pressurized. This situation is exacerbated due to the Nationwide problem with aging infrastructure.

This final-form rulemaking improves the reliability of service provided to all consumers by requiring the development of a feasible plan to consistently supply an adequate quantity of safe and potable water during emergency situations. More specifically, water suppliers will need to provide onsite auxiliary power sources (specifically, generators) or connection to at least two independent power feeds from separate substations, or develop a plan for alternate provisions, such as interconnections with neighboring water systems or finished water storage capacity. Ideally, water systems will implement a combination of options to improve their redundancy and resiliency.

After significant consideration of comments regarding the proposed rulemaking, the Department has made several revisions in this final-form rulemaking. The Department expanded the alternate provision options even further to include “a combination of alternate provisions,” “access to portable generators” and a category of “other” alternate provisions. Within the “other” alternate provisions category, system specific alternate provisions may be proposed to insure uninterrupted system service. Additionally, due to the variety of system specific challenges, the Department included the option to submit a schedule for necessary improvements which have not been completed by the compliance deadlines specified in § 109.708(a) (relating to system service and auxiliary power) for submittal of the USSP. This new approach requires certification of completion of the USSP form created by the Department by the deadlines specified in § 109.708(a). However, if the USSP identifies that deficiencies exist which prevent a continuous supply of safe and potable water as specified in § 109.708(a), and the CWS has not fully addressed those deficiencies by the deadline for USSP submittal, a schedule will need to be submitted within 6 months which includes detailed corrective actions and corresponding completion dates. These significant revisions will help enable the cost for compliance with these provisions to be spread out over a longer period of time. Additionally, these revisions will provide water suppliers with more flexibility in choosing the approach that best suits their particular water systems and adequate time to implement that plan in the most effective manner.

Part II. New annual fees and amended permit fees

Funding necessary to provide services

The Department is required to adopt and implement a public water supply program under section 5(a) of the SDWA that includes maximum contaminant levels (MCL) or treatment technique requirements establishing drinking water quality standards, monitoring, reporting, recordkeeping and analytical requirements, requirements for public notification, standards for construction, operation and modification to PWSs, emergency procedures, standards for laboratory certification, and compliance and enforcement procedures. These functions and services are required to have an approvable program and maintain primacy from the EPA. Services provided by the Department to maintain compliance with section 5(b) of the SDWA, as well as regulations in Chapter 109 and permits issued, include: monitoring and inspections; maintaining an inventory of PWSs in this Commonwealth; conducting systematic sanitary surveys of PWSs; assuring the availability of laboratories certified to analyze drinking water for all contaminants specified in the drinking water standards; reviewing and approving plans and specifications for the design and construction of new or substantially modified PWSs to deliver water that complies with drinking water standards with sufficient volume and pressure to users of the systems; and issuing orders and taking other actions necessary and appropriate for enforcement of drinking water standards.

The fees in this final-form rulemaking are necessary to ensure adequate funding for the Department to carry out its responsibilities under the SDWA and the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act. This Commonwealth is ranked third in the United States in terms of the number of PWSs, with 8,521 PWSs across this Commonwealth. The Department is responsible for regulating all PWSs in this Commonwealth and ensuring that safe and potable drinking water is continuously supplied to the 11.3 million customers the PWSs serve.

The Department's appropriations from the General Fund for the Program have steadily decreased in recent years while the cost of staff salaries and benefits, as well as other operation costs, have increased. The result has been an overall 25% decrease in staffing for the Program since 2009. As discussed in more detail in the preamble of the proposed rulemaking published at 47 Pa.B. 4986 (August 26, 2017), these staff reductions have led to a steady decline in the Department's performance of services necessary to ensure compliance with SDWA requirements.

The current funding available to administer the Program from State and Federal sources is $19.7 million, as shown in the following chart. The fees are expected to generate approximately $7.5 million, which will allow the Program to restore staffing levels and reverse the decline in services that has occurred since 2009. The fees will provide nearly 50% of the Commonwealth's share of funding for the Program. The remaining portion of the Commonwealth's share ($7.7 million) is expected to be provided through annual General Fund appropriations. If appropriations from the General Fund do not keep pace with Program costs, a funding gap could remain even with this final-form rulemaking.

SDW Program Costs and Funding

Federal sources currently provide approximately $11.2 million to fund the Program, including:

- Public Water System Supervision grant ($4.1 million)—used for personnel costs, lab costs and staff training
- State Revolving Fund Set-asides grant ($7.1 million)—used for personnel costs, capability enhancement programs (training, technical assistance and optimization programs), source water assessment and protection, the Pennsylvania Drinking Water Information System (PADWIS) and assistance grants/contracts

The Commonwealth currently provides approximately $8.5 million to fund the Program through the following sources:

- General Fund appropriations (~$7.7 million)—used for personnel costs
- Operator Certification fees ($0.8 million)—used for Operator Certification Program implementation costs

With the addition of the $7.5 million expected to be generated from this final-form rulemaking, the funds available for the Program should total $27.2 million.

The minimum critical services that the Program must provide to administer the SDWA and its regulations include:

- Conducting surveillance activities, such as sanitary surveys and other inspections.
- Collecting and analyzing drinking water samples.
- Determining compliance with the regulations, a permit or an order.
- Taking appropriate enforcement actions to compel compliance.
- Reviewing applications, plans, reports, feasibility studies and special studies.
- Issuing permits.
- Conducting evaluations, such as FPPEs and other site surveys.
- Tracking, updating and maintaining water supply inventory, sample file and enforcement data in various data management systems.
- Meeting and assuring compliance with all Commonwealth and Federal recordkeeping and reporting requirements.
- Conducting training.
- Providing technical assistance.
- Responding to water supply emergencies.

Failure to provide these fundamental services may result in an increased risk to public health, as well as the loss of approval from the EPA for the Department to serve as the primary enforcement agency for the administration of the Program in this Commonwealth under Federal law.

The Board has the authority and is directed under section 4(c) of the SDWA to establish fees for services that bear a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of providing the services. The Board must also consider the impacts of the proposed fees on small businesses as part of the regulatory analysis required under section 5 of the Regulatory Review Act (71 P.S. § 745.5). Sixty-eight percent of the PWSs in this Commonwealth are considered small businesses.

The fees in this final-form rulemaking will provide the Department with funding necessary to properly administer the SDWA while bearing a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of services provided and in a manner that minimizes the adverse impact on water systems with fewer customers to bear the cost.

The fees will allow the Department to restore sanitarian (field inspector) positions and lower the workload of PWSs/sanitarian to an acceptable level (~100–125 per a workload analysis) as follows:

Region	Number of PWSs			Number of Sanitarians			Sanitarian Workload (Number of PWSs/Sanitarians)

New annual fee and permit fee increases

The amended fees apply to all 8,521 PWSs, which include 1,952 CWSs, 6,397 NCWSs and 172 bottled and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems (BVRB). The new annual fees range from $250 to $40,000 for CWSs, $50 to $1,000 for NCWSs and $1,000 to $2,500 for BVRBs. If passed on to their customers, these annual fees would result in an increase in cost ranging from $0.35 to $10 per year, depending on the water system size. Further explanation of the annual fees is provided in Section E under the discussion of § 109.1402 (relating to annual fees). The increased permit fees range from $100 to $10,000 depending on the population served and whether the permit is for major or minor construction. The former permit fees ranged from $125 to $1,750. This final-form rulemaking provides for a review of the fee structure every 3 years to ensure that the fees continue to adequately supplement the cost of maintaining the Program.

As provided in section 14 of the SDWA (35 P.S. § 721.14), all fees will be paid into the State Treasury into a special restricted revenue account in the General Fund known as the Safe Drinking Water Account administered by the Department. The funds may only be used for purposes as authorized under the SDWA.

Comparison to other states annual fees

As described in preamble of the proposed rulemaking, at least 26 states charge annual fees to augment the cost of their drinking water programs. Some states charge a flat fee based on the PWS type and size. Other states charge a fee based on population served or the number of service connections. Annual fees for these 26 states range from $25 to $160,000 and were summarized in the preamble of the proposed rulemaking.

Part III. Amendments

The remaining component of this final-form rulemaking consists of amendments to other sections of Chapter 109 to:

- Establish in § 109.511 (relating to general permits) the regulatory basis for the issuance of general permits for high volume, low risk modifications or activities to streamline the permitting process.
- Clarify in § 109.505(a)(2)(ii) (relating to requirements for noncommunity water systems) that NCWSs that are not required to obtain a permit shall still obtain Department approval of the facilities prior to construction and operation.
- Address in § 109.301(15) (relating to general monitoring requirements) and final-form § 109.718 (relating to comprehensive monitoring plan) (proposed § 109.717) concerns related to gaps in the monitoring, reporting and tracking of back-up water sources, and entry points. Per State regulations in § 109.301 and § 109.303 (relating to sampling requirements) and Federal regulations in 40 CFR 141.23(a), 141.24(f) and (h) and 141.26(a) (relating to inorganic chemical sampling and analytical requirements; organic chemicals, sampling and analytical requirements; and monitoring frequency and compliance requirements for radionuclides in community water systems), all sources and entry points shall be included in routine compliance monitoring to ensure water quality meets safe drinking water standards. Sources and entry points that do not provide water continuously are required to be monitored when used. However, monitoring requirements for back-up sources are not currently tracked, which means verifiable controls are not in place to ensure that all sources and entry points meet safe drinking water standards. Some of these sources have not been used in at least 5 years and, therefore, the Department does not know the water quality for these sources. In addition, the treatment facilities and other appurtenances associated with these sources may have gone unused as well, and may no longer be in good working order. This final-form rulemaking will ensure that all sources and entry points are monitored at least annually, or when in use. PWSs will also be required to document in a comprehensive monitoring plan how routine compliance monitoring will include all sources and entry points.

Advisory committee review

This final-form rulemaking was presented to TAC on December 7, 2017. Final written comments were received on December 22, 2017. The TAC Board made ten recommendations:

- Five of the recommendations were incorporated into this final-form rulemaking.
- The TAC recommended that electronic submission of Consumer Confidence Reports to the Department be allowed as an environmentally prudent option. The Department continues to investigate options for water suppliers to submit reports electronically, and intends to move forward with promulgating a regulation to implement this recommendation as soon as a system is available to accept electronic submissions.
- The TAC made three recommendations regarding NSF International (NSF) certification requirements under § 109.606 (relating to chemicals, materials and equipment). These recommendations were not incorporated because NSF certification is an existing requirement. NSF certification has been a long-standing requirement to ensure the safety and efficacy of materials and equipment. NSF certification ensures that harmful metals such as cadmium, chromium and lead do not leech from materials and equipment. NSF certification also ensures that water treatment devices can meet manufacturers' claims and effectively treat the water. However, the Department clarifies in this final-form rulemaking that NSF certification requirements apply to materials and equipment that come in contact with the water. In other words, these requirements apply to the wetted parts of materials and equipment, and exclude motors, casings, and the like which do not come into contact with the water. Finally, § 109.606 allows the use of other standards to meet these criteria. For example, the use of materials, such as concrete and stainless steel, which meet American Water Works Association standards would be acceptable to the Department.
- The TAC made recommendations regarding the elimination of the fees and whether the fees bear a reasonable relationship to the cost of services. These recommendations are addressed in Section E, particularly in the discussion regarding § 109.1402.
- Section E includes more information about the TAC Board's recommendations.

Summary of major comments and responses

The Independent Regulatory Review Commission (IRRC) submitted several comments. A summary of the IRRC's major comments and the Board's responses to those comments follow. For more information about the comments received and the Department's responses, refer to the comment and response document for this final-form rulemaking.

Comment: The current state of the Program, which is the cumulative result of numerous decisions made over many years, is cause for serious concern regarding protection of the public health, safety and welfare. The SDWA envisions and directs the Board to establish fees to cover services. IRRC questioned the Department's decision to cut services rather than gradually increase fees as appropriations from the General Fund decreased in recent years. IRRC asked the Board to explain why the statutory directive to establish fees to cover services was not used to sustain the Program. IRRC asked the Board to explain how the Program's budget will be monitored in the future to ensure that revenues are in place to meet SDWA requirements before a budget shortfall exposes the public to the risk of unsafe drinking water.

Response: The Department attempted to increase permit fees and establish new annual fees in 2010 when Program resources and performance first began to decline. A draft proposed rulemaking (Safe Drinking Water Program Fees) was presented to TAC on March 9, 2010, with further discussion on June 18, 2010. The proposed rulemaking was presented to the Board at its November 16, 2010, meeting, where it was approved to move forward as a proposed rulemaking. However, due to circumstances beyond the control of the Department at that time, the draft proposed rulemaking was prohibited from moving forward beyond that point in the regulatory process.

Regarding the Department's protocols that will ensure the proper monitoring of the Program's performance and budget in the future, the 3-year review of fees specified under § 109.1413 (relating to evaluation of fees) will ensure ongoing monitoring and tracking. There are several additional levels of accountability within the Program. At the Federal level, the Department is accountable to the EPA to ensure that the Program meets all primacy and grant conditions and is at least as stringent as the Federal program. The Department provides several updates to the EPA throughout the year including quarterly enforcement updates, semiannual updates on grant commitments and Program performance, and annual and triennial reports on Program implementation. The Department's performance is also tracked by the Governor's Office and the General Assembly through the annual budget process and through the reporting and tracking of annual performance measures. The Department is accountable to the citizens of this Commonwealth through advisory committees, public meetings and publicly-accessible web applications. Currently, the Department provides on the Drinking Water Reporting System web site all compliance monitoring results, violations and enforcement actions, and inspection results for all 8,500 PWSs. See <http://www.drinkingwater.state.pa.us/dwrs/HTM/Welcome.html>. The fees in this final-form rulemaking will provide the Department with funding necessary to properly administer the SDWA while bearing a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of services provided by the Department and while achieving a reasonable cost to the customers served.

Comment: Public comments opposing the proposed fees, and even those supporting them, challenged the Board's methodology for assessing the fees. The commentators questioned whether fees based on parameters including population served, PWS identification number and system construction bear a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of the services provided by the Department. IRRC recommended that the Board re-evaluate the basis of the fees in the final-form rulemaking, including consideration of the recommendation from the TAC. IRRC asked the Board to explain in the preamble of the final-form rulemaking how the chosen method of assessment of fees bears a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of providing each service, and to explain why the TAC recommendation is not in the public interest if it is not adopted.

Response: The Department retained the assessment of fees by population served. Nearly all aspects of the State and Federal drinking water programs are governed by system size (population). System population is used to determine monitoring requirements (the number of samples and the frequency of monitoring), implementation due dates (many rules phase-in effective dates by system size) and treatment techniques (some treatment techniques only apply to certain system sizes), among other things. System population is used as a surrogate for system complexity—medium and large systems are generally more complex than small systems, with more overall facilities (namely, sources, entry points, interconnections and storage tanks, among others) and types of treatment technologies. Medium and large systems often face additional challenges with maintaining simultaneous compliance, which factor heavily into Department services. For these reasons, it is appropriate to use system population to determine the various fee categories and Department costs. Refer to the discussion regarding § 109.1402 in Section E for more information about the appropriateness of the fees.

Comment: The Board notes that several areas of the proposed rulemaking were more stringent than Federal requirements, and commentators took issue with the increased regulation relative to lack of staff and increased fees. IRRC asked the Board to explain the reasonableness of expanding regulatory requirements which would result in increased demands on the Department's staff and funding during a time when both staff and funding are decreasing.

Response: The Department revised several provisions in response to TAC and public comments. Several provisions that were more stringent were either revised or deleted, including the turbidity requirements under §§ 109.202 and 109.701 (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements; and reporting and recordkeeping), the monitoring and reporting requirements for “back-up” sources and entry points under §§ 109.301 and 109.303, final-form § 109.718 (proposed § 109.717) and § 109.703 (relating to facilities operation), and the system service and auxiliary power requirements under § 109.708. The remaining more stringent provisions are designed to help reduce the occurrence of violations, treatment breakdowns and water supply emergencies, thereby improving system resiliency and reliability and reducing the need for Department staff resources to respond to these emergency situations. Refer to Section E for more information on the revisions to these sections.

Comment: IRRC asked the Board to ensure that the final-form rulemaking and the Regulatory Analysis Form for this final-form rulemaking make clear who is required to comply with the regulations and how the final-form rulemaking affects the various segments of the regulated community. IRRC asked the Board to consider regulatory methods to minimize adverse impacts on small businesses or explain the reasonableness of not considering alternatives.

Response: The various definitions and types of PWSs that shall comply with the SDWA and regulations are not being amended in this final-form rulemaking. The existing State and Federal regulatory definitions and guidance provide more information about the types of water systems. In general, nontransient NCWSs include facilities that serve 25 or more of the same people, but are not residential facilities. This includes schools and places of business with 25 or more employees. Transient NCWSs generally serve a transient population and include restaurants and campgrounds. Finally, the fees for small water systems and businesses were established to bear a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of services provided and in a manner that minimizes the adverse impact on water systems with fewer customers to bear the cost. Refer to Section F and to the responses to Questions 17, 24, 26 and 27 in the Regulatory Analysis Form for this final-form rulemaking for more information about who is required to comply with the regulations, how this final-form rulemaking affects the various segments of the regulated community, the costs for the various segments of the regulated community, including small businesses, and for the consideration of alternative regulatory approaches.

Comment: IRRC strongly encouraged the Department to organize additional stakeholder meetings with representatives from all segments of the regulated community to develop final-form regulations that are clear, reasonable and have the least adverse economic impact while protecting the public health, safety and welfare. IRRC asked the Board to address the reasonableness, economic impact and implementation of revisions made to these sections of the final-form rulemaking in this preamble.

Response: The fees and other proposed amendments were thoroughly discussed with the TAC and other stakeholders through several advisory committee meetings and a public webinar. Advisory committee meetings were announced publicly and are open to the public. As previously mentioned, several general update provisions were either revised or deleted in response to TAC and public comments. In addition, several options were evaluated using all available data to determine the best method of assessing fees to ensure the fees bear a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of services provided by the Department and in a manner that minimizes the adverse impact on water systems with fewer customers to bear the cost. Refer to Sections E and F for more information about the reasonableness, economic impact and implementation of revisions to this final-form rulemaking.

Comment: The Board proposed to reduce acceptable turbidity levels, making the maximum level more stringent than Federal standards. IRRC asked the Board to explain the reasonableness and economic impact of making this requirement more stringent than Federal standards.

Response: The Department deleted these provisions from this final-form rulemaking. Refer to the discussion of the amendments to §§ 109.202 and 109.701 in Section E for more information.

Comment: Proposed § 109.301(11)(ii) stated that “at a minimum, all entry points shall provide water to the public on an annual basis to ensure all sources and entry points are included in routine compliance monitoring.” IRRC asked the Board to address in this preamble the economic impact and feasibility of requiring all entry points to provide water to the public, as well as the implementation schedule. IRRC asked the Board to define “entry points” in this final-form rulemaking. IRRC asked the Board to clarify “back-up sources” and define the term in § 109.1 (relating to definitions), and to clarify how interconnections will be affected in the final-form rulemaking.

Response: The Department deleted proposed § 109.301(11)(ii) in response to TAC and public comments. Revisions were made to include the designation “reserve” in § 109.301(15) and final-form § 109.718 (proposed § 109.717), rather than define “back-up sources” in § 109.1, to allow select sources and entry points to remain off-line until needed. Section 109.1 already defines “entry point.” “Back-up” source is not used in the regulations, so a definition is not needed. Refer to the discussion of §§ 109.301, 109.303 and 109.703 and final-form § 109.718 (proposed § 109.717) in Section E for more information, including an explanation of how interconnections will be affected.

Comment: IRRC asked the Board to clarify the pre-drilling plan and source water assessment requirements of § 109.503(a)(1) (relating to public water system construction permits) in this final-form rulemaking. IRRC asked the Board to explain the reasonableness of this requirement.

Response: Pre-drilling plans and source approvals are coordinated with other agencies such as the Susquehanna River Basin Commission, the Delaware River Basin Commission (DRBC), and the like. The individual components of a pre-drilling plan and subsequent approvals of potential production well site locations have been required as part of the permitting process since at least 1997. The individual components are listed in § 109.503(a)(1)(iii) and are required to be submitted to the Department as part of a construction permit application. However, with these amendments, the pre-drilling plan will now be required to be submitted to the Department for review and approval prior to drilling the well. Revisions were not made in this final-form rulemaking to § 109.503(a).

Test wells and exploratory activities would be undertaken first to determine potential production well site locations; the Department does encourage these valuable data gathering activities. Potential production well sites would then be addressed by the pre-drilling plan.

The clarifications to existing requirements for preliminary source water assessments in § 109.503(a)(1)(iii)(A) do not involve water quality monitoring and are primarily to determine potential sources of contamination and the susceptibility of the production water source to contamination, not to assess existing water quality in the well. In addition, the Groundwater Monitoring Guidance Manual is used by the Department and multiple agencies to address groundwater sampling/monitoring issues. Refer to the Benefits portion of Section F for more information.

Comment: Regarding the proposed amendments to § 109.606, IRRC suggested that the Board should define “equipment,” clarify its intent regarding certification and explain the reasonableness of the expanded certification, including addressing economic impacts.

Response: The Board revised § 109.606 to clarify that chemicals, materials and equipment that come in contact with the water or may affect the quality of the water must be acceptable to the Department. In other words, this section applies to the wetted parts of materials and equipment, and excludes motors, casings, and the like that do not come in contact with the water. The Department believes that this clarification should alleviate the need for a definition for “equipment.”

According to NSF, a 2016 survey of members of the Association of State Drinking Water Administrators (ASDWA) found that 48 states have legislation, regulations or policies requiring compliance with NSF standards. NSF International (2016), “Survey of ASDWA Members on the Use of NSF/ANSI Standards” (2016 survey). In this Commonwealth, NSF certification requirements under § 109.606 are long-standing and are intended to ensure the safety and efficacy of chemicals, materials and equipment that come into contact with water. NSF certification ensures that harmful metals such as cadmium, chromium and lead do not leech from materials and equipment. NSF certification also ensures that water treatment devices can meet manufacturer’s claims and effectively treat the water. The intent of the revisions to § 109.606 is to clarify that “equipment” has always been included, as evidenced by the fact that “equipment” has always been part of the heading of § 109.606. Under existing Department protocols, water systems shall take all steps necessary to identify and propose the use of NSF-approved equipment. If NSF-certified equipment is not available, the Department, on a case-by-case basis, will allow the use of other equipment, provided the equipment does not pose an increased risk to public health. The Department is not expanding the scope of equipment for which NSF certification requirements apply; therefore, additional costs are not expected to be incurred.

Comment: Regarding §109.1303 (relating to triggered monitoring requirements for groundwater sources) and the proposed deletion of the opportunity to collect five additional E. coli source water samples to confirm if there is a problem, IRRC asked the Board to address the reasonableness and economic impacts of eliminating the opportunity for further testing to prevent false positives, if the deletion is maintained in the final-form rulemaking.

Response: The EPA approves analytical methods based on the reliability of a method to have a low risk of samples being false positive or false negative. In the preamble to the proposed Federal Ground Water Rule, the EPA states “that, in the interest of public health, a positive sample by any of the methods listed in Table III-4 should be regarded as a fecal indicator-positive source water sample.” See 65 FR 30194 (May 10, 2000). The proposed and final Federal rules along with the Department’s revisions to Chapter 109 provide a means for the laboratory or a state to invalidate samples. Although the EPA allowed the five additional samples as a concession regarding the rare event that a sample is false positive, the EPA’s commentary in the preamble to this final rule states “that in most cases these five additional samples should capture the fecal contamination event since the samples are taken within 24 hours.” See 71 FR 65574 (November 8, 2006). This statement acknowledges that a risk to public health exists because the five additional samples may miss detecting the fecal contamination. In other words, the fecal contamination that was detected in the original sample was a true positive; however, because contamination is neither constant nor immobile, the five additional samples may miss detecting the contamination event. This risk of missing the event is the main rationale for the Department’s decision to delete the five additional samples.

Regarding economic impact, water systems will no longer be required to collect the five additional E. coli samples, which will result in a potential cost savings. Further, all bottled water systems are already required to provide continuous disinfection. If 4-log treatment is triggered, additional capital costs will not be incurred—treatment already exists. However, some bottled watersystems will need to modify operational practices using existing treatment and improve associated monitoring and reporting practices, as specified in revised operations permits, to insure adequate 4-log treatment is maintained.

E. Summary of Revisions to the Proposed Rulemaking § 109.202. State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements

Proposed subsection (c)(1)(i)(A)(V) was deleted in response to TAC and public comments and will be considered in a future rulemaking. The Department decided to defer these proposed amendments until after the EPA completes its 6-year review of the Federal turbidity requirements established under the Surface Water Treatment Rules. This will allow the Department to consider the EPA's proposed changes before moving forward with proposed amendments to applicable State regulatory requirements. During the interim, the Department, through its existing programs, including the Area-Wide Optimization, FPPE and Partnership for Safe Water programs, will continue to recommend and encourage filter plant operators to voluntarily meet optimal water quality levels and respond to trends of increasing turbidity as quickly as possible. Through these programs, the Program has always dedicated significant resources toward compliance assistance/violation prevention at surface water filtration plants.

Additionally, the proposed alarm and shutdown capability amendments under § 109.602 (relating to acceptable design) remain in this final-form rulemaking, which are also targeted at surface water filtration plants. The automated plant shut down requirements are intended to prevent poor quality water from reaching customers, which will protect public health, reduce PWS costs related to corrective actions and issuing public notice, reduce costs to the community and maintain consumer confidence. Therefore, the improved alarm and shutdown capabilities that will occur as a result of systems complying with this final-form rulemaking are a very important interim public health protection measure which will be in place while the Department awaits the EPA's future actions on potentially more stringent turbidity provisions.

Section 109.202(c)(1)(i)(C) includes specific treatment technique requirements for membrane filtration. These standards are consistent with the results of pilot testing conducted throughout this Commonwealth, recommendations by the EPA in the Membrane Filtration Guidance Manual (EPA 815-R-06-009, November 2005), as well as recommendations made by equipment manufacturers. These standards were previously applied through special permit conditions. Certified operators have consistently maintained the proposed levels of performance at membrane filter plants throughout this Commonwealth. When deviations from this performance have occurred, follow-up investigations revealed the need for repairs to this treatment barrier.

§ 109.301. General monitoring requirements

Proposed paragraph (11)(ii) was deleted in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments. This proposed subparagraph was revised and moved to paragraph (15) and to the comprehensive monitoring plan requirements under final-form § 109.718 (proposed § 109.717).

These revisions are intended to clarify the monitoring requirements for entry points that do not provide water continuously and address concerns related to gaps in the monitoring, reporting and tracking of back-up water sources and entry points. Per State regulations in §§ 109.301 and 109.303 and Federal regulations in 40 CFR 141.23(a), 141.24(f) and (h) and 141.26(a), all sources and entry points shall be included in routine compliance monitoring to ensure water quality meets safe drinking water standards. Currently, sources and entry points that do not provide water continuously are required to be monitored when used. However, monitoring requirements for back-up sources are not currently tracked, which means no verifiable controls are in place to ensure that all sources and entry points meet safe drinking water standards.

These concerns were most recently highlighted by the EPA's Office of Inspector General in the 2010 report "EPA Lacks Internal Controls to Prevent Misuse of Emergency Drinking Water Facilities" (2010 report) (Report No. 11-P-0001). Note: The term "emergency" is often used to describe sources other than permanent sources. In this Commonwealth, some of these back-up sources have not been used in at least 5 years and, therefore, the Department does not know the water quality for these sources.

To better understand the scope of the problem in this Commonwealth, the following data was retrieved from PADWIS.

Entry Points
PWS Type	Total Number of Entry Points	Number of Permanent Entry Points	Number of Nonpermanent Entry Points	Percentage of Nonpermanent Entry Points
CWSs	3,330	3,003	327	10%
Others	7,880	7,760	120	2%
Total	11,210	10,763	447	4%

An entry point is the place at which finished water representative of each source enters the distribution system. Routine compliance monitoring is not tracked at nonpermanent entry points. Nonpermanent entry points include the existing categories of seasonal, interim, reserve and emergency entry points.

Based on the data, CWSs provide finished water to consumers through a total of 3,330 entry points, 327 (or 10%) of which are nonpermanent. Therefore, as many as 10% of all entry points may not be included in all required monitoring prior to serving water to consumers.

The numbers are even higher at the individual source level.

Water Supply Sources (Wells, Springs, Surface Water Intakes, and the Like)
PWS Type	Total Number of Sources	Number of Permanent Sources	Number of Nonpermanent Sources	Percentage of Nonpermanent Sources
CWSs	5,252	4,634	618	12%
Others	8,604	8,297	307	4%
Total	13,856	12,931	925	7%

For CWSs, as many as 12% of all sources may not be included in routine compliance monitoring, yet these sources can be used at any time.

The Department also reviewed the monitoring history of the 447 nonpermanent entry points previously mentioned.

Nonpermanent Entry Points
PWS Type	Number of Entry Points	Number and Percentage of Entry Points with No Monitoring Data (Since 1992)	Number of Entry Points with Some Monitoring Data
CWSs	327	143 (44%)	184 (of these entry points, 47 were sampled in 2016, 37 were sampled during the 2012–2015 monitoring period and the remaining 101 were sampled prior to 2012)
Others	120	7 (6%)	113 (55 entry points have recent data (2016))
Total	447	150 (34%)

For CWSs, 143 (or 44%) of all nonpermanent entry points have no monitoring data since 1992. Of the 184 entry points with some data, most of the data are 5 to 10 years old.

The use of unmonitored sources and entry points could adversely impact basic water quality, including pH, alkalinity, turbidity, corrosivity and lead solubility, dissolved inorganic carbon and natural organic matter. Water suppliers may have limited information about how these sources or entry points will impact treatment efficacy and distribution system water quality. In addition, back-up or emergency sources may have poor water quality or MCL exceedances. The use of these sources without proper monitoring and verifiable controls could lead to an increased risk to public health.

Finally, treatment facilities and other appurtenances associated with these sources may no longer be in good working order. Back-up sources and entry points with unknown water quality or that have not been used or are no longer in good working order provide a false sense of security in terms of system resiliency and emergency response. While the Department understands that many facilities are not used on a 24/7 basis, these amendments will ensure that all permitted sources and entry points are monitored at least annually, or when in use.

The Department anticipates that select purchased interconnections will be able to retain the “emergency” designation if the following criteria are met. The Department anticipates proposing technical guidance in the near future that addresses these criteria. As previously noted, “emergency” is often used to describe sources other than permanent sources.

- Using the last 3 years of historical water use data, the water supplier can demonstrate that the purchased interconnection has only been used for emergency purposes.
- Emergency use has not occurred more than 14 days per year, excluding use under State or Federal emergency declarations.
- The Department has conducted an annual compliance check using reported water use data.

On a case-by-case basis, the Department may allow the use of the “reserve” designation for select sources and entry points, without conducting routine annual compliance monitoring, if documentation is provided to the Department that supports the use of this designation. Select sources and entry points that meet these criteria will be covered by a special condition in the permit that requires Department notification and completion of compliance monitoring prior to use.

Paragraph (15) is added in this final-form rulemaking to clarify the monitoring requirements for reserve sources and reserve entry points to ensure these facilities are properly monitored prior to and during each use.

§ 109.303. Sampling requirements

Subsection (a)(4) is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments. The proposed amendments to clarify the monitoring requirements when sources are blended or alternated prior to the entry point were deleted from this paragraph, revised and added to final-form § 109.718 (proposed § 109.717).

Subsection (i) is revised to delete unnecessary language.

§ 109.503. Public water system construction permits

Subsection (b)(2) is revised in this final-form rulemaking to clarify that a change to a source designation may be considered a minor amendment.

§ 109.602. Acceptable design

Subsections (f) and (g) are revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to allow the Department to approve an alternate compliance schedule if the water supplier submits a written request with supporting documentation.

Subsection (i)(2)(iii) is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to change “clearwell water levels” to “water levels to maintain adequate CT for Giardia inactivation.” This revision is necessary because not all water systems use the clearwell as a disinfection segment for Giardia inactivation contact time (CT). After consideration of comments, the Department deleted proposed subsection (i)(2)(iv) to establish alarm and shutdown capabilities for “any other operational parameter determined by the Department as necessary for the system to maintain compliance.” Commentators were concerned that this language may be overly broad and lead to inconsistent implementation. With this deletion, the universe of required alarms is reduced, thereby, allowing potential for additional cost savings. The basis for this deletion was the concern that this particular requirement may be too far reaching and cost prohibitive. Rather than include this language, the Department will rely on appropriate water system personnel (for example, properly certified operators and consulting engineers) to carefully evaluate what additional operational parameters may require alarms for the particular filter plant to consistently comply with regulatory requirements. Additionally, if lack of an alarm is linked to risk of treatment breakdown, the Department will address these issues through a system-specific permit or order on a case-by-case basis.

These new requirements are added to define new requirements for alarm and shutdown capabilities. Alarm and shutdown capabilities are intended to prevent unsafe water from reaching customers.

The TAC recommended that the Department should provide accurate cost estimates for compliance with these provisions and evaluate whether 12 months is adequate time for systems to comply given the costs associated overall with the regulatory package and the addition of fees. The TAC expressed concerns that proposed subsection (i)(2)(iv), regarding other operational parameters that the Department may determine necessary for compliance, may be too far reaching and cost prohibitive.

To address the TAC’s concerns about costs, the Department conducted additional cost estimate research. The Department estimates that 10% of the 353 filter plants in this Commonwealth will need to install an auto-dialer. The Department estimates that the cost to achieve the automatic alarm and shutdown capabilities ranges from $8,860 to $11,980 per treatment plant, depending on the options chosen, with annual maintenance costs of $600. A detailed discussion of these estimated costs is included in Section F.

Overall, the Department notes that the alarm and shutdown amendments will be cost-effective in comparison to staffing costs incurred by systems that maintain physical staffing of the facility. Several states have regulations that do not allow unattended operation of surface water filtration plants. These revisions provide a reasonable alternative to mandating the presence of a certified operator at all times in all water systems in this Commonwealth.

§ 109.606. Chemicals, materials and equipment

In response to public comments, subsections (a)—(d) are revised in this final-form rulemaking to clarify that chemicals, materials and equipment that come in contact with the water or may affect the quality of the water must be acceptable to the Department. In other words, these requirements apply to the wetted parts of materials and equipment, and exclude motors, casings, and the like, that do not come in contact with the water.

According to NSF, the 2016 survey of ASDWA members found that 48 states have legislation, regulations or policies requiring compliance with NSF standards. In this Commonwealth, NSF certification requirements in § 109.606 have been long-standing and are intended to ensure the safety and efficacy of chemicals, materials and equipment that come into contact with water. NSF certification ensures that harmful metals such as cadmium, chromium and lead do not leech from materials and equipment. NSF certification also ensures that water treatment devices can meet manufacturers’ claims and effectively treat the water. The intent of the revisions to § 109.606 is to clarify that “equipment” has always been included, as evidenced by the fact that “equipment” has always been part of the heading of §109.606. Under existing Department protocols, water systems shall take all steps necessary to identify and propose the use of NSF-approved equipment. If NSF-certified equipment is not available, the Department, on a case-by-case basis, will allow the use of other equipment, provided the equipment does not pose an increased risk to public health. The Department is not expanding the scope of equipment for which NSF certification requirements apply. Therefore, additional costs are not expected to be incurred.

Section 109.606 allows the use of other standards to meet these criteria. For example, the use of materials, such as concrete and stainless steel, which meet American Water Works Association standards would be acceptable to the Department.

§ 109.612. POE devices

Subsection (b) is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to the TAC’s recommendation that the Department change “and” to “or.”

§ 109.701. Reporting and recordkeeping

In response to comments from the TAC and other commentators, subsection (a)(2)(i)(A)(VIII) and (IX) has been revised in this final-form rulemaking to delete more stringent turbidity performance standards for conventional, direct, slow sand and diatomaceous earth filtration technologies.

Subsection (e)(2) is amended to add a citation to clarify which systems are required to report individual filter turbidity monitoring. The trigger levels specified in subsection (e)(2)(i)—(iv) were proposed to be replaced by lower trigger levels for IFE reporting requirements for all filtration technologies as specified in proposed subparagraphs (v)—(viii). These proposed turbidity reporting requirements have been deleted in this final-form rulemaking. Therefore, existing requirements in subsection (e)(2)(i)—(iv) remain unchanged.

Through the rulemaking process, the TAC commented that the “ramifications of these turbidity reductions include additional reporting, self-assessments and comprehensive performance evaluations, as well as possible public notifications.” The TAC recommended that the Department “should provide rationale, science and methodology, cost vs. benefits, public health benefit, etc. and data to support the proposed changes.” These comments mirror previous comments regarding significant figures and reducing IFE turbidity standards significantly.

In response to the TAC’s comments, the Department explains the following. IFE is a primary compliance monitoring location. As with CFE, IFE turbidity is the surrogate measurement for pathogen breakthrough, primarily the acute pathogen Cryptosporidium. Turbidity breakthrough on individual filters often provides an indication of water quality problems before CFE turbidity is significantly impacted. As IFE turbidity increases, risk of particle breakthrough on that particular filter increases; this science is supported by existing regulations and industry experts. Most filter plants in this Commonwealth typically produce IFE water quality <0.10 NTU.

Therefore, exceedances of the proposed lower turbidity levels will occur only when water systems are experiencing significant increases in turbidity from an individual filter. Multiple peer reviewed research papers indicate that as turbidity significantly increases from the baseline levels, the risk of pathogen breakthrough increases. Huck, P.M., et al. (2002), "Effects of Filter Operation on Cryptosporidium Removal," Journal—American Water Works Association, 94(6), 97–111. Emelko, M.B., Huck, P.M. and Douglas, I.P. (2003), "Cryptosporidium and Microsphere Removal During Late In-Cycle Filtration," Journal—American Water Works Association, 95(5), 173–182.

The real-world impact to operational practices at filter plants in this Commonwealth under the proposed amendments would have been that water suppliers would take important corrective actions sooner (such as removing the filter from service, consulting with the Department and notifying customers). This was intended to enable suppliers to identify physical integrity issues within an individual filter before CFE water quality is impacted, or before problems within one filter occur in other filters. The Department has documented breakdowns in treatment and the presence of pathogens (such as Giardia or Cryptosporidium) in the IFE of water treatment plants in this Commonwealth that complied with the current IFE turbidity standards. This has been documented both with continuous turbidity monitoring and Microscopic Particulate Analysis cartridges. Therefore, strengthening the current IFE turbidity standards was proposed to provide an additional level of protection.

As previously noted, the Department favors establishing more stringent IFE and CFE turbidity compliance and trigger levels for surface water filtration plants. However, in responding to numerous TAC and public comments, the Department is deferring amendments until the EPA completes its 6-year review of the Federal turbidity requirements established under the Surface Water Treatment Rules. This will allow the Department to consider the EPA's proposed changes before moving forward with proposed amendments to applicable State regulatory requirements. Until that time, the Department encourages filter plant operators to voluntarily meet optimal water quality levels and respond to trends of increasing turbidity as quickly as possible. This can be accomplished through the use of the Department's existing programs, including the Area-Wide Optimization and FPPE and Partnership for Safe Water programs. Through these programs, the Program has always dedicated significant resources toward compliance assistance/violation prevention at surface water filtration plants.

Subsection (n) is added in this final-form rulemaking to set forth additional reporting requirements for systems using reserve sources, reserve treatment plants or reserve entry points. These requirements are needed to ensure proper tracking and oversight of these facilities. While these facilities are in use, additional monitoring is required. Timely notification that the facility is no longer in use will allow the Department to modify the monitoring requirements in PADWIS accordingly.

§ 109.703. Facilities operation

Subsection (d) is added in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to specify the requirements for requesting Department approval to use a reserve source, reserve treatment plant or reserve entry point. This revision is necessary to ensure that the use of reserve facilities is properly tracked and monitored prior to each use.

§ 109.706. System map

In response to public comments, subsection (a) is revised in this final-form rulemaking to clarify that the requirement for a system distribution map does not apply to BVRBs.

§ 109.708. System service and auxiliary power

This Commonwealth is susceptible to natural disasters, such as ice storms, tropical storms and hurricanes, which can lead to massive and extended flooding or power outages, or both. As previously noted, this Commonwealth's drinking water sources and treatment facilities are susceptible to emergency situations resulting from natural and manmade disasters. Therefore, all CWSs shall have effective options to provide consistent system service during these emergencies. Despite long-standing efforts to encourage water systems to develop feasible plans for the continuous provision of adequate and safe water quantity and quality during emergency circumstances, many water suppliers are still inadequately prepared. The Department estimates that more than 400 CWSs do not have an up-to-date emergency response plan. This has resulted in significant impacts to consumers in the form of inadequate water quantity or quality, or both, and the resulting consumption advisories.

Flooding events caused by localized heavy rains, hurricanes and tropical storms result in elevated public health risks. Source water turbidity and pathogen loading can increase dramatically during these events. Additionally, when power outages cause interruptions in water system operations, water systems can experience a sharp reduction in supply, which results in low or no pressure within the distribution system. This results in increased risk to public health, because low pressure can allow intrusion of contaminants into distribution system piping from backflow and cross connections. Some customers may also experience inadequate supply of water for basic sanitary purposes, flushing toilets and potable uses.

Several other Mid-Atlantic and Northeastern states are considering promulgating, or have already promulgated, regulations for auxiliary power. New Jersey and New York have existing design standards for auxiliary power. New York requires standby power through incorporation of standards recommended by the Great Lakes—Upper Mississippi River Board of State and Provincial Public Health and Environmental Managers (known as the 10 States Standards). New Jersey's requirements are in N.J.S.A. 58:12A-4(c) and N.J.A.C. 7:10-11.6(i). New Jersey recently evaluated its regulations and issued additional guidance and best management practices regarding auxiliary power, available at <http://www.nj.gov/dep/watersupply/pdf/guidance-ap.pdf>. Connecticut is in the process of updating its regulations to incorporate generator and emergency contingency and response plan requirements, available at http://www.ct.gov/dph/lib/dph/public_health_code/pending_regulations/proposed_regulation--generators.pdf.

The TAC commented that the Department should not be prescribing the methods by which a public water supplier obtains auxiliary power. The TAC further claimed that: the Department has not sufficiently evaluated the cost of providing auxiliary power; secondary power feeds may not be attainable in rural areas or may be extremely cost prohibitive; and the Department has not properly evaluated the total cost for implementing generator power. Also, the TAC stated that systems may avail themselves of the resources from the Pennsylvania Water and Wastewater Agency Response Network (PaWARN) to meet auxiliary power demands. The TAC recommended that this provision be addressed in emergency response plans and not in regulation.

This final-form rulemaking does not prescribe a specific method by which a system shall comply. Rather, this final-form rulemaking requires that a feasible plan be in place to ensure safe and potable water is continuously supplied to users. The water supplier will determine which option or combination of options it will use to comply. Ideally, suppliers will implement a combination of options to improve their redundancy and resiliency.

This information should be incorporated into emergency response plans, as the TAC suggests. However, despite long-standing efforts to encourage water systems to develop feasible plans for the continuous provision of adequate and safe water quantity and quality during emergency circumstances, many water suppliers are still inadequately prepared. The Department estimates that more than 400 CWSs in this Commonwealth do not have an up-to-date emergency response plan.

Therefore, the Department believes that these revisions are necessary. Wastewater treatment plants have been required to have back-up power supplies for many years. These revisions provide consistency within the drinking water and wastewater industry. It is not feasible to develop these plans under an emergency. Rather, plans must be in place before an emergency occurs. It is only a matter of time before another natural or manmade disaster significantly impacts water systems in this Commonwealth. If these revisions were not adopted, a large number of CWSs would likely not be able to provide a consistent supply of safe and potable water.

In response to the TAC's comment that systems can use the services of PaWARN to comply, the Department fully recognizes the importance of PaWARN and encourages membership in this valuable mutual aid network. For this reason, PaWARN is listed as one critical component of a complete plan to provide uninterrupted system service. In the draft certification form (USSP) which shall be completed to comply with the amendments to § 109.708, PaWARN is listed as one "alternate provision" option (along with finished water storage capacity, interconnections with neighboring water systems and rental agreements for generators). As of December 2017, PaWARN had approximately 104 members, approximately 92 of those members manage CWSs throughout this Commonwealth. This is a very small subset of the 1,952 CWSs in this Commonwealth. PaWARN membership should prove valuable during small scale events.

After significant consideration of comments, the Department made several revisions to the proposed rulemaking. First, the Department expanded the alternate provision options further to include "a combination of alternate provisions," "portable generators" and a category of "other" alternate provisions. Within the "other" alternate provisions category, system specific alternate provisions may be proposed to insure uninterrupted system service. Additionally, due to the variety of system specific challenges, the Department includes in final-form subsection (c) the option to submit a corrective action schedule for necessary improvements that have not been completed by the compliance deadlines specified in subsection (a) for submittal of the USSP. More specifically, this new approach requires certification of completion of the USSP form created by the Department by the deadlines in subsection (a). However, if the USSP identifies that deficiencies exist that prevent a continuous supply of safe and potable water as specified in subsection (a), and the community water supplier has not addressed those deficiencies by the deadline for USSP submittal, a schedule shall be submitted within 6 months which includes detailed corrective actions and corresponding completion dates. These significant revisions will help enable the cost for compliance with these provisions to be spread out over a longer period of time. Additionally, these revisions provide water suppliers with more flexibility in choosing the approach that best suits their particular water system, and adequate time to implement that plan in the most effective manner.

Final-form § 109.718. Comprehensive monitoring plan (proposed § 109.717)

This section is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to defer the compliance date of the new comprehensive monitoring plan requirements until 1 year after the effective date of this final-form rulemaking.

This section was also revised to incorporate recommended changes that allow the use of the designation "reserve" for select sources and entry points if certain conditions are met. Reserve sources and reserve entry points will be identified in the water system's permit, require notification to the Department and monitoring prior to use.

These requirements will ensure that all sources and entry points are included in routine compliance monitoring at the entry point and within the distribution system, or are properly monitored prior to use. The plan must be specific to the system and include details about the various sources and entry points, and how the facilities are operated. The operation of each source and entry point will dictate how compliance monitoring is conducted to ensure that all sources and entry points are included in routine compliance monitoring.

§ 109.1402. Annual fees

This section is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to defer the effective date of the fees until January 1, 2019, to provide more time for budgeting. Water system boards and authorities have already completed and authorized their budgets for 2018.

Subsection (a)(1)—(3) is revised in this final-form rulemaking to change the number of people in the population served for the smallest category of PWSs. The proposed rulemaking outlined the annual fees for PWSs serving populations of 25 to 100 people. The population numbers are revised in this final-form rulemaking to apply to PWSs serving a population of 100 people or less. These revisions are made because a PWS is defined in § 109.1 as a "system which provides water to the public for human consumption which has at least 15 service connections or regularly serves an average of at least 25 individuals daily at least 60 days out of the year." In this Commonwealth, there are some PWSs that serve at least 15 service connections, but still serve a population of less than 25 people. Therefore, the population number was revised to account for those PWSs.

This section was also revised to change the fee schedule due dates as follows:

Population Served	Submit Annual Fee by	Expected Quarterly Revenue*
3,301 or more	March 31	$1,314,875
501—3,300	June 30	$2,527,275
101—500	September 30	$1,830,425
100 or less	December 31	$1,978,175
	Total	$7,650,750

*The expected quarterly revenue assumes that most systems paying $6,500 or more will request the quarterly payment option.

The larger systems will be billed during the first quarter, with the smaller systems receiving invoices later in the year. This amendment will ensure:

- Receipt of all annual fees (including quarterly payments for larger systems) within the same calendar year.
- A more even distribution of revenue throughout the year.
- Additional time for small systems to budget for the fees.

This section is revised in this final-form rulemaking in response to TAC and public comments to allow a lower threshold for systems that may request quarterly payments. The threshold was lowered from $10,000 to $6,500.

The preamble to the proposed rulemaking included an extensive explanation regarding the appropriateness of the fees, and how the fees bear a reasonable relationship to the actual cost of services provided.

The following table summarizes the annual fees for CWSs, which are based on population and range from $250 to $40,000. The per-person costs range from $0.35 to $10/person/year.

CWS Annual Fees (Based on Population)
Population Served	Annual Fee	Cost / Person / Year

100,001 or more	$40,000	≤ $0.40

The Department analyzed the cost of providing services to administer the SDWA and its regulations. The cost of some services can be estimated, while the cost of other services depends on the specific circumstances and will vary widely. The following table summarizes the Department’s costs of providing those services that can be estimated for CWSs serving various populations. The hourly rate was provided by the Department’s fiscal office and includes salary, benefits and in-direct costs (such as supplies, and the like).

Department Cost of Services that Can be Estimated
Activity	Hours / Activity / Year for CWSs Serving the Following Population
	<750	750—5,000	5,000—50,000	>50,000
Conduct sanitary surveys	7.5	10	25	37.5
Conduct other inspections	2.5	3.3	5	10
Determine compliance	12	12	15	15
Maintain PADWIS/eFACTS	7.5	7.5	10	10
Review plans/reports	7.5	10	15	15
Provide technical assistance/training	7.5	7.5	10	10
Total Hours	44.5	50.3	80	97.5
at $49 / Hour =	$2,180	$2,465	$3,920	$4,778

Examples of other services and costs that involve variable circumstances and preclude a single estimate for the services include the following:

1. Sanitary surveys that take longer to conduct due to the complexity or size of the water system. Examples of actual hours expended and costs to complete more complicated sanitary surveys at large water systems (namely those serving populations >50,000) are as follows:

System A (population = 57,000): 40.5 hours at a cost of $1,984

System B (population = 66,500): 40 hours at a cost of $1,960

System C (population = 87,000): 49 hours at a cost of $2,401

System D (population = 105,000): 60 hours at a cost of $2,940

System E (population = 120,000): 60 hours at a cost of $2,940

System F (population = 747,500): 103 hours at a cost of $5,047

System G (population = 1.6 million): 124 hours at a cost of $6,076

2. Additional follow-up actions taken by the Department in response to a violation. When a drinking water standard is exceeded, Department staff are responsible for: consulting with and providing direction to the water system; ensuring that public notice is complete, timely and repeated as needed; tracking, reviewing and approving follow-up and corrective actions (such as collecting confirmation or additional samples, repairing/replacing/installing water treatment or taking contaminated sources offline); and determining when the system has returned to compliance.

For example, in 2016, monitoring results for a large water system in this Commonwealth indicated the 90th percentile lead value exceeded the action level established in the Lead and Copper Rule. This triggered lead service line replacement actions. Department staff spent at least 116 1/2 hours working to address this important issue. Services provided by the Department to achieve compliance included meetings, file reviews, drafting compliance documents, follow-up action reviews and letters. The approximate cost for these services was $5,708.

3. Additional follow-up, corrective and emergency actions taken by the Department in response to a water supply emergency. Water supply emergencies occur each year and require substantial resources from the Department. The following are examples of emergencies and associated costs for services provided by the Department.

In spring 2011, unexpected damage to a very large water main resulted in a major leak, loss of significant water quantity and pressure. The result was closure of multiple businesses and government agencies in a large city in the Commonwealth for 3 days due to lack of a potable water supply. This emergency spanned approximately 5 consecutive days with approximately 66,500 customers impacted. The Department provided a variety of onsite support services at the site of the break, and at the drinking water filtration plant. Department cost for services provided during this event equates to approximately 160 hours of staff time and a cost of $7,840.

In summer 2012, significant construction delays in completing critical renovations and upgrades to a water filter plant threatened the ability to provide an adequate quantity of drinking water to approximately 210,000 customers. Department staff provided a variety of specialized engineering and operational support services over the course of several weeks. Total cost estimate of Department services provided during this event includes 600 hours of staff time costing approximately $29,400.

In summer 2015, runoff from a large fire at an industrial facility severely contaminated the intakes for two PWSs thereby rendering their normal source of surface water untreatable for almost 3 months. Together, the 2 public water suppliers impacted provided drinking water to approximately 43,000 customers. Several Department staff were involved in providing a wide variety of emergency support services, over the course of several months, to the water suppliers affected. Department cost estimates for this event include 515 staff hours ($25,235) and emergency sampling costs ($17,818). The total cost of Department services provided was approximately $43,053.

In winter 2016, an equipment failure resulted in flooding at a surface water filtration plant which provides water to approximately 20,000 customers. This immobilized treatment and pumping capabilities for 6 consecutive days. The filter plant did not resume normal operations for approximately 2 weeks. Without combined efforts by the water system, the Department and neighboring water systems, 20,000 customers could have endured consecutive days without an adequate supply of water. Department services included coordination with neighboring water systems to identify alternate sources of water, emergency permit considerations, site assessments, engineering and operational support. Additionally, the Department loaned the PWS critical water quality monitoring equipment (valued at approximately $24,000) for approximately 10 weeks to help verify that safe water was consistently provided. The total cost estimate of Department services provided during this event also includes 300 hours of staff time, which cost approximately $14,700.

4. The cost of samples collected by the Department during inspections and FPPEs, in response to complaint investigations, and to assess water quality and protect public health during water supply emergencies. These sampling costs range from $30 for inorganic analyses to $400 for pesticides to $1,200 for analysis of Cryptosporidium and Giardia to $2,968 for a complete emergency sampling suite. Total Department lab costs average approximately $680,000 per year.

5. The costs associated with additional training when new regulations are promulgated. One example is the numerous training sessions that were developed and delivered in 2015-2016 to roll-out implementation of the RTCR adopted to conform to Federal requirements. This training included 8 different training courses, workshops and webinars that were presented 160 times across this Commonwealth for a total of 482 hours of training. The cost to deliver 482 hours of training was $23,618.

6. The costs associated with specific follow-up actions established in new regulations. The Federal RTCR became effective on April 1, 2016, and the Department and the EPA shared enforcement of the Federal rule until the Commonwealth's regulations were adopted at 46 Pa.B. 6005 (September 24, 2016). As part of the Department's enforcement responsibilities during this interim period, staff conducted Level 2 assessments at PWSs. A Level 2 assessment is triggered when a public water supply has an E. coli MCL violation or when two total coliform triggers occur during a 12-month period. During this interim period, Department staff completed 94 Level 2 assessments at more than 85 regulated PWSs. These assessments identified over 400 defects that have already been, or are being, corrected thereby improving public health protection. Estimated costs for services provided by the Department were approximately $3,000 per assessment for a total cost of $282,000.

The additional costs described in items 1—4 are more evident in medium and large water systems due to their size, age, complexity and number of customers at risk. Because these additional costs are variable, it is not possible to establish an average cost for these services. However, these additional costs were considered when determining the annual fees for the medium and large water systems.

The annual fees could have been based solely on the costs for the services that could be estimated. However, that approach would have resulted in a disproportionate impact on the smallest CWSs and would have failed to account for the additional costs incurred by the Department to provide services that cannot be readily estimated, such as those previously described, which result in substantially higher costs for medium and large water systems. Thus, the annual fees were developed to bear a reasonable relationship to the actual costs of the services provided while achieving a reasonable cost to the 11.3 million customers served.

As discussed in the preamble to the proposed rule-making, the Department considered alternatives to assessing fees. However, the other options would have resulted in further disparity between the fees and Department costs for services for the very small and very large water systems. The Department retained the fee structure based on population served because it was the best option to comply with section 4(c) of the SDWA that directs the Board to establish fees for services that bear a reasonable relationship to the actual costs of the services provided. The Board emphasizes that the SDWA requires that the fees assessed by the Department “bear a reasonable relationship” to the actual costs of the services provided, not that the fees be the exact costs for the services provided.

The Department requested and will continue to request additional funding from the General Fund during the annual budget process to support the Program. The decrease in funding has caused the need for the new annual fees. If funding becomes available, the Department will evaluate the continuing need for the annual fees. As for the cost to customers of small versus medium and large water systems and businesses, the annual fees provide a reasonable relationship to the actual costs of the services provided by the Department when considering the minimum costs that can be estimated in advance and the cost of services that arise on a case-by-case basis previously discussed.

The Department has streamlined its operations in nearly all areas. In response to many years of staffing and resource shortfalls, the Program has been reduced to only those activities that are mandated by State and Federal laws, regulations and primacy requirements. If other efficiencies are developed in the future, the ongoing 3-year review of fees will be updated accordingly.

Regarding the other annual fees in subsection (a), fees for nontransient noncommunity water systems (NTNCWS) range from $100 to $1,000, annual fees for transient noncommunity water systems (TNCWS) range from $50 to $500, annual fees for bottled water systems are $2,500 and annual fees for vended, retail and bulk water systems are $1,000.

These fees were determined using the same criteria as previously discussed and are illustrated in the following table. The total hours for services that can be estimated were as follows:

- For NTNCWSs, the total hours ranged from 16 to 22 hours.
- For TNCWSs, the total hours ranged from 8 to 13 hours.
- For BVRBs, the total hours ranged from 21 to 26 hours.

§ 109.1404. Community and noncommunity water system permitting fees

A minor revision is made in this final-form rulemaking to replace “BVRB” with “bottled water or vended water system, retail water facility or bulk water hauling system facility,” as BVRB is not a defined term.

Subsections (a) and (b) are revised in this final-form rulemaking to change the number of people in the population served for the smallest category of PWSs. The proposed rulemaking outlined the permit fees for CWSs and NCWSs serving populations of 25 to 100 people. The population numbers are revised in this final-form rulemaking to apply to CWSs and NCWSs serving a population of 100 people or less. These revisions are made because a PWS, which includes a CWS and an NCWS, is defined in § 109.1 as a “system which provides water to the public for human consumption which has at least 15 service connections or regularly serves an average of at least 25 individuals daily at least 60 days out of the year.” In this Commonwealth, there are some PWSs that serve at least 15 service connections, but still serve a population of less than 25 people. Therefore, the population number is revised to account for those PWSs.

§ 109.1406. Permitting fees for bottled water and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems

Subsections (a) and (b) are revised in this final-form rulemaking to change the number of people in the population served for the smallest category of PWSs in the same manner as discussed in the revisions to § 109.1404 (relating to community and noncommunity water system permitting fees).

§ 109.1407. Feasibility study

This section is revised in this final-form rulemaking to change the number of people in the population served for the smallest category of PWSs in the same manner as discussed in the revisions to § 109.1404.

F. Benefits, Costs and Compliance

Benefits

One or more of these amendments will affect the 8,521 PWSs serving approximately 11.3 million people in this Commonwealth. The residents of this Commonwealth will benefit from: 1) the avoidance of a full range of adverse health effects from the consumption of contaminated drinking water such as acute and chronic illness, endemic and epidemic disease, waterborne disease outbreaks and death; 2) the continuity of a safe and adequate supply of potable water; and 3) the protection of public drinking water sources, which will result in maintaining the highest source water quality available, thereby minimizing drinking water treatment costs.

This final-form rulemaking will protect public health by providing increased protection from microbial pathogens and chemical contaminants in PWSs and strengthen system resiliency. Safe drinking water is vital to maintaining healthy and sustainable communities. Proactively avoiding incidents such as waterborne disease outbreaks can prevent loss of life, reduce the incidents of illness and reduce health care costs. Proper investment in PWS infrastructure and operations helps ensure a continuous supply of safe drinking water, enables communities to plan and build future capacity for economic growth, and ensures their long-term sustainability for years to come.

Source water assessment, protection and permitting requirements. The benefits of the source water assessment and protection program amendments are discussed in Section D under “amendments to source water assessment and protection programs.”

In addition to those benefits, the amendments regarding new sources of supply in § 109.503 more clearly define the requirements regarding the proper order of the permitting process for developing a new PWS source. These clarifications are needed to help insure that the proper level of treatment is designed and installed in a timely manner, thereby resulting in less delay for permitting a new source that may be needed to meet public health protection requirements, or provide redundancy in the event of contamination of existing sources. These amendments should result in cost savings due to the avoidance of expensive permitting mistakes.

West Virginia and Virginia, also in EPA Region III, require source water assessments for new sources. In Virginia, the goal is to have a source water assessment completed by Virginia drinking water program staff before the operations permit is issued. Under West Virginia’s new statute on source water protection, an assessment is included as part of a local source water protection plan and shall be completed by the water supplier prior to operation for a surface water source.

Regarding the development of local source water protection programs, Delaware and West Virginia have requirements for source water protection by statute. Under these amendments, the development of a local source water protection program will remain voluntary in this Commonwealth.

Turbidity and filtration requirements. Some of the amendments to the monitoring, calibration, recording and reporting requirements for the measurement of turbidity are more stringent than Federal requirements. These amendments will benefit more than 8 million people in this Commonwealth that are supplied water by PWSs using filtration technologies. These amendments are based on Department inspections and the evaluation of more than 1,250 filters through the FPPE program. These evaluations have documented that existing requirements are not sufficient to prevent turbidity spikes or the shedding of particles and microbial pathogens into the finished water, which puts consumers at risk of exposure to microbial pathogens. Costs related to waterborne disease outbreaks are discussed in Section D under “amendments to surface water treatment requirements.”

Existing § 109.301(1)(i) requires turbidity monitoring of the CFE once every 4 hours. This period of intermittent sample review allows the production of significant volumes of water that are not monitored for compliance with the maximum allowable turbidity limit. The amendments for CFE turbidity monitoring will require continuous monitoring and recording of the results every 15 minutes. This will also enable operators to identify problematic water quality trends and respond more quickly with necessary process control adjustments.

Health effects associated with microbial contaminants tend to be due to short-term, single dose exposure rather than long-term exposure. Therefore, if a short duration single turbidity exceedance of the existing maximum allowable turbidity limit occurs and goes unnoticed, consumers are at risk of exposure to microbial pathogens. By requiring continuous monitoring and recording of the results at least every 15 minutes for CFE at all filter plants, water suppliers will be better able to identify problems before an exceedance occurs and determine compliance with the maximum allowable turbidity limit at all times.

An additional revision will require all surface water filtration plants to implement a filter bed evaluation program that assesses the overall integrity of each filter to identify and correct problems before a turbidity exceedance or catastrophic filter failure occurs. Filters are the final barrier for removal of acute pathogens, and are therefore critical to public health protection. For many systems in this Commonwealth and across the United States, this infrastructure is aging, and the revision to require a physical inspection once per year is a necessary minimum preventative action item.

All of these filter plant performance provisions are part of a multibarrier approach to ensure treatment is adequate to provide safe and potable water to all users.

Thirty states responded to a survey conducted by the ASDWA on behalf of the Commonwealth. Twenty states require continuous turbidity monitoring and recording of CFE and 14 states require continuous IFE monitoring and recording for all filtration types.

Automatic alarms and shutdown capabilities. Filter plants are complex and dynamic. In response to many circumstances, the water plant operator shall take an immediate action to protect public health, such as when source water quality changes, chemical feed pumps malfunction, filters require backwashing or other unforeseen circumstances occur. Water plant operators are often required to perform other duties, which leave water plants unattended, and which limit operators' ability to respond immediately to treatment needs.

Automated alarms and shutdown capabilities play an important role in modern water treatment and public health protection. Many water suppliers have already taken advantage of readily available technology to reduce personnel costs while still providing safe water to their customers. The amendments will ensure that all surface water filtration plants have the minimum controls in place to ensure that operators are immediately alerted to major treatment problems. The amendments will also ensure that unmanned filter plants are automatically shut down when the plant is producing water that is not safe to drink, which prevents contaminated water from being provided to customers for extended periods of time. These alarms and shutdown capabilities will allow operators at attended and unattended filtration plants to promptly respond to the water quality problems and treatment needs of the plant. The automated plant shutdown is intended to prevent poor quality water from reaching customers, which will protect public health, reduce PWS costs related to corrective actions and issuing public notice, reduce costs to the community and maintain consumer confidence.

Based on an ASDWA survey, 12 states responded that they require filter plants to be attended at all times while in operation. Of the 12 states that require attended operation, 7 states have regulations that establish standards for plant automation, alarms and shutdowns. The Commonwealth's amendments are less stringent than 12 other states since attended operation is not being required. In addition, the amendments regarding plant automation, alarms and shutdown capabilities are less stringent than the standards from the Great Lakes—Upper Mississippi River Board of State and Provincial Public Health and Environmental Managers (10 States Standards). See Recommended Standards for Water Works (2012 Edition) Great Lakes—Upper Mississippi River Board of State and Provincial Public Health and Environmental Managers.

Filter-to-waste requirements. The Department's FPPE program has evaluated approximately 1,250 filters since 1999. The results of these evaluations show that filters are most likely to shed turbidity, particles and microbial organisms at the beginning of a filter run when the filter is first placed into service following filter backwash or maintenance, or both. The amendments will require all filter plants that have the ability to filter-to-waste to do so following filter backwash or maintenance, or both, and before placing the filter into service. Filtering to waste will reduce the likelihood of pathogens passing through filters and into the finished drinking water.

All 30 states responding to an ASDWA survey require some of their filter plants to filter-to-waste. This final-form rulemaking is not expected to negatively affect this Commonwealth because implementation is not expected to require any capital improvements.

Strengthen resiliency through auxiliary power or alternate provisions. The revisions to system service and auxiliary power requirements will strengthen system resiliency and ensure that safe and potable water is continuously supplied to consumers and businesses. A continuous and adequate supply of safe drinking water is vital to maintaining healthy and sustainable communities.

PWS sources and treatment facilities in this Commonwealth are susceptible to emergency situations resulting from natural and manmade disasters. Examples of emergencies from recent years include tropical storms, flooding, high winds, ice, snow, industrial chemical plant runoff, pipeline ruptures and transportation corridor spills. These emergencies have resulted in significant impacts to consumers and businesses due to inadequate water quantity or quality, and in water supply warnings and advisories. Examples of emergencies that have occurred in this Commonwealth and demonstrate the benefit of these amendments are provided in Section D under "revisions to system service and auxiliary power requirements."

New annual fees and amended permit fees. To improve Program performance, this final-form rulemaking will supplement Commonwealth costs for administering the Program by filling the funding gap. The fees will total approximately $7.5 million annually and will account for nearly 50% of the Program's Commonwealth funding. The fees will augment the Program funding currently coming from the General Fund ($7.7 million).

The annual fees range from $250 to $40,000 for CWSs, $50 to $1,000 for NCWSs and $1,000 to $2,500 for BVRBs. The fees will most likely be passed on to the 11.3 million customers of these PWSs as a user fee. Per person costs are expected to range from $0.35 to $10 per year, depending on the water system size.

Refer to Sections D and E for more information about the benefits and costs associated with the fees.

General permits. The amendments will establish the regulatory basis for the issuance of general permits for high volume, low risk modifications or activities to streamline the permitting process. General permits provide a cost-effective method for a PWS to obtain a permit and for the Department to regulate these activities.

Requirements for NCWSs. These amendments will clarify that NCWSs that are not required to obtain a permit shall still obtain Department approval of the facilities prior to construction and operation. The Department's public water supply well construction standards are measures that can prevent pollution from surface runoff and shallow aquifer zones that are above the source aquifer used for public water supply. Obtaining approval prior to constructing a source and associated water system facilities (such as treatment and storage) ensures the facility is planning and constructing a source and water system facilities that meet the Commonwealth's construction standards. This will avoid the costs for rehabilitating an improperly constructed source and avoid delays in obtaining approvals to operate the water system.

Address gaps in monitoring, reporting and tracking back-up sources. The amendments will address concerns related to gaps in the monitoring, reporting and tracking of back-up water sources and entry points. Per State regulations in §§ 109.301 and 109.303 and Federal regulations in 40 CFR 141.23(a), 141.24(f) and (h) and 141.26(a), all sources and entry points must be included in routine compliance monitoring to ensure water quality meets safe drinking water standards. Sources and entry points that do not provide water continuously are required to be monitored when used. However, monitoring requirements for back-up sources are not currently tracked, which means that verifiable controls are not in place to ensure that all sources and entry points meet safe drinking water standards. Some of these sources have not been used in 5 to 10 years and, therefore, the Department does not know the water quality for these sources. These concerns were most recently highlighted by the EPA's 2010 report. These amendments will ensure that all sources and entry points are monitored at least annually. PWSs will also be required to document in a comprehensive monitoring plan how routine compliance monitoring will include all sources and entry points.

The use of unmonitored sources and entry points could adversely impact basic water quality, including pH, alkalinity, turbidity, corrosivity and lead solubility, dissolved inorganic carbon and natural organic matter. Water suppliers may have limited information about how these sources or entry points will impact treatment efficacy and distribution system water quality. In addition, many sources may be offline due to poor water quality or MCL exceedances. The use of these back-up or emergency sources, without proper monitoring and verifiable controls, could lead to an increased risk to public health.

Treatment facilities and other appurtenances associated with these sources may also have gone unused and may no longer be in good working order. Back-up sources and entry points with unknown water quality or that are no longer in good working order provide a false sense of security in terms of system resiliency and emergency response. While the Department understands that many facilities are not used on a 24/7 basis, these amendments will ensure that all permitted sources and entry points are monitored at least annually, or when in use.

Compliance Costs

The general update provisions will increase public health protection and system resiliency. Safe drinking water is vital to maintaining healthy and sustainable communities. Proactively avoiding incidents such as waterborne disease outbreaks can prevent loss of life, reduce the incidents of illness and reduce health care costs. For example, it is estimated that the total cost of the May 2000 E. coli contamination incident in Walkerton, Ontario, was $64.5 million. Costs related to the 1993 waterborne outbreak of cryptosporidiosis in Milwaukee, WI, were $96.2 million. Waterborne disease outbreaks result in significant economic and health impacts and can have long-term impacts due to the loss of trust in PWSs.

Proper investment in PWS infrastructure and operations helps ensure a continuous supply of safe drinking water, enables communities to plan and build future capacity for economic growth, and ensures their long-term sustainability for years to come.

The fees are necessary to improve Program performance and will supplement Commonwealth costs for administering the Program. Program costs are directly tied to the resources needed to meet Federal and State mandates for minimum program elements and for the administration of an effective Program. Failure to meet minimum program elements may result in an increased risk to public health and the loss of primacy for the Program and associated Federal funding.

Source water protection and permitting requirements. Per the Department's records, approximately 30 new CWS sources are permitted each year. The Department estimates that an additional 8 hours of work completed for the CWS by a professional geologist will be needed to comply with the new source permitting amendments. This extra time will amount to approximately $1,176 per source permitted, based on current hourly rates charged by consulting firms.

Revisions to turbidity monitoring, recording and reporting requirements. Filter plants that need to install continuous monitoring and recording devices will need to spend about $3,000 to $4,000 per monitoring site (includes turbidimeter, controller and installation), with estimated annual costs for maintenance and calibration of $500 per plant. It is estimated that 21 filter plants will need to install this equipment on individual filters and 52 filter plants will need to install this equipment at their CFE monitoring sites.

• IFE and CFE monitoring costs. Costs have been derived from vendors of HACH brand turbidimeters, the most commonly used turbidimeter in this Commonwealth. If the water supplier prefers a different brand of equipment, the cost may change. Some per instrument cost savings may occur when multiple instruments are purchased. The following table, provided for illustrative purposes, shows costs related to installing and maintaining one HACH continuous monitoring and recording device:

White Light Turbidimeter (Analog) and Chart Recorder (Analog)
Items	Initial Cost for First Turbidimeter and Recorder	Estimated Annual Calibration and Maintenance Cost	Additional Turbidimeter and Recorder

Total (not including tax and shipping)	$11,395	$1,256 (1st year) $505 (subsequent year)	$10,395

- IFE monitoring. This Commonwealth has 353 filter plants, of which 263 are currently required to continuously monitor and record their IFE and already have instrumentation installed. The amendments will require the remaining 90 filter plants to comply with the IFE monitoring requirements of which 69 already have the needed instrumentation. Therefore, 21 filter plants will need to install 1 or more monitoring and recording devices. The majority of these 21 filter plants only have 2 filters. The estimated cost for a water supplier having two filters to install IFE monitoring and recording equipment is expected to be $10,165 for white light turbidimeters or $21,790 for laser turbidimeters. The annual maintenance cost for the monitoring and recording equipment on two filters is estimated to be $757 for the white light turbidimeters or $505 for laser turbidimeters. The cumulative cost for the installation of the IFE monitoring and recording equipment at all 21 filter plants is estimated to be $213,465 for white light turbidimeters or $457,590 for laser turbidimeters. The cumulative cost for maintaining the monitoring and recording equipment at all 21 filter plants is estimated to be $15,897 per year for white light turbidimeters and $10,605 per year for laser turbidimeters.

- CFE monitoring. The majority of filter plants in this Commonwealth already continuously monitor and record their CFE. The exact number of filtration plants without this capability is not known, but based on a review of 90 filtration plants, it is estimated to be 15% of the 353 filter plants in this Commonwealth. The estimated cost to install CFE monitoring and recording equipment is $5,627 per plant for white light turbidimeters and recorders or $11,395 per plant for laser turbidimeters and recorders. The annual maintenance cost for the monitoring and recording equipment is estimated to be $757 for the white light turbidimeters or $505 for laser turbidimeters. The cumulative cost for an estimated 52 filter plants to install continuous monitoring and recording equipment is estimated to be $292,604 for white light or $592,540 for laser turbidimeters. The cumulative cost for maintaining the monitoring and recording equipment at all 52 filter plants is estimated to be $39,364 per year for white light turbidimeters or $26,260 per year for laser turbidimeters.

Annual filter inspection program. Significant additional costs are not expected to be associated with implementation of a filter inspection program.

Filter-to-waste requirements. No expected costs are associated with the filtering to waste amendments.

Automatic alarms and shutdown capabilities. Depending on options chosen, systems may incur $8,860 to $11,980 per treatment plant with annual maintenance costs of $600. It is estimated that 317 of the 353 filter plants already meet these provisions and therefore will not incur any additional costs.

The following information is provided as example cost estimates related to adding automated alarm and shutdown capabilities at a small surface/GUDI water filtration plant. The costs include the monitor, controller and alarm dial-out system. It is assumed that the existing filtration plant will already have the chlorine residual analyzer, turbidity analyzer and clear-well level or other disinfection segment water level transmitter. These instruments are required to maintain compliance with existing regulations. An estimated cost for the equipment installation is provided. However, systems could save costs if they install the equipment using in-house staff or a local contract electrician.

The controller and monitor will include adjustable alarm set-points with time delay for a relay output which can be wired to the plant for shutdown of the filter system upon the following conditions: water levels needed to maintain adequate Giardia CT; high or low entry point chlorine residual; and high CFE turbidity.

The monitor and controller can be configured to send a pre-shutdown warning to allow operators the opportunity to go to the plant to try to resolve the problem before reaching the shutdown set-point. If the process value reaches the shutdown set-point, the filter plant shutdown command will occur and a shutdown alarm message will be sent to the plant operator by text message, e-mail or voice message.

If the facility already has an alarm dialer with capacity for three additional alarm inputs, the alarm dialer can be eliminated from the package. A deduction is shown for this on each equipment option. If the system is staffed continuously, then only alarm capabilities are necessary. This can be accomplished for a lower cost, or possibly no additional cost, depending on the capability of existing filter plant supervisory control and data acquisition equipment. The Department describes the types of monitor and alarm systems, with associated cost estimates, as follows.

Option A—Monitor/alarm system with standard dial-up phone line and phonetics alarm dialer

1) One alarm control device with analog inputs for EP chlorine residual, CFE and IFE turbidity, and water levels needed to maintain adequate Giardia CT.

2) One cellular alarm notification system with eight-channel alarm input with power supply and battery backup. A dial-up telephone line is not required. Provides text and e-mail alarm notification.

3) One system wiring diagram—custom wiring diagram for specific analyzer types in use at owner's site. Exact terminal numbers will be provided based on owner's equipment to allow installation by local electrical contractor.

4) Furnish onsite calibration, programming and alarm configuration for all equipment and provide full onsite testing for all equipment including alarm testing and dial-out for plant designated phone numbers or pager numbers, or both.

6) Four operation and maintenance manuals with complete instruction manuals for the system.

Total system price: $9,700

Delivery: 2-3 weeks (standard delivery)

Estimated installation cost: $2,000

The Department estimates that 10% of the 353 filter plants in this Commonwealth will need to install a controller. The cumulative installation cost for an estimated 35 filter plants to comply with automated alarms and shutdown capability is estimated to be between $380,100 and $419,300.

Strengthened system resiliency through auxiliary power or alternate provisions. All CWSs will be required to review their existing emergency response plan and equipment to complete a USSP, using the form provided by the Department, to provide a consistent supply of adequate quantity and quality of water during emergency situations. The Department estimates that 400 CWSs do not even have an updated emergency response plan. CWSs that do not have a functional generator or do not have existing capability to meet this requirement through the alternate provision options may need to purchase a generator. The generator should be adequately sized so that it can supply power to critical treatment components necessary to supply safe and potable water. Therefore, the cost of the generator will be proportional to the size of the system (in other words, less expensive for small systems). It is difficult to predict system specific costs because of the various options to comply with the revisions. Estimates for small systems are $3,000 to $4,000 for the installation of a transfer switch, generator and concrete pad. Small systems may also explore the lower cost option to rent a portable generator for the following costs: compact portable generator = $70/day (daily rental cost) or $35/day (weekly rental cost); mobile towable generator = $320/day (daily rental cost) or $140/day (weekly rental cost). Costs for medium and large systems could range from $50,000 to $200,000 per treatment plant. Not all systems will require auxiliary power. Some systems may already meet reliability criteria through storage or interconnections. Several Mid-Atlantic states have already moved forward with mandatory requirements for auxiliary power supply, including New Jersey, New York and Connecticut.

To accommodate the variety of system specific differences that shall be addressed, the Department has included the option to submit a schedule for necessary improvements which have not been completed by the compliance deadlines in § 109.708(a) for submittal of the USSP. More specifically, this new approach requires certification of completion of the USSP form provided by the Department by the deadlines in § 109.708(a). However, if the USSP identifies that deficiencies exist which prevent a continuous supply of safe and potable water as specified in § 109.708(a), and the community water supplier has not addressed those deficiencies by the deadline for USSP submittal, a schedule will need to be submitted within 6 months which includes detailed corrective actions and corresponding completion dates. These significant revisions will help enable the cost for compliance with these provisions to be spread out over a longer period of time. Additionally, these revisions will provide water suppliers with even more flexibility in choosing the approach that best suits their particular water system, and adequate time to implement that plan in the most effective manner.

An estimated 30% of small systems (<3,300) or 485 systems may need to use rental services for a portable generator or install a back-up power supply. Assuming that 50% of the small systems will rent a generator and 50% will install their own equipment, the cumulative cost is estimated to be $1,115,620. The estimate for medium and large systems is that 20% or 65 systems may need to install a back-up power supply at a cumulative cost of $8.125 million. Between proposed and final-form rulemaking, the Department expanded the combination of alternate provisions systems may use and included more flexibility to potentially spread the cost of compliance over a longer time period. Therefore, the cost estimates have been spread out over an anticipated 5-year period.

Refer to the Regulatory Analysis Form for this final-form rulemaking for more information about estimated costs and savings.

Cost savings of avoiding interruption of continuous supply of safe and potable water were evaluated using the Water Health and Economic Analysis Tool software developed by the EPA. The Department ran the model for a scenario of a water system serving 2,500 customers and experiencing a water outage for 2 days. The model outcomes regarding economic consequences are summarized as follows:

- The value of water sales that would have occurred if there was not a disruption in water service is estimated to be $2,891.
- The value of additional operating costs incurred during the event, which may include bottled/replacement water, equipment, other remediation or miscellaneous costs is estimated at $24,775.
- Total economic impact on the water utility due to the 2-day outage (sum of the previous losses) is estimated at $27,666.
- Regional economic consequences for this same event are estimated at $926,486. This is the total value of economic activity lost among businesses directly affected by the water service disruption due to the contraction in business activity during the 2-day event.

If the water utility complies with the revisions, the potential cost savings for this 2-day outage, offsetting the costs to install additional auxiliary power, emergency interconnections with neighboring water systems or finished water storage, or both, were previously summarized. These costs would increase with each additional day that the water outage continues.

Additional costs savings to water systems and customers will be the prevention of dewatering of the distribution system piping and protection from damage to collapsed water lines (due to lack of ability to provide adequate quantity water to maintain positive pressure).

An estimated 250 BWAs occur each year and 25% or 63 BWAs are caused by water supply disruptions. The total annual cost savings to the regulated water systems is estimated at $1,742,958. However, the regional economic cost savings to businesses is estimated at more than $58 million. These cost savings will off-set the costs of improving system resiliency.

Compliance Assistance Plan

The Program uses the Commonwealth's Pennsylvania Infrastructure Investment Authority Program to offer financial assistance to eligible PWSs. This assistance is in the form of a low-interest loan, with some augmenting grant funds for hardship cases. Eligibility is based upon factors such as public health impact, compliance necessity, project affordability and operational affordability.

The Program has established a network of regional office and Central Office training staff that is responsive to identifiable training needs. The target audience in need of training may be either program staff or the regulated community.

In addition to this network of training staff, the Bureau of Safe Drinking Water has staff dedicated to providing training and outreach support services to PWS operators. The Department's web site also provides timely and useful information for treatment plant operators.

Paperwork Requirements

Paperwork requirements include:

- Updating a source water assessment report when a CWS's annual evaluation identifies changes to actual or potential sources of contamination.
- Reporting a failure of alarm or shutdown equipment.
- Developing and maintaining a distribution map for NCWSs.
- Developing and maintaining a comprehensive monitoring plan.
- For CWSs, completing the USSP form provided by the Department, which provides a form field template for a plan, and incorporating this completed plan into their existing emergency response plans. Water suppliers will also need to submit the accompanying USSP certification form to verify they have completed a USSP, and that it is available upon Department request.
- For CWSs which have identified deficiencies in their ability to provide uninterrupted system service, but have not corrected these deficiencies by the deadlines specified in § 109.708(a) submitting a detailed corrective action plan and corresponding schedule.

G. Sunset Review

The Board is not establishing a sunset date for these regulations since they are needed for the Department to carry out its statutory authority. The Department will continue to closely monitor these regulations for their effectiveness and recommend updates to the Board as necessary. Under this final-form rulemaking, the Department will evaluate the fees every 3 years and recommend amendments to address any disparity between Program income generated by the fees and the Department's cost of administering the Program.

H. Regulatory Review

Under section 5(a) of the Regulatory Review Act, on August 9, 2017, the Department submitted a copy of the notice of proposed rulemaking, published at 47 Pa.B. 4986, to IRRC and the Chairpersons of the House and Senate Environmental Resources and Energy Committees for review and comment.

- (a) This subchapter and Subchapters H and N (relating to laboratory certification; and drinking water fees) apply to all public water systems.
- (b) Subchapters B—G and I apply to public water systems, except bottled water and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems, unless provisions in those Subchapters are specifically referenced in Subchapter J (relating to bottled water and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems).
- (c) Subchapter J applies exclusively to bottled water and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems.
- (d) Subchapter K (relating to lead and copper) applies to community and nontransient noncommunity water systems.
- (e) Subchapter L (relating to the long-term 2 enhanced surface water treatment rule) applies to all public water systems using surface water or GUDI sources.
- (f) Subchapter M (relating to additional requirements for groundwater sources) applies to all public water systems that use groundwater, excluding those systems that combine all of their groundwater with surface water or with groundwater under the direct influence of surface water prior to treatment under § 109.202(c)(1) (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements).

Subchapter B. MCLs, MRDLs OR TREATMENT TECHNIQUE REQUIREMENTS

§ 109.202. State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements.

(a) Primary MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements.

(1) A public water system shall supply drinking water that complies with the primary MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements adopted by the EQB under the act.

(2) This subchapter incorporates by reference the primary MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements in the National Primary Drinking Water Regulations in 40 CFR Part 141 (relating to National Primary Drinking Water Regulations) as State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements under authority of section 4 of the act (35 P.S. § 721.4), unless other MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements are established by regulations of the Department. The primary MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements which are incorporated by reference are effective on the date established by the Federal regulations.

(3) A public water system that is installing granular activated carbon or membrane technology to comply with the MCL for THMs, HAA5, chlorite (where applicable) or bromate (where applicable) may apply to the Department for an extension of up to 24 months past the applicable compliance date specified in the Federal regulations, but not beyond December 31, 2003. In granting the extension, the Department will set a schedule for compliance and may specify any interim measures that the Department deems necessary. Failure to meet the schedule or interim treatment requirements constitutes a violation of National Primary Drinking Water Regulations.

(b) Secondary MCLs.

(1) A public water system shall supply drinking water that complies with the secondary MCLs adopted by the EQB under the act, except for the MCL for pH which represents a reasonable goal for drinking water quality.

(2) This subchapter incorporates by reference the secondary MCLs established by the EPA in the National Secondary Drinking Water Regulations, 40 CFR 143.3 (relating to secondary maximum contaminant levels), as of January 30, 1991, as State MCLs, under the authority of section 4 of the act, unless other MCLs are established by regulations of the Department. The secondary MCL for copper is not incorporated by reference.

(3) A secondary MCL for aluminum of 0.2 mg/L is adopted as a State MCL.

(c) Treatment technique requirements for pathogenic bacteria, viruses and protozoan cysts. A public water system shall provide adequate treatment to reliably protect users from the adverse health effects of microbiological contaminants, including pathogenic bacteria, viruses and protozoan cysts. The number and type of treatment barriers and the efficacy of treatment provided shall be commensurate with the type, degree and likelihood of contamination in the source water.

(1) A public water supplier shall provide, as a minimum, continuous filtration and disinfection for surface water and GUDI sources. The treatment technique must provide at least 99.9% removal and inactivation of Giardia lamblia cysts, and at least 99.99% removal and inactivation of enteric viruses. Beginning January 1, 2002, public water suppliers serving 10,000 or more people shall provide at least 99% removal of Cryptosporidium oocysts. Beginning January 1, 2005, public water suppliers serving fewer than 10,000 people shall provide at least 99% removal of Cryptosporidium oocysts. The Department, depending on source water quality conditions, may require additional treatment as necessary to meet the requirements of this chapter and to protect the public health.

(i) The filtration process shall meet the following performance requirements:

(A) Conventional or direct filtration.

(I) The filtered water turbidity shall be less than or equal to .5 NTU in 95% of the measurements taken each month under § 109.301(1) (relating to general monitoring requirements).

(II) The filtered water turbidity shall be less than or equal to 2.0 NTU at all times, measured under § 109.301(1).

(III) Beginning January 1, 2002, for public water systems serving 10,000 or more persons, the filtered water turbidity shall meet the following criteria:

(-a-) Be less than or equal to 0.3 NTU in at least 95% of the measurements taken each month under § 109.301(1).

(-b-) Be less than or equal to 1 NTU at all times, measured under § 109.301(1).

(IV) Beginning January 1, 2005, for public water systems serving fewer than 10,000 persons, the filtered water turbidity shall meet the following criteria:

(-a-) Be less than or equal to 0.3 NTU in at least 95% of the measurements taken each month under § 109.301(1).

(-b-) Be less than or equal to 1 NTU at all times, measured under § 109.301(1).

(B) Slow sand or diatomaceous earth filtration.

(I) The filtered water turbidity shall be less than or equal to 1.0 NTU in 95% of the measurements taken each month under § 109.301(1).

(II) The filtered water turbidity shall be less than or equal to 2.0 NTU at all times, measured under § 109.301(1).

(C) Membrane filtration.

(I) Beginning August 20, 2019, for all public water systems, the filtered water turbidity must be less than or equal to 0.15 NTU in at least 95% of the measurements taken each month under § 109.301(1).

(II) Beginning August 20, 2019, for all public water systems, the filtered water turbidity must be less than or equal to 1 NTU at all times, measured under § 109.301(1).

(D) Other filtration technologies. The same performance criteria as those given for conventional filtration and direct filtration in clause (A) shall be achieved unless the Department specifies more stringent performance criteria based upon onsite studies, including pilot plant studies, where appropriate.

(ii) The combined total effect of disinfection processes utilized in a filtration plant shall:

(A) Achieve at least 1.0-log inactivation of Giardia cysts and 3.0-log inactivation of viruses as demonstrated by measurements taken under § 109.301(1). Failure to maintain the minimum log inactivation for more than 4 hours of operation constitutes a breakdown in treatment.

(B) Provide a minimum residual disinfectant concentration of 0.20 mg/L at the entry point as demonstrated by measurements taken under § 109.301(1). Failure to maintain the minimum entry point residual disinfectant concentration for more than 4 hours of operation is a treatment technique violation.

(iii) For an unfiltered surface water source permitted for use prior to March 25, 1989, the public water supplier shall:

(A) Maintain a minimum residual disinfectant concentration in the water delivered to the distribution system prior to the first customer of 2.5 mg/L expressed as free chlorine or its equivalent as approved by the Department. The residual disinfectant concentration shall be demonstrated by measurements taken under § 109.301(2).

(I) For a system using disinfectants other than free chlorine, the water supplier shall maintain:

(-a-) A minimum concentration that provides, in terms of CTs achieved, a level of protection equivalent to that provided by 2.5 mg/L free chlorine, as determined by the available contact time between the point of application and the first customer, under peak flow conditions.

(-b-) At least .2 mg/L of disinfectant in the water delivered to the distribution system prior to the first customer.

(II) For a system with extended contact times, generally 60 minutes or more, between the point of application and the first customer, the Department may allow the water supplier to maintain a disinfectant residual concentration less than 2.5 mg/L free chlorine or its equivalent if the CTs established by the EPA are achieved.

(B) Provide continuous filtration and disinfection in accordance with this paragraph according to the following schedule:

(I) By December 31, 1991, for a public water system that, prior to March 25, 1989, had a waterborne disease outbreak or Giardia contamination in its surface water source.

(II) Within 48 months after the discovery of one of the following conditions, or by December 31, 1995, whichever is earlier, for a public water system that experiences the condition after March 25, 1989:

- (-a-) A waterborne disease outbreak.
- (-b-) Giardia contamination in its surface water source.
- (-c-) A violation of the microbiological MCL, the turbidity MCL or the monitoring or reporting requirements for the microbiological MCL.
- (-d-) A violation of the source microbiological or turbidity monitoring requirements under § 109.301(2)(i) or the related reporting requirements.
- (-e-) The source water fecal coliform concentration exceeds 20/100 ml or the total coliform concentration exceeds 100/100 ml in a source water sample collected under § 109.301(2).

(-f-) The source water turbidity level exceeds 5.0 NTU in a sample collected under § 109.301(2).

(-g-) The system fails to maintain a continuous residual disinfectant concentration as required under this subparagraph.

(III) By December 31, 1995, for other public water systems not covered by subclause (I) or (II).

§ 109.204. Disinfection profiling and benchmarking.

(a) The disinfection profiling and benchmarking requirements, established by the EPA under the National Primary Drinking Water Regulations in 40 CFR 141.172, 141.530—141.536, 141.540—141.544, 141.570(c) and (d), 141.708 and 141.709 are incorporated by reference except as otherwise established by this chapter.

(b) Public water suppliers that did not conduct TTHM and HAA5 monitoring under this section because they served fewer than 10,000 persons when the monitoring was required, but serve 10,000 or more persons before January 1, 2005, shall comply with this section. These suppliers shall also establish a disinfection benchmark.

(c) The public water supplier shall conduct disinfection profiling in accordance with the procedures and methods in the most current edition of the Disinfection Profiling and Benchmarking Guidance Manual published by the EPA. The results of the disinfection profiling and the benchmark, including raw data and analysis, shall be retained indefinitely on the water system premises or at a convenient location near the premises. Public water suppliers serving 10,000 or more persons and required to conduct disinfection profiling shall submit the disinfection profiling data and the benchmark data to the Department by June 1, 2001, in a format acceptable to the Department. Public water suppliers serving 500 to 9,999 persons shall submit the disinfection profiling data and the benchmark to the Department by October 1, 2004. Public water suppliers serving less than 500 persons shall submit the disinfection profiling data and the benchmark to the Department by April 1, 2005, in a format acceptable to the Department.

(d) A public water supplier that obtains a permit or permit modification for filtration treatment for a surface water or GUDI source after August 18, 2018, shall submit documentation with the permit application relative to operational parameters which will be used to maintain Giardia lamblia inactivation throughout the expected range of operating conditions.

(e) A public water supplier using surface water or GUDI sources shall consult with the Department before making a significant change to its disinfection practice or operating treatment processes in a manner that may result in an inactivation level that is lower than the level needed to meet the Giardia lamblia inactivation requirements specified in § 109.202(c)(1)(ii) (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements). As part of the consultation, the water supplier shall submit the following information to the Department:

- (1) A completed disinfection profile and disinfection benchmark for Giardia lamblia and viruses.
- (2) A description of the proposed change.
- (3) An analysis of how the proposed change will affect the current level of disinfection.

Subchapter C. MONITORING REQUIREMENTS§ 109.301. General monitoring requirements.

Public water suppliers shall monitor for compliance with MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements in accordance with the requirements established by the EPA under the National Primary Drinking Water Regulations, 40 CFR Part 141 (relating to National Primary Drinking Water Regulations), except as otherwise established by this chapter unless increased monitoring is required by the Department under § 109.302 (relating to special monitoring requirements). Alternative monitoring requirements may be established by the Department and may be implemented in lieu of monitoring requirements for a particular National Primary Drinking Water Regulation if the alternative monitoring requirements are in conformance with the Federal act and regulations. The monitoring requirements shall be applied as follows:

(1) Performance monitoring for filtration and disinfection. A public water supplier providing filtration and disinfection of surface water or GUDI sources shall conduct the following performance monitoring requirements, unless increased monitoring is required by the Department under § 109.302.

(i) Except as provided under subparagraph (ii), a public water supplier:

(A) Shall determine and record the turbidity level of representative samples of the system's filtered water as follows until August 19, 2019:

(I) For systems that operate continuously, at least once every 4 hours that the system is in operation, except as provided in clause (B).

(II) For systems that do not operate continuously, at start-up, at least once every 4 hours that the system is in operation, and also prior to shutting down the plant, except as provided in clause (B).

(B) May substitute continuous turbidity monitoring and recording for grab sample monitoring and manual recording until August 19, 2019, if it validates the continuous measurement for accuracy on a regular basis using a procedure specified by the manufacturer. At a minimum, calibration with an EPA-approved primary standard shall be conducted at least quarterly. For systems using slow sand filtration or filtration treatment other than conventional filtration, direct filtration or diatomaceous earth filtration, the Department may reduce the sampling frequency to once per day.

(C) Shall continuously monitor the turbidity level of the combined filter effluent beginning August 20, 2019, using an analytical method specified in 40 CFR 141.74(a) (relating to analytical and monitoring requirements) and record the results at least every 15 minutes while the plant is operating. For systems that do not operate continuously, the turbidity level shall also be measured and recorded at start-up and immediately prior to shutting down the plant.

(D) Shall continuously monitor and record the residual disinfectant concentration of the water being supplied to the distribution system and record both the lowest value for each day and the number of periods each day when the value is less than 0.20 mg/L for more than 4 hours. If a public water system's continuous monitoring or recording equipment fails, the public water supplier may, upon notification of the Department under § 109.701(a)(3) (relating to reporting and recordkeeping), substitute grab sampling or manual recording every 4 hours in lieu of continuous monitoring. Grab sampling or manual recording may not be substituted for continuous monitoring or recording for longer than 5 working days after the equipment fails.

(E) Until April 28, 2019, shall measure and record the residual disinfectant concentration at representative points in the distribution system no less frequently than the frequency required for total coliform sampling for compliance with the MCL for microbiological contaminants.

(F) Beginning April 29, 2019, shall measure and record the residual disinfectant concentration at representative points in the distribution system in accordance with a sample siting plan as specified in § 109.701(a)(8) and as follows:

(I) A public water supplier shall monitor the residual disinfectant concentration at the same time and from the same location that a total coliform sample is collected as specified in paragraph (3)(i) and (ii). Measurements taken under this subclause may be used to meet the requirements under subclause (II).

(II) A public water supplier shall monitor the residual disinfectant concentration at representative locations in the distribution system at least once per week.

(III) A public water supplier that does not maintain the minimum residual disinfectant concentration specified in § 109.710 (relating to disinfectant residual in the distribution system) at one or more sample sites shall include those sample sites in the monitoring conducted the following month.

(IV) Compliance with the minimum residual disinfectant concentration shall be determined in accordance with § 109.710.

(V) A public water system may substitute online residual disinfectant concentration monitoring and recording for grab sample monitoring and manual recording if it validates the online measurement for accuracy in accordance with § 109.304 (relating to analytical requirements).

(ii) Until August 19, 2019, for a public water supplier serving fewer than 500 people, the Department may reduce the filtered water turbidity monitoring to one grab sample per day, if the historical performance and operation of the system indicate effective turbidity removal is maintained under the range of conditions expected to occur in the system's source water.

(iii) A public water supplier providing conventional filtration treatment or direct filtration and serving 10,000 or more people and using surface water or GUDI sources shall, beginning January 1, 2002, conduct continuous monitoring of turbidity for each individual filter using an approved method under the EPA regulation in 40 CFR 141.74(a) and record the results at least every 15 minutes. Beginning January 1, 2005, public water suppliers providing conventional or direct filtration and serving fewer than 10,000 people and using surface water or GUDI sources shall conduct continuous monitoring of turbidity for each individual filter using an approved method under the EPA regulation in 40 CFR 141.74(a) and record the results at least every 15 minutes. Beginning August 20, 2019, a public water supplier using surface water or GUDI sources and providing filtration treatment other than conventional or direct filtration shall conduct continuous monitoring of turbidity for each individual filter using an approved method under 40 CFR 141.74(a) and record the results at least every 15 minutes.

(iv) In addition to the requirements of subparagraphs (i)–(iii), a public water supplier shall conduct grab sampling or manual recording, or both, every 4 hours in lieu of continuous monitoring or recording if there is a failure in the continuous monitoring or recording equipment, or both. The public water supplier shall notify the Department within 24 hours of the equipment failure. Grab sampling or manual recording may not be substituted for continuous monitoring for longer than 5 working days after the equipment fails. The Department will consider case-by-case extensions of the time frame to comply if the water supplier provides written documentation that it was unable to repair or replace the malfunctioning equipment within 5 working days due to circumstances beyond its control.

(v) A public water supplier shall calculate the log inactivation of Giardia, using measurement methods established by the EPA, at least once per day during expected peak hourly flow. The log inactivation for Giardia shall also be calculated whenever the residual disinfectant concentration at the entry point falls below the minimum value specified in § 109.202(c) (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements) and continue to be calculated every 4 hours until the residual disinfectant concentration at the entry point is at or above the minimum value specified in § 109.202(c). Records of log inactivation calculations must be reported to the Department in accordance with § 109.701(a)(2).

(vi) In addition to the requirements specified in subparagraph (v), a public water supplier that uses a disinfectant other than chlorine to achieve log inactivation shall calculate the log inactivation of viruses at least once per day during expected peak hourly flow. The log inactivation for viruses shall also be calculated whenever the residual disinfectant concentration at the entry point falls below the minimum value specified in § 109.202(c) and continue to be calculated every 4 hours until the residual disinfectant concentration at the entry point is at or above the minimum value specified in § 109.202(c). Records of log inactivation calculations shall be reported to the Department in accordance with § 109.701(a).

(2) Performance monitoring for unfiltered surface water and GUDI. A public water supplier using unfiltered surface water or GUDI sources shall conduct the following source water and performance monitoring requirements on an interim basis until filtration is provided, unless increased monitoring is required by the Department under § 109.302:

(i) Except as provided under subparagraphs (ii) and (iii), a public water supplier:

(A) Shall perform E. coli or total coliform density determinations on samples of the source water immediately prior to disinfection. Regardless of source water turbidity, the minimum frequency of sampling for total coliform or E. coli determinations may be no less than the following:

System Size (People)	Samples / Week
<500	1
500–3,299	2
3,300–10,000	3
10,001–25,000	4
25,001 or more	5

(B) Shall measure the turbidity of a representative grab sample of the source water immediately prior to disinfection as follows until August 19, 2019:

(I) For systems that operate continuously, at least once every 4 hours that the system is in operation, except as provided in clause (C).

(II) For systems that do not operate continuously, at start-up, at least once every 4 hours that the system is in operation, and also prior to shutting down the plant, except as provided in clause (C).

(C) May substitute continuous turbidity monitoring for grab sample monitoring until August 19, 2019, if it validates the continuous measurement for accuracy on a regular basis using a procedure specified by the manufacturer. At a minimum, calibration with an EPA-approved primary standard shall be conducted at least quarterly.

(D) Shall continuously monitor and record the turbidity of the source water immediately prior to disinfection beginning August 20, 2019, using an analytical method specified in 40 CFR 141.74(a) and record the results at least every 15 minutes while the source is operating. If there is a failure in the continuous turbidity monitoring or recording equipment, or both, the supplier shall conduct grab sampling or manual recording, or both, every 4 hours in lieu of continuous monitoring or recording. The public water supplier shall notify the Department within 24 hours of the equipment failure. Grab sampling or manual recording may not be substituted for continuous monitoring for longer than 5 working days after the equipment fails. The Department will consider case-by-case extensions of the time frame to comply if the water supplier provides written documentation that it was unable to repair or replace the malfunctioning equipment within 5 working days due to circumstances beyond its control.

(E) Shall continuously monitor and record the residual disinfectant concentration required under § 109.202(c)(1)(iii) of the water being supplied to the distribution system and record the lowest value for each day. If a public water system’s continuous monitoring or recording equipment fails, the public water supplier may, upon notification of the Department under § 109.701(a)(3), substitute grab sampling or manual recording, or both, every 4 hours in lieu of continuous monitoring. Grab sampling or manual recording may not be substituted for continuous monitoring for longer than 5 days after the equipment fails.

(F) Until April 28, 2019, shall measure the residual disinfectant concentration at representative points in the distribution system no less frequently than the frequency required for total coliform sampling for compliance with the MCL for microbiological contaminants.

(G) Beginning April 29, 2019, shall measure and record the residual disinfectant concentration at representative points in the distribution system in accordance with a sample siting plan as specified in § 109.701(a)(8) and as follows:

(I) A public water supplier shall monitor the residual disinfectant concentration at the same time and from the same location that a total coliform sample is collected as specified in paragraph (3)(i) and (ii). Measurements taken under this subclause may be used to meet the requirements under subclause (II).

(II) A public water supplier shall monitor the residual disinfectant concentration at representative locations in the distribution system at least once per week.

(III) A public water supplier that does not maintain the minimum residual disinfectant concentration specified in § 109.710 at one or more sample sites shall include those sample sites in the monitoring conducted the following month.

(IV) Compliance with the minimum residual disinfectant concentration shall be determined in accordance with § 109.710.

(V) A public water system may substitute online residual disinfectant concentration monitoring and recording for grab sample monitoring and manual recording if it validates the online measurement for accuracy in accordance with § 109.304.

(ii) Until August 19, 2019, for a public water supplier serving 3,300 or fewer people, the Department may reduce the residual disinfectant concentration monitoring for the water being supplied to the distribution system to a minimum of 2 hours between samples at the grab sampling frequencies prescribed as follows if the historical performance and operation of the system indicate the system can meet the residual disinfectant concentration at all times:

System Size (People)	Samples/Day
<500	1
500—1,000	2
1,001—2,500	3
2,501—3,300	4

If the Department reduces the monitoring, the supplier shall nevertheless collect and analyze another residual disinfectant measurement as soon as possible, but no longer than 4 hours from any measurement which is less than the residual disinfectant concentration approved under § 109.202(c)(1)(iii).

(iii) Until August 19, 2019, for a public water supplier serving fewer than 500 people, the Department may reduce the source water turbidity monitoring to one grab sample per day, if the historical performance and operation of the system indicate effective disinfection is maintained under the range of conditions expected to occur in the system's source water.

(11) Monitoring requirements for entry points that do not provide water continuously. Entry points from which water is not provided during every quarter of the year shall monitor in accordance with paragraphs (5)—(7) and (14), except that monitoring is not required during a quarter when water is not provided to the public, unless special monitoring is required by the Department under § 109.302.

(12) Monitoring requirements for disinfection byproducts and disinfection byproduct precursors. Community water systems and nontransient noncommunity water systems that use a chemical disinfectant or oxidant shall monitor for disinfection byproducts and disinfection byproduct precursors in accordance with this paragraph. Community water systems and nontransient noncommunity water systems that obtain finished water from another public water system that uses a chemical disinfectant or oxidant to treat the finished water shall monitor for TTHM and HAA5 in accordance with this paragraph. Systems that use either surface water or GUDI sources and that serve at least 10,000 persons shall begin monitoring by January 1, 2002. Systems that use either surface water or GUDI sources and that serve fewer than 10,000 persons, or systems that use ground-water sources, shall begin monitoring by January 1, 2004. Systems monitoring for disinfection byproducts and disinfection byproduct precursors shall take all samples during normal operating conditions. Systems monitoring for disinfection byproducts and disinfection byproduct precursors shall use only data collected under this chapter to qualify for reduced monitoring. Compliance with the MCLs and monitoring requirements for TTHM, HAA5, chlorite (where applicable) and bromate (where applicable) shall be determined in accordance with 40 CFR 141.132 and 141.133 (relating to monitoring requirements; and compliance requirements) which are incorporated herein by reference.

* * * * *

(14) Monitoring requirements for radionuclides. Community water systems shall monitor for compliance with the MCLs for radionuclides established by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.66(b), (c), (d) and (e) (relating to maximum contaminant levels for radionuclides). The monitoring shall be conducted according to the requirements established by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.25 and 141.26 (relating to analytical methods for radioactivity; and monitoring frequency and compliance requirements for radionuclides in community water systems) which are incorporated by reference, except as modified by this chapter. Initial or first-year monitoring mentioned in this paragraph refers to monitoring conducted on or after January 1, 2005.

* * * * *

(iii) General monitoring and compliance requirements.

(A) The Department may require more frequent sampling than specified in subparagraphs (i) and (ii), or may require confirmation samples. The results of the initial and confirmation samples will be averaged for use in compliance determinations.

(B) Each system shall monitor at the time designated by the Department during each compliance period.

(C) Compliance with the MCLs will be determined based on the analytical results obtained at each entry point. If one entry point is in violation of an MCL, the system is in violation of the MCL.

(I) For systems monitoring more than once per year, compliance with the MCL is determined by a running annual average at each entry point. If the running annual average at an entry point is greater than the MCL, the system is in violation of the MCL. If a sample result will cause the running annual average to exceed the MCL at an entry point, the system is in violation of the MCL immediately.

(II) Systems shall include all samples taken and analyzed under this section in determining compliance, even if that number is greater than the minimum required.

(III) If a system does not collect all required samples when compliance is based on a running annual average of quarterly samples, compliance will be based on the running average of the samples collected.

(IV) If a sample result is less than the detection limit, zero will be used to calculate the annual average, unless a gross alpha particle activity is being used in lieu of radium-226 or uranium, or both. If the gross alpha particle activity result is less than detection, one-half of the detection limit will be used to calculate the annual average.

(D) The Department may delete results of obvious sampling or analytic errors.

(15) Monitoring requirements for reserve entry points and entry points supplied by one or more reserve sources. Beginning August 19, 2019, a water supplier using reserve sources or reserve entry points as defined and identified in the comprehensive monitoring plan in § 109.718(a) (relating to comprehensive monitoring plan) shall:

(i) Monitor reserve entry points at the initial frequencies specified in paragraphs (5)—(7) and (14).

(ii) Monitor permanent entry points at the initial frequencies specified in paragraphs (5)—(7) and (14) while the entry point is receiving water from a reserve source.

(iii) Conduct special monitoring as required by the Department under § 109.302.

§ 109.302. Special monitoring requirements.

(a) The Department may require a public water supplier to conduct monitoring in addition to that required under § 109.301 (relating to general monitoring requirements) if the Department has reason to believe the public water system is not in compliance with the action level, MCL, MRDL or treatment technique requirement for the contaminant.

(b) The Department may require a public water supplier to conduct additional monitoring to provide information on contamination of the water supply where a potential health hazard may exist in the water supply and monitoring required under § 109.301 may not be adequate to protect the public health.

(c) The Department may require a public water supplier to conduct special monitoring for an unregulated contaminant if the Department has reason to believe the contaminant is present in the public water system and creates a health risk to the users of the public water system.

(d) The Department will provide a schedule for sampling, instructions for sampling methods and handling samples, and analytical procedures to be followed by public water systems required to perform special monitoring.

(e) The Department may designate special monitoring requirements on a case-by-case basis for experimental facilities.

(f) To enable the Department to determine if a public water supplier is using a source directly influenced by surface water, the Department may require a public water supplier to conduct monitoring to evaluate the direct influence of surface water upon the source of supply. Monitoring shall be conducted for at least 6 months to include both the wet and dry periods of the year. Samples shall be taken from the collection facilities and measurements shall include the following:

(1) Daily field measurement of temperature, pH, specific conductance and turbidity.

(2) Daily measurement of water level, or flow, and precipitation necessary to establish climatic conditions.

(3) Weekly measurements for total coliform.

(4) Other measurements as required by the Department to evaluate the direct influence of surface water upon the source of supply.

(g) The Department may reduce or eliminate the monitoring required under subsection (f) if the public water supplier demonstrates and the Department determines that the source of supply is not directly influenced by surface water.

§ 109.303. Sampling requirements.

(a) The samples taken to determine a public water system's compliance with MCLs, MRDLs or treatment technique requirements or to determine compliance with monitoring requirements shall be taken at the locations identified in §§ 109.301, 109.302, 109.1003, 109.1103, 109.1202 and 109.1303 and as follows:

(1) Samples for determining compliance with the turbidity MCL shall be taken at each entry point associated with a surface water source that the Department has determined shall be filtered.

(2) Samples for determining compliance with the E. coli MCL under § 109.202(a)(2) (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements) and for determining whether an assessment is triggered under § 109.202(c)(4) shall be taken at regular intervals throughout the monitoring period at sites which are representative of water throughout the distribution system according to a written sample siting plan as specified under § 109.701(a)(5) (relating to reporting and recordkeeping). Representative locations include, but are not limited to, the following:

(i) Dead ends.

(ii) First service connection.

(iii) Finished water storage facilities.

(iv) Interconnections with other public water systems.

(v) Areas of high water age.

(vi) Areas with previous coliform detections.

(3) Samples for determining compliance with the fluoride MCL shall be taken at each entry point.

(4) Samples for determining compliance with MCLs for organic contaminants listed by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.61 (relating to maximum contaminant levels for organic contaminants), inorganic contaminants listed by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.62 (relating to maximum contaminant levels for inorganic contaminants), radionuclide contaminants listed by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.66 (relating to maximum contaminant levels for radionuclides) and with the special monitoring requirements for unregulated contaminants under § 109.302(f) (relating to special monitoring requirements) shall be taken at each entry point to the distribution system which is representative of each source after an application of treatment during periods of normal operating conditions. If a system draws water from more than one source and the sources are combined prior to distribution, the system shall sample at the entry point during periods of normal operating conditions when water is representative of all sources being used.

(5) Asbestos sampling points shall be at the distribution tap where asbestos contamination is expected to be the greatest based on the presence of asbestos cement pipe and lack of optimum corrosion control treatment, and at the entry point for each source which the Department has reason to believe may contain asbestos, except that a collected distribution sample which is representative of a source may be substituted for a required entry point sample.

(b) The samples taken to determine a public water system's compliance with treatment technique and performance monitoring requirements shall be taken at a point that is as close as practicable to each treatment technique process and that is not influenced by subsequent treatment processes or appurtenances.

(c) Public water suppliers shall assure that samples for laboratory analysis are properly collected and preserved, are collected in proper containers, do not exceed maximum holding times between collection and analysis and are handled in accordance with guidelines governing quality control which may be established by the Department. A public water supplier who utilizes an accredited laboratory for sample collection as well as analysis satisfies the requirements of this subsection.

(d) Compliance monitoring samples for the VOCs listed under 40 CFR 141.61(a) shall be collected by a person properly trained by a laboratory accredited by the Department to conduct VOC or vinyl chloride analysis.

(e) Compliance monitoring samples for the contaminants listed under 40 CFR 141.40(a), 141.61(a) and (c), 141.62 and 141.88 may be composited in accordance with 40 CFR 141.23(a)(4), 141.24(f)(14) and (h)(10) and 141.88(a)(1)(iv) (relating to inorganic chemical sampling and analytical requirements; organic chemicals, sampling and analytical requirements; and monitoring requirements for lead and copper in source water) except:

(1) Samples from groundwater entry points may not be composited with samples from surface water entry points.

(2) Samples used in compositing shall be collected in duplicate.

(3) If a contaminant listed under 40 CFR 141.61(a) or (c) is detected at an entry point, samples from that entry point may not be composited for subsequent or repeat monitoring requirements.

(4) Samples obtained from an entry point which contains water treated by a community water supplier or a nontransient noncommunity water supplier to specifically meet an MCL for an organic contaminant listed under 40 CFR 141.61(a) or (c) or an MCL for an inorganic contaminant listed under 40 CFR 141.62 may not be composited with other entry point samples.

(f) A compliance sample required under § 109.301(9) (relating to general monitoring requirements) shall be taken at a free flowing tap in the house, building or facility where the POE device is located or at a monitoring point approved by the Department on the effluent side of the POE device.

(g) Samples taken to determine compliance with combined radium-226 and radium-228, gross alpha particle activity or uranium under 40 CFR 141.66(b), (c) and (e) may be composited from a single entry point if the analysis is done within 1 year of the date of the collection of the first sample. The Department will treat analytical results from the composited sample as the average analytical result to determine compliance with the MCLs and the future monitoring frequency.

(1) If the analytical result from the composited sample is greater than one-half the MCL, the Department may direct the system to take additional quarterly samples before allowing the system to sample under a reduced monitoring schedule.

(2) Samples obtained from an entry point that contains water treated to specifically meet an MCL for a radionuclide contaminant listed under 40 CFR 141.66(b), (c) or (e) may not be composited.

(h) Samples taken to determine compliance with beta particle and photon radioactivity under 40 CFR 141.66(d) may be composited as follows:

(1) Monitoring for gross beta-particle activity may be based on the analysis of a composite of 3 monthly samples.

(2) Monitoring for strontium-90 and tritium may be based on the analysis of a composite of 4 consecutive quarterly samples.

(i) Samples taken to determine compliance with this chapter shall be taken in accordance with a written comprehensive monitoring plan as specified in § 109.718 (relating to comprehensive monitoring plan). These plans are subject to Department review and revision.

§ 109.304. Analytical requirements.

(a) Sampling and analysis shall be performed in accordance with analytical techniques adopted by the EPA under the Federal act or methods approved by the Department.

(b) An alternate analytical technique may be employed with the written approval of the Department and the concurrence of the Administrator. An alternate technique will be accepted only if it is substantially equivalent to the prescribed test in both precision and accuracy as it relates to the determination of compliance with MCLs or MRDLs or treatment technique requirements. The use of the alternate analytical technique may not decrease the frequency of monitoring required by this subchapter.

(c) For the purpose of determining compliance with the monitoring and analytical requirements established under this subchapter and Subchapters K, L and M (relating to lead and copper; long-term 2 enhanced surface water treatment rule; and additional requirements for groundwater sources), the Department will consider only samples analyzed by a laboratory accredited by the Department, except that measurements for turbidity, fluoridation operation, residual disinfectant concentration, temperature, pH, alkalinity, orthophosphates, silica, calcium, conductivity, daily chlorite and magnesium hardness may be performed by a person meeting one of the following requirements:

(1) A person meeting the requirements of § 109.704 (relating to operator certification).

(2) A person using a standard operating procedure as provided under authority of the Water and Wastewater Systems Operators' Certification Act (63 P.S. §§ 1001—1015.1) and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

(e) A water supplier shall calibrate all turbidimeters used for compliance monitoring using the procedure specified by the manufacturer. At a minimum, calibration with an EPA-approved primary standard shall be conducted at least every 90 days. The Department may extend this 90-day calibration frequency if the calibration due date coincides with a holiday or weekend, or during a water system emergency which prevents timely calibration.

§ 109.305. (Reserved).

Subchapter D. PUBLIC NOTIFICATION

§ 109.416. CCR requirements.

This section applies only to community water systems and establishes the minimum requirements for the content of the annual CCR that each system shall deliver to its customers. This report must contain information on the quality of the water delivered by the system and characterize the risks, if any, from exposure to contaminants detected in the drinking water in an accurate and understandable manner.

(1) For the purposes of this section, the definitions of “customer” and “detected” established by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.151(c) and (d) (relating to definitions), respectively, are incorporated by reference.

(2) Each community water system shall deliver to its customers an annual CCR on the dates established by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.152 (relating to effective dates), which is incorporated by reference.

(3) Except as noted in subparagraphs (i)—(v), the annual report that a community water system provides to its customers shall contain all of the information, mandatory language and optional text specified by the EPA under 40 CFR 141.153 and 141.154 (relating to content of the reports; and required additional health information), which are incorporated by reference, and under 40 CFR 141, Subpart O, Appendix A (relating to regulated contaminants), which is incorporated by reference, unless other information, mandatory language or optional text is established by regulations or order of the Department. The health effects language for fluoride is not incorporated by reference. Public water systems shall include the health effects language specified in § 109.411(d)(1) (relating to content of a public notice) for violation of the primary MCL of 2 mg/L fluoride.

(i) If a water system wants to use wording of its own choice in place of optional text, the water supplier shall submit the proposed wording to the Department for review and written approval prior to including it in its annual CCR. Once approved, the water supplier’s wording may be used in future CCRs without further approval from the Department as long as it is not changed and is still applicable.

(ii) The CCR shall contain information in Spanish regarding the importance of the report or contain a telephone number or address where persons served may contact the water system to obtain a translated copy of the report or to request assistance.

(iii) For each non-English-speaking group other than Spanish-speaking that exceeds 10% of the residents for systems serving at least 1,000 people or 100 residents for systems serving less than 1,000 people, and speaks the same language other than English, the report shall contain information in the appropriate languages regarding the importance of the report or contain a telephone number or address where persons served may contact the water system to obtain a translated copy of the report or to request assistance in the appropriate language. The Department will make the final determination of which systems need to include this information.

(iv) For the purpose of defining how certain portions of a CCR shall appear, the term “prominently display” as used in 40 CFR 141.154(a) means that the information shall be printed either in a larger size typeface or bolded or enclosed within a border or all these so as to make the information conspicuous in comparison to the rest of the text appearing before and after the prominently displayed text. Prominently displayed text placed away from other text (such as, in a highlighted or boxed area) shall be printed no smaller than the text used elsewhere in the body of the report, excluding main or section titles.

(v) Information contained in a CCR shall appear in an easy-to-read format. Font sizes below 10 points or color combinations, or both, that make it difficult for persons to read and understand the information contained in the CCR may not be used.

(4) Each community water system shall do the following:

(i) Mail or otherwise directly deliver to each customer one copy of the annual CCR no later than the date specified in paragraph (2).

(ii) Mail a paper copy of the annual CCR to the Department no later than the date the water system is required to distribute the CCR to its customers.

(iii) Make a good faith effort to reach consumers who do not get water bills. The Department will determine “good faith” based on those methods identified in 40 CFR 141.155(b) (relating to report delivery and recordkeeping), which are incorporated by reference.

(iv) Submit in writing to the Department no later than 3 months after the delivery of the annual CCR:

(A) A certification that the annual CCR has been distributed to customers and that the information contained in the report is correct and consistent with the compliance monitoring data previously submitted to the Department.

(B) A description of what was done to meet the good faith effort requirement described in subparagraph (iii).

(v) If another State agency or commission also regulates the community water system, submit a copy of the system’s annual CCR to the other agency or commission upon the specific request of that agency or commission no later than the date the water system is required to distribute the CCR to its customers. Each State agency or commission shall determine the way it requests a copy of the system’s CCR. Those agencies or commissions may include, but are not limited to, the following:

(A) The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the Office of Consumer Advocate in the Office of the Attorney General, for water systems that are public utilities regulated under 66 Pa.C.S. (relating to Public Utility Code).

(B) The Department of Human Services, for self-contained community water systems serving personal care or other group housing facilities.

(C) The Department of Health, for self-contained community water systems serving skilled health care facilities.

(vi) Make copies of its annual CCR available to the public on request.

(vii) If a community water system serves 100,000 or more people, post its current year’s report to a publicly accessible site on the Internet.

(viii) Retain copies of each annual CCR and the related information required in paragraph (3) on the premises of the system or at a convenient location near the premises for no less than 3 years after the date of its delivery to customers.

Subchapter E. PERMIT REQUIREMENTS§ 109.503. Public water system construction permits.

(a) Permit application requirements. An application for a public water system construction permit shall be submitted in writing on forms provided by the Department and shall be accompanied by plans, specifications, engineer's report, water quality analyses and other data, information or documentation reasonably necessary to enable the Department to determine compliance with the act and this chapter. The Department will make available to the applicant the Public Water Supply Manual, available from the Bureau of Safe Drinking Water, Post Office Box 8467, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17105 which contains acceptable design standards and technical guidance. Water quality analyses shall be conducted by a laboratory accredited under this chapter.

(1) General requirements. An application must include:

(i) Permit application signatures. A Department permit application signed as follows:

(A) In the case of corporations, by a principal executive officer of at least the level of vice president, or an authorized representative, if the representative is responsible for the overall operation of the facility.

(B) In the case of a partnership, by a general partner.

(C) In the case of a sole proprietorship, by the proprietor.

(D) In the case of a municipal, State or other public facility, by either a principal executive officer, ranking elected official or other authorized employee.

(ii) Plans, specifications and engineer's report. Plans, specifications and engineer's reports must comply with the following:

(A) The drawings, specifications and engineer's report shall be prepared by or under the supervision of a professional engineer registered to practice in this Commonwealth or in the state in which the public water system is located.

The information specified in clauses (C) and (D) may not be more than 2 years old from the date the permit application is submitted unless the Department approves the use of data more than 2 years old. The Department may accept approval of an out-of-State source by the agency having jurisdiction over drinking water in that state if the supplier submits adequate proof of the approval and the agency's standards are at least as stringent as this chapter.

(A) A source water assessment of each new raw water source.

(B) A pre-drilling plan for a new groundwater source prepared and signed by a professional geologist licensed to practice in this Commonwealth. The pre-drilling plan shall be submitted and approved by the Department prior to well construction and conducting an aquifer test. At a minimum, the pre-drilling plan must include preliminary results of the source water assessment, a hydrogeologic

(C) An evaluation of the quantity of the raw water from each new source. Flow data shall be submitted for springs, infiltration galleries or surface water sources. Aquifer test data, including drawdown and recovery data and the derivation of hydraulic conductivity, transmissivity and storage coefficient of the aquifer, shall be submitted for wells. At the discretion of the Department, these requirements may be altered for wells or wellfields pumping less than 100,000 gallons per day. The Department may require additional information to evaluate the safe or sustainable yield of the source. The safe or sustainable yield is the amount of water that can be withdrawn from an aquifer without causing an undesired result, such as adverse dewatering of an aquifer, induced potential health threats or impacts upon stream uses.

(D) An evaluation of the quality of the raw water from each new source. For groundwater sources, the evaluation shall be conducted at the conclusion of the constant rate aquifer test. This clause does not apply when the new source is finished water obtained from an existing permitted community water system unless the Department provides written notice that an evaluation is required. The evaluation must include analysis of all of the following:

(I) VOCs for which MCLs have been established by the EPA in 40 CFR 141.61(a) (relating to maximum contaminant levels for organic contaminants). Vinyl chloride monitoring is required only if one or more of the two-carbon organic compounds specified in § 109.301(5)(i) (relating to general monitoring requirements) are detected. Samples for VOCs shall be collected in accordance with § 109.303(d) (relating to sampling requirements).

(E) A hydrogeologic report for a new groundwater source. For wells, springs or infiltration galleries, this information must include a description of the geology of the area including the source aquifers, overlying formations, hydrogeologic boundaries, aquifer porosity estimates, water table contour or potentiometric surface maps depicting prepumping conditions and other information deemed necessary to evaluate the hydraulic characteristics of the aquifer and demonstrate the suitability of the proposed source and a Department approved delineation of the Zone I and Zone II wellhead protection areas. All information included in the source water assessment, in addition to the results of the water quantity and quality evaluations as specified in clauses (C) and (D), must be included in a hydrogeological report prepared and signed by a professional geologist licensed to practice in this Commonwealth.

A new community water system is a proposed community water system or an existing system not otherwise subject to the act which becomes a community water system subject to the act as a result of an increase in the number of year-round residents or residences served. The business plan shall be submitted on forms approved by the Department. To be considered complete, the business plan shall conform to the guidelines contained in the Department's Public Water Supply Manual and shall consist of the following three parts:

(i) Facilities plan. The facilities plan shall identify the scope of the water service to be provided. In addition to the requirements of paragraph (1)(ii), the facilities plan shall include the following:

(A) An assessment of current and reasonably foreseeable compliance requirements that are applicable under the act based on monitoring data from the proposed sources of supply.

This description shall include the technical, managerial, financial, operational and local decision making rationale for the selected approach. Unless the new system is a consecutive water system, the plan shall include the rationale for creating a separate system.

(C) An engineering description of the facilities to be constructed, including the construction phases and future plans for expansion. This description shall include an estimate of the full cost of any required construction, operation and maintenance.

(ii) Management plan. The management plan shall specify the commitments that are needed to provide for effective management and operation of the system and shall include the following:

(A) Documentation that the applicant has the legal right and authority to take the measures necessary for the construction, operation and maintenance of the system. The evidence shall include, but is not limited to, indices of ownership where the applicant is the owner of the system or, where the applicant is not the owner, legally enforceable management contracts or agreements.

(B) An operating plan to define the tasks to be performed in managing and operating the system. The operating plan shall consist of the following:

(iii) Financial plan. The financial plan shall describe the system's revenues and cash flow for meeting the costs of construction and the costs of operation and maintenance for at least 5 full years from the date the applicant anticipates initiating system operation. At a minimum, the financial plan shall include pro forma statements for each of the 5 years including the following:

(A) Balance sheet.

(B) Income statement.

(C) Statement of cash flow.

(b) Amendments. A water supplier operating under a public water system permit shall obtain an amended construction permit before making a substantial modification to the public water system.

(1) A water supplier shall submit an application for an amended construction permit under the application requirements in subsection (a), if the proposed modification constitutes a major change to the public water system. Typical modifications which may be considered major changes are proposed new sources, additions or deletions of treatment techniques or processes, pumping stations and storage reservoirs.

(2) A water supplier shall submit a written request to the Department if the proposed modification constitutes a relatively minor change to the public water system. A request for an amended construction permit under this paragraph shall describe the proposed change in sufficient detail to allow the Department to adequately evaluate the proposal. Typical modifications which may be considered minor changes are changes in treatment chemicals; replacement of tank or reservoir linings or similar materials in contact with the water supply; interconnections; covering of reservoirs; construction of covered storage tanks and standpipes designed to standard specifications; transmission mains; and changes in legal status, such as transfers of ownership, incorporation or mergers. Additionally, requests to change the permitted availability category of a source, purchased interconnect, treatment plant or entry point identified in the comprehensive monitoring plan in accordance with § 109.718 (relating to comprehensive monitoring plan) may be considered a minor change.

(3) The Department determines whether a particular modification is a substantial modification and requires the construction permit to be amended under paragraph (1) or (2). A substantial modification is a modification which may affect the quality or quantity of water served to the public or may be prejudicial to the public health or safety. The Department's determination of whether the substantial modification is a major or minor change will include consideration of the expected amount of staff time required to review and process the proposal, the magnitude and complexity of the proposed change and the compliance history of the public water system.

(c) Permit fees. An application for a permit from the Department under this subchapter must be accompanied by a fee in the amount specified in Subchapter N (relating to drinking water fees).

(d) Department's review.

(1) The Department will publish a notice in the Pennsylvania Bulletin of the applications submitted under subsection (a) or (b)(1) or § 109.507 (relating to permits for innovative technology), providing at least 30 days for public comment from the date of publication.

(2) The Department will not accept an application for review until the application is determined to be complete. A complete application is one which includes all the information specified in this chapter and other relevant information the Department determines is necessary to enable the Department to undertake a technical review of the application.

(3) If the Department determines the permit application is incomplete, it will request the additional information in writing from the applicant within 90 calendar days of receipt of the application.

(4) The Department will grant or deny a permit within 120 calendar days of receipt of the application, or when an incomplete application was submitted, within 120 calendar days of receipt of the applicant's written response to the Department's request for additional information.

(5) Applications will be reviewed in accordance with accepted engineering and hydrogeological practices. The approval of plans, specifications, hydrogeological reports and engineer's reports is limited to the sanitary features of design and other features of public health significance.

(6) In reviewing a permit application under this chapter, the Department may consider the following:

(i) Adherence to standards in Subchapter F (relating to design and construction standards).

(ii) Compliance by the proposed project with applicable statutes administered by the Commonwealth, river basin commissions created by interstate compact, or Federal environmental statutes or regulations.

(iii) Consistency with the environmental rights and values secured by PA. CONST. art. I, § 27 and with the Commonwealth's duties as trustee to conserve and maintain this Commonwealth's public natural resources.

(iv) Present conditions and the effects of reasonably foreseeable future development within the area of the project, including wellhead protection areas.

(e) Issuance and conditions.

(1) Issuance of a construction permit authorizes only the construction or modifications included in the permit. The permit's continuing validity is conditioned upon satisfaction of the provisions of the permit.

(2) The plans, specifications, reports and supporting documents submitted as part of the permit application become part of the permit.

(3) A permit authorizing construction or modification of water facilities shall expire within 2 years from the date of issuance unless substantial work is initiated. A permit may be renewed by the Department if the water supplier makes a written request for renewal prior to the expiration date.

§ 109.505. Requirements for noncommunity water systems.

(a) A noncommunity water system shall obtain a construction permit under § 109.503 (relating to public water system construction permits) and an operation permit under § 109.504 (relating to public water system operation permits), unless the noncommunity water system satisfies paragraph (1) or (2). The Department retains the right to require a noncommunity water system that meets the requirements of paragraph (1) or (2) to obtain a construction and an operation permit, if, in the judgment of the Department, the noncommunity water system cannot be adequately regulated through standardized specifications and conditions. A noncommunity water system which is released from the obligation to obtain a construction and an operation permit shall comply with the other requirements of this chapter, including design, construction and operation requirements described in Subchapters F and G (relating to design and construction standards; and system management responsibilities).

(1) A noncommunity water system which holds a valid permit or license issued after December 8, 1984, under one or more of the following acts satisfies the permit requirement under the act. The licensing authority will review the drinking water facilities under this chapter when issuing permits under the following acts:

(i) The act of May 23, 1945 (P.L. 926, No. 369) (35 P.S. §§ 655.1—655.13) (Repealed).

(ii) The Seasonal Farm Labor Act (43 P.S. §§ 1301.101—1301.606).

(iii) The Public Bathing Law (35 P.S. §§ 672—680d).

(2) A noncommunity water system not covered under paragraph (1) is not required to obtain a construction and an operation permit if it satisfies the following specifications and conditions:

(i) The sources of supply for the system are groundwater sources requiring treatment no greater than hypochlorite or ultraviolet light disinfection to reduce total coliform bacteria concentrations to undetectable levels in the finished water, and otherwise provide water of a quality that meets the primary MCLs established under Subchapter B (relating to MCLs, MRDLs or treatment technique requirements).

(ii) The water supplier submits a noncommunity water system application, including raw source water quality data, on forms acceptable to the Department, and receives Department approval of the facilities prior to construction or operation. The water supplier shall also submit a noncommunity water system application to the Department for proposed modifications to the system or a change of ownership, and receive Department approval prior to construction or operation.

(3) A noncommunity water system which satisfies the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) shall provide the Department with the following information describing new sources, including an evaluation of the quality of the raw water from each new source. Water quality analyses shall be conducted by a laboratory certified under this chapter. This paragraph does not apply when the new source is finished water obtained from an existing permitted community water system or an existing permitted or approved noncommunity water system unless the Department provides written notice that one or more of the provisions of this paragraph apply.

(i) For transient noncommunity water systems, the evaluation must include analysis of the following:

(A) Nitrate (as nitrogen) and nitrite (as nitrogen).

(B) Total coliform concentration and, if total coliform-positive, analyze for the presence of E. coli.

(C) Any other contaminant which the Department determines is necessary to evaluate the potability of the source or which the Department has reason to believe is present in the source water and presents a health risk to the users of the system.

(ii) For nontransient noncommunity water systems, the evaluation must include the information required under § 109.503(a)(1)(iii)(D).

(b) A noncommunity water system providing 4-log treatment of a groundwater source under § 109.1302(b) (relating to treatment technique requirements) that has not obtained a construction permit under § 109.503 and an operations permit under § 109.504 shall obtain a noncommunity water system 4-log treatment of groundwater permit under § 109.1306 (relating to information describing 4-log treatment and compliance monitoring) and comply with subsection (a)(2)(ii).

§ 109.511. General permits.

(a) The Department may issue a general permit, instead of issuing a construction and operation permit under this subchapter, for a specific category of modifications if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The modifications in the category are the same or substantially similar in nature.

(2) The modifications in the category are not prejudicial to the public health and can be adequately regulated utilizing standardized specifications and conditions.

(3) The modifications in the category will comply with the design and construction standards under Subchapter F (relating to design and construction standards).

(b) The Department may suspend, revoke, modify, reissue or terminate coverage under a general permit issued under this chapter for noncompliance with a condition of the permit, or upon a finding of a condition prejudicial to the public health.

(c) Issuance of a general permit does not exempt a person from compliance with this chapter.

Subchapter F. DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION STANDARDS

§ 109.602. Acceptable design.

(a) A public water system shall be designed to provide an adequate and reliable quantity and quality of water to the public. The design must ensure that the system will, upon completion, be capable of providing water that complies with the primary and secondary MCLs, MRDLs and treatment techniques established in Subchapters B, K, L and M except as further provided in this section.

(1) The Department may approve control techniques such as nonremoval processes, which abate the problems associated with a secondary contaminant and achieve the objective of the secondary MCL.

(2) The Department may approve a design which may cause an exceedance of a secondary MCL if the exceedance directly results from a treatment method used to achieve compliance with a primary MCL, the level of the secondary contaminant in the finished water does not represent an unreasonable risk to health nor otherwise adversely affect the normal uses of the finished water.

(b) Designs of public water facilities shall conform to accepted standards of engineering and design in the water supply industry and shall provide protection from failures of source, treatment, equipment, structures or power supply.

(c) The Department's Public Water Supply Manual sets forth design standards which the Department finds to be acceptable designs. Other designs may be approved by the Department if the applicant demonstrates the alternate design is capable of providing an adequate and reliable quantity and quality of water to the public.

(d) Filtration facilities permitted after May 16, 1992, unless otherwise authorized under § 109.507 (relating to permits for innovative technology), shall be designed to include individual sampling ports or turbidimeters on the raw source water line, on the influent line to the filters and on the effluent lines for each filter bed.

(e) Point-of-use devices which are treatment devices applied to a single tap are not an acceptable treatment method for complying with an MCL, MRDL or treatment technique requirement.

(f) A public water system that provides filtration of surface water or GUDI sources must be equipped with alarm capabilities that meet the requirements of subsection (i) by August 19, 2019. The Department may approve in writing an alternate compliance schedule if the water supplier submits a written request with supporting documentation by August 19, 2019.

In the event of a Department computer application failure, the Department will notify the laboratory of an alternate reporting method. In the event that a laboratory is unable to submit data electronically, due to circumstances beyond its control, the laboratory shall notify the Department prior to the applicable reporting deadline. If the Department determines that the circumstances were beyond the control of the laboratory, the Department will specify a temporary, alternate reporting method the laboratory shall use to meet the reporting deadline.

(1) Unless a different reporting period is specified in this chapter, these results shall be reported within either the first 10 days following the month in which the result is determined or the first 10 days following the end of the required monitoring period as stipulated by the Department, whichever is shorter.

(2) Beginning November 23, 2009, an accredited laboratory and the public water supplier shall be given until the 10th of the following month to review and update submitted data using a secure computer application provided by the Department. Omissions and data errors remaining after the review period shall be considered reporting violations of the public water supplier.

(b) A laboratory accredited under Chapter 252 shall whenever the results of test measurements or analyses performed by the laboratory under this chapter indicate an MCL, MRDL or a treatment technique performance requirement under § 109.202 (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements) is exceeded, or any individual tap sample result exceeds the action level value specified in § 109.1102(a) (relating to action levels and treatment technique requirements), or a sample result requires the collection of check or confirmation samples under § 109.301 (relating to general monitoring requirements), or any check sample collected under § 109.301(3) is total coliform-positive, or a sample collected by a seasonal system as part of a Department-approved start-up procedure under § 109.301(3)(i)(c) is total coliform-positive, or a sample collected under

Subchapter M (relating to additional requirements for groundwater sources) is E. coli-positive:

(1) Notify the public water supplier by telephone within 1 hour of the laboratory's determination. The information regarding the public water system must include, but is not limited to, the PWSID number of the system, the system's name, the contaminant involved in the occurrence, the level of the contaminant found, where the sample was collected, the dates and times that the sample was collected and analyzed, the name and identification number of the accredited laboratory, the name and telephone number of a contact person at the laboratory and what steps the laboratory took to contact the public water system before calling the Department.

(2) Notify the appropriate Department district office in writing within 24 hours of the determination. For the purpose of determining compliance with this requirement, the postmark, if the notice is mailed, or the date the notice is received by the Department, whichever is earlier, will be used. Upon approval by the Department, the notice may be made electronically to the Department as long as the information is received within the 24-hour deadline.

(c) A laboratory accredited under Chapter 252 shall meet the requirements under subsections (a) and (b), regarding the results of test measurements or analyses performed by the laboratory under this chapter, unless the laboratory assigns in writing the responsibility for reporting and notification to another accredited laboratory.

(d) A laboratory accredited under Chapter 252 shall be responsible for the accurate reporting of data required under this section to the Department.

* * * * *

(b) Sampling requirements.

(1) For bottled water and vended water systems, retail water facilities and bulk water hauling systems, samples taken to determine compliance with subsection (a) shall be taken from each entry point.

(i) For bottled water systems, each entry point means each finished bottled water product. If multiple sources are used for a product and are not blended prior to bottling, the bottled water product for each source shall be considered a different product for monitoring purposes.

(ii) For bulk water hauling systems, retail water facilities and vended water systems, each entry point shall mean a point of delivery to the consumer from each carrier vehicle, machine or dispenser representative of each source.

(2) For the purpose of determining compliance with the monitoring and analytical requirements established under this subchapter, the Department will consider only those samples analyzed by a laboratory accredited by the Department, except that measurements of turbidity, fluoridation operation, residual disinfectant concentration, daily chlorite, temperature and pH may be performed by a person meeting the requirements of § 109.1008(c) (relating to system management responsibilities).

(3) Sampling and analysis shall be performed in accordance with analytical techniques adopted by the EPA under the Federal act or methods approved by the Department.

§ 109.1005. Permit requirements.

(c) Special permit by rule requirement for bottled water systems. A person owning or operating a bottled water system in this Commonwealth permitted under this chapter shall obtain an amended permit before making substantial modifications to the processing and bottling facilities unless the bottled water system satisfies the conditions in paragraphs (1)—(5). The permit-by-rule does not apply to the collection facilities. The Department retains the right to require a bottled water system that meets the requirements of paragraphs (1)—(5) to obtain a permit, if, in the judgment of the Department, the bottled water system cannot be adequately regulated through the standardized specifications and conditions. A bottled water system which is released from the obligation to obtain a permit shall comply with the other requirements of this subchapter, including design, construction and operation requirements. The following are the conditions for a permit-by-rule:

(2) The water quality of the sources does not exceed the Food and Drug Administration quality standards for primary (that is, health-related) chemical and radiological contaminants specified in 21 CFR 165.110 (relating to bottled water) as determined under sampling conducted under subsection (e)(4)(ii) and requires treatment no greater than disinfection to provide water of a quality that meets the primary MCLs established under Subchapter B (relating to MCLs, MRDLs or treatment technique requirements).

(3) Proof that the facilities meet the standards of the Food and Drug Administration in 21 CFR Parts 110, 129 and 165 (relating to current good manufacturing practice in manufacturing, packing, or holding human food; processing and bottling of bottled drinking water; and beverages) and the IBWA Model Bottled Water Code as determined by an onsite evaluation conducted by a Nationally recognized, independent, not-for-profit third-party organization such as NSF or other organization acceptable to the Department. The onsite evaluation shall be conducted annually. The proof shall consist of the report issued by the organization which shall be submitted to the Department within 30 days following the completion of the onsite evaluation. To be acceptable to the Department, the organization shall:

(i) Be accredited by ANSI as a third-party inspection/evaluation organization.

(ii) Have well developed, documented policies, procedures and contracts to support Department enforcement actions for meeting compliance objectives.

Validated treatment technologies are those that have been permitted by the Department under this chapter at the bottled water system operating under the permit by rule or certified to an applicable ANSI/NSF standard by NSF or other certification organization acceptable to the Department or verified under the EPA Environmental Technology Verification Program. To be acceptable to the Department, a certification organization other than NSF shall be accredited by ANSI as a third-party certification organization and meet the requirements under § 109.606(e) as applicable to the appropriate ANSI/NSF standard for the treatment technology.

(6) The Department will publish a notice in the Pennsylvania Bulletin of its determination that a bottled water system has complied with paragraphs (1)—(4) and is operating under the permit by rule. The Department will publish a notice in the Pennsylvania Bulletin of descriptions submitted under paragraph (5) of substantial modifications made by a bottled water system operating under the permit-by-rule.

(d) Permit amendments. A person may not substantially modify a bottled water or vended water system, retail water facility or bulk water hauling system operated under a public water system permit without obtaining a permit amendment from the Department or otherwise complying with subsection (f).

(e) Permit applications. An application for a public water system permit for a bottled water or vended water system, retail water facility or bulk water hauling system shall be submitted in writing on forms provided by the Department and shall be accompanied by plans, specifications, engineer's report, water quality analyses and other data, information or documentation reasonably necessary to enable the Department to determine compliance with the act and this chapter. The Department will make available to the applicant the Public Water Supply Manual, available from the Bureau of Safe Drinking Water, Post Office Box 8467, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17105-8467 which contains acceptable design standards and technical guidance. Water quality analyses shall be conducted by a laboratory certified under this chapter. Subchapter L. LONG-TERM 2 ENHANCED SURFACE WATER TREATMENT RULE

(l) Source water sample locations for plants with chemical treatment. Systems shall collect source water samples prior to chemical treatment, such as coagulants, oxidants and disinfectants.

(m) Source water sample location for plants that recycle. Systems that recycle filter backwash water shall collect source water samples prior to the point of filter backwash water addition.

(n) Source water sample locations for systems with bank filtration.

(1) Systems that receive Cryptosporidium treatment credit for bank filtration to meet existing treatment technique requirements of § 109.202(c) (relating to State MCLs, MRDLs and treatment technique requirements), as applicable, shall collect source water samples in the surface water prior to bank filtration.

(2) Systems that use bank filtration as pretreatment to a filtration plant shall collect source water samples from the well (that is, after bank filtration). Use of bank filtration during monitoring must be consistent with routine operational practice. Systems collecting samples after a bank filtration process may not receive treatment credit for the bank filtration under § 109.1204(f) (relating to requirements for microbial toolbox components).

(o) Source water sample locations for systems with multiple sources. Systems with plants that use multiple water sources, including multiple surface water sources and blended surface water and groundwater sources, shall collect samples as specified in paragraph (1) or (2). The use of multiple sources during monitoring shall be consistent with routine operational practice. (ii) Systems may analyze samples from each source separately and calculate a weighted average of the analysis results for each sampling date. The weighted average must be calculated by multiplying the analysis result for each source by the fraction the source contributed to total plant flow at the time the sample was collected and then summing these values.

(p) Additional requirements. A system shall submit a description of its sampling locations to the Department at the same time as the sampling schedule required under subsections (h)—(j). This description must address the position of the sampling location in relation to the system’s water sources and treatment processes, including pretreatment, points of chemical treatment and filter backwash recycle. If the Department does not respond to a system regarding sampling locations, the system shall sample at the reported locations.

§ 109.1204. Requirements for microbial toolbox components.

* * * * *

(h) Individual filter performance. Systems using conventional filtration treatment or direct filtration treatment will receive 0.5-log Cryptosporidium treatment credit, which can be in addition to the 0.5-log credit under subsection (g), during any month the system meets the criteria in this subsection. Compliance with these criteria must be based on individual filter turbidity monitoring as described in § 109.301(1)(iii) (relating to general monitoring requirements), as applicable.

* * * * *

§ 109.1206. Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

* * * * *

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING AND SECURITIES

Maximum Lawful Rate of Interest for Residential Mortgages for the Month of September 2018

The Department of Banking and Securities (Department), under the authority in section 301 of the act of January 30, 1974 (P.L. 13, No. 6) (41 P.S. § 301), determines that the maximum lawful rate of interest for residential mortgages for the month of September 2018, is 5 1/2%.

The interest rate limitations under the Commonwealth's usury statute were pre-empted to a great extent by Federal law, the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980 (Pub.L. No. 96-221). Further pre-emption was instituted with the signing of Pub.L. No. 96-399, which overrode State interest rate limitations on any individual who finances the sale or exchange of residential real property which the individual owns and which the individual occupies or has occupied as his principal residence.

Each month the Department is required by State law to compute and announce the ceiling rate on residential mortgages in this Commonwealth. This maximum rate is determined by adding 2.50 percentage points to the yield rate on long-term government bonds as published by the Federal Reserve Board or the United States Treasury, or both. The latest yield rate on long-term government securities is 2.94 to which was added 2.50 percentage points for a total of 5.44 that by law is rounded off to the nearest quarter at 5 1/2%.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Regional Housing Advisory Committee Meetings; 2019—2023 Consolidated Plan and 2019 Annual Action Plan

The Department of Community and Economic Development (Department) is preparing the Commonwealth's 2019—2023 Consolidated Plan and 2019 Annual Action Plan. Both documents must be submitted to, and approved by, the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the Commonwealth to receive funding under HUD's housing and community development programs of Community Development Block Grant, HOME Investment Partnership Program, Emergency Solutions Grant Program, Housing Opportunities for People with AIDS and National Housing Trust Fund. The Consolidated Plan creates a unified strategy for these programs to address identified needs, as well as the necessary linkages for building successful neighborhoods and communities.

As part of the planning process, the Department conducts meetings across this Commonwealth to discuss regional needs for housing, homelessness, economic and community development issues, and develops goals for the programs that may affect the method of distribution of Fiscal Years 2019—2023 funding. The first of these meetings are the Regional Housing Advisory Committee (RHAC) meetings.

RHAC Meetings

There are six RHACs across this Commonwealth comprised of appointed members. Meetings of these RHACs are open to the public under 65 Pa.C.S. §§ 701—716 (relating to Sunshine Act). The RHAC meetings are open to the public and will take place electronically by a webinar or onsite at the Department of Community and Economic Development, Commonwealth Keystone Building, 400 North Street, 4th Floor, Harrisburg, PA 17120-0225 on the specified dates and times.

LAND RECYCLING AND ENVIRONMENTAL REMEDIATION

UNDER ACT 2, 1995
PREAMBLE 1

Acknowledgment of Notices of Intent to Remediate Submitted under the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (35 P.S. §§ 6026.101—6026.907)

Sections 302—305 of the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (act) (35 P.S. §§ 6026.302—6026.305) require the Department to publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin an acknowledgment noting receipt of Notices of Intent to Remediate. An acknowledgment of the receipt of a Notice of Intent to Remediate is used to identify a site where a person proposes to, or has been required to, respond to a release of a regulated substance at a site. A person intending to use the background standard, Statewide health standard, the site-specific standard or intend to remediate a site as a special industrial area shall file a Notice of Intent to Remediate with the Department. A Notice of Intent to Remediate filed with the Department provides a brief description of the location of the site, a list of known or suspected contaminants at the site, the proposed remediation measures for the site and a description of the intended future use of the site. A person who demonstrates attainment of one or a combination of cleanup standards or receives approval of a special industrial area remediation identified under the act will be relieved of further liability for the remediation of the site for contamination identified in reports submitted to and approved by the Department. Furthermore, the person shall not be subject to citizen suits or other contribution actions brought by responsible persons not participating in the remediation.

Under sections 304(n)(1)(ii) and 305(c)(2) of the act, there is a 30-day public and municipal comment period for sites proposed for remediation using a site-specific standard, in whole or in part, and for sites remediated as a special industrial area. This period begins when a summary of the Notice of Intent to Remediate is published in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the site. For the following site, proposed for remediation to a site-specific standard or as a special industrial area, the municipality, within which the site is located, may request to be involved in the development of the remediation.

tion and reuse plans for the site if the request is made within 30 days of the date specified as follows. During this comment period, the municipality may request that the person identified as the remediator of the site develop and implement a public involvement plan. AIR QUALITY

PLAN APPROVAL AND OPERATING PERMIT APPLICATIONS

The Department has developed an "integrated" plan approval, State Operating Permit and Title V Operating Permit program. This integrated approach is designed to make the permitting process more efficient for the Department, the regulated community and the general public. This approach allows the owner or operator of a facility to submit permitting documents relevant to its application for all sources related to a facility or a proposed project, affords an opportunity for public input, and provides for a decision on the issuance of the necessary permits.

The Department received applications for Plan Approvals or Operating Permits from the following facilities.

Copies of the application, the Department's analysis, all pertinent documents used in the evaluation of the application and subsequently prepared proposed plan approvals/operating permits are available for public review during normal business hours at the appropriate Department Regional Office. Appointments for scheduling a review must be made by calling the appropriate Department Regional Office. The address and phone number of the Regional Office is listed before the application notices.

Persons wishing to file a written protest or provide comments or additional information, which they believe should be considered prior to the issuance of a permit, may submit the information to the Department's Regional Office. A 30-day comment period from the date of this publication will exist for the submission of comments, protests and information. Each submission must contain the name, address and telephone number of the person submitting the comments, identification of the proposed Plan Approval/Operating Permit including the permit number and a concise statement regarding the relevancy of the information or objections to issuance of the permit.

A person wishing to request a hearing may do so during the 30-day comment period. A public hearing may be held, if the Department, in its discretion, decides that a hearing is warranted based on the information received. Persons submitting comments or requesting a hearing will be notified of the decision to hold a hearing by publication in the newspaper, the Pennsylvania Bulletin or by telephone, when the Department determines this type of notification is sufficient. Requests for a public hearing and any relevant information should be directed to the appropriate Department Regional Office.

Permits issued to the owners or operators of sources subject to 25 Pa. Code Chapter 127, Subchapter D or E, or located within a Title V facility or subject to 25 Pa. Code § 129.51(a) or permits issued for sources with limitations on their potential to emit used to avoid otherwise applicable Federal requirements may be submitted to the United States Environmental Protection Agency for review and approval as a revision to the State Implementation Plan. Final Plan Approvals and Operating Permits will contain terms and conditions to ensure that the sources are constructed and operating in compliance with applicable requirements in the Air Pollution Control Act (35 P.S. §§ 4001—4015), 25 Pa. Code Chapters 121—145, the Federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C.A. §§ 7401—7671q) and regulations adopted under the Federal Clean Air Act.

Persons with a disability who wish to comment and require an auxiliary aid, service or other accommodation to participate should contact the regional office listed before the application. TDD users may contact the Department through the Pennsylvania AT&T Relay Service at (800) 654-5984.

PLAN APPROVALS

Plan Approval Applications Received under the Air Pollution Control Act (35 P.S. §§ 4001—4015) and 25 Pa. Code Chapter 127, Subchapter B that may have special public interest. These applications are in review and no decision on disposition has been reached.

35-00074A: Meadowbrook Energy LLC (1444 East Lackawanna Avenue, Olyphant, PA 18447) for the construction of a Renewable Natural Gas facility with controls at a facility to be located in Dunmore Borough, Lackawanna County.

Intent to Issue Plan Approvals and Intent to Issue or Amend Operating Permits under the Air Pollution Control Act and 25 Pa. Code Chapter 127, Subchapter B. These actions may include the administrative amendments of an associated operating permit.

Southcentral Region: Air Quality Program, 909 Elmerton Avenue, Harrisburg, PA 17110.

Contact: Thomas Hanlon, Facilities Permitting Chief, 717-705-4862, Virendra Trivedi, New Source Review Chief, 717-705-4863, or William Weaver, Regional Air Quality Manager, 717-705-4702.

34-05002A: Texas Eastern Transmission, LP (PO Box 1642, Houston, TX 77251) for an engine project at the Perulack Compressor Station located in Lack Township, Juniata County. The Plan Approval will authorize the following items:

1.) Retrofit the existing natural gas-fired Cooper Bessemer GMVA-8 engine (Source 031), as clean burn spark ignition engine (SI RICE), without increasing its rated 1,100 hp, to reduce NO_x.

2.) Install Control ID C031, Oxygen Catalyst in the exhaust gas of Source 031 to directly reduce CO and indirectly reduce some VOC.

Source 031 is subject to 25 Pa. Code § 127.97(k), presumptive RACT requirements and alternative compliance schedule for NO_x and VOC.

Review by the Department indicates that the air contamination source as reconstructed will comply with all regulatory requirements including the best available technology requirement (BAT) of 25 Pa. Code §§ 127.1 and 127.12 for VOC and CO.

The engine emission limits are to be revised as follows: NO_x 3 g/hp-hr, VOC 1 g/hp-hr, and CO 0.5 g/hp-hr, during "normal operations". Exempt startup and shutdown periods will be limited to not greater than 30 minutes for each event. The emissions will decrease at the facility as a result of the changes described previously.

Based on these findings, the Department proposes to issue a plan approval for the proposed construction. Among other items, the conditions include 40 CFR Part 60, Subpart JJJJ—Standards of Performance for Stationary Spark Ignition Internal Combustion Engines, and 40 CFR Part 63 Subpart ZZZZ: National Emissions Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants for Stationary Reciprocating Internal Combustion Engines.

If, after the project has been implemented, the Department determines that the sources are constructed and operated in compliance with the plan approval conditions and the specification of the application for plan approval, the requirements established in the plan approval will be incorporated into a Title V Operating Permit pursuant to the administrative amendment provisions of 25 Pa. Code § 127.450.

15-00031: Henry Company (336 Cold Stream Road, Kimberton, PA 19442; Attn: Mr. Scott Morris) is a non-Title V, Synthetic Minor facility located in East Pikeland Township, Chester County. The facility was previously a Title V facility. The facility had applied for a minor modification to include a production limit and a VOC limit on the Seven (7) Mixers (Source ID 200) and to include a site-wide limit for VOC. The Seven (7) Mixers were previously subject to a limit of 75 TPY. The Seven

(7) Mixers are now subject to 20 TPY for VOC, with a production limit of 9,302,325 pounds per year. The site-wide emission limit for VOC has been reduced from 78.7 TPY to 24.9 TPY. As a result, the facility submitted a new Synthetic Minor Operating Permit application to become a Synthetic Minor facility. This Synthetic Minor Operating Permit does not allow for the installation of any new equipment, nor the modification of any existing equipment. Potential emissions from the facility are 9.92 TPY of NO_x, 3.61 TPY of SO_x, 8.25 TPY of PM, 6.18 TPY of CO, 24.9 TPY of VOC, and 0.16 TPY of HAP.

The operating permit will contain testing, monitoring, recordkeeping, and work practice requirements designed to keep the facility operating within all applicable air quality requirements.

MINING ACTIVITY NPDES DRAFT PERMITS

This notice provides information about applications for a new, amended or renewed NPDES permits associated with mining activity (coal or noncoal) permits. The applications concern industrial waste (mining) discharges to surface water and discharges of stormwater associated with mining activities. This notice is provided in accordance with 25 Pa. Code Chapters 91 and 92a and 40 CFR Part 122, implementing provisions of The Clean Streams Law (35 P.S. §§ 691.1—691.1001) and the Federal Clean Water Act (33 U.S.C.A. §§ 1251—1376).

The Department of Environmental Protection (Department) has prepared a draft NPDES permit and made a tentative determination to issue the NPDES permit in conjunction with the associated mining activity permit.

Effluent Limits for Coal Mining Activities

For coal mining activities, NPDES permits, when issued, will contain effluent limits that are the more stringent of technology-based (BAT) effluent limitations or Water Quality Based Effluent Limits (WQBEL).

The BAT limits for coal mining activities, as provided in 40 CFR Part 434 and 25 Pa. Code Chapters 87—90 are as follows:

Parameter	30-Day Average	Daily Maximum	Instantaneous Maximum
Iron (Total)	3.0 mg/l	6.0 mg/l	7.0 mg/l
Manganese (Total)	2.0 mg/l	4.0 mg/l	5.0 mg/l
Suspended solids	35 mg/l	70 mg/l	90 mg/l
pH*		greater than 6.0; less than 9.0
Alkalinity greater than acidity*

* The parameter is applicable at all times.

A settleable solids instantaneous maximum limit of 0.5 ml/l applies to: surface runoff (resulting from a precipitation event of less than or equal to a 10-year 24-hour event) from active mining areas; active areas disturbed by coal refuse disposal activities; mined areas backfilled and revegetated; and all other discharges and drainage (resulting from a precipitation event of greater than 1-year 24-hour to less than or equal to a 10-year 24-hour event) from coal refuse disposal piles. Similarly, modified BAT limits apply to iron, manganese and suspended solids in surface runoff, discharges and drainage resulting from these precipitation events and those of greater magnitude in accordance with 25 Pa. Code §§ 87.102, 88.92, 88.187, 88.292, 89.52 and 90.102.

Exceptions to BAT effluent limits may be applicable in accordance with 25 Pa. Code §§ 87.102, 88.92, 88.187, 88.292, 89.52 and 90.102.

Effluent Limits for Noncoal Mining Activities

The limits for noncoal mining activities as provided in 25 Pa. Code Chapter 77 are pH 6 to 9 and other parameters the Department may require.

Discharges from noncoal mines located in some geologic settings (for example, in the coal fields) may require additional water quality based effluent limits. If additional effluent limits are needed for an NPDES permit associated with a noncoal mining permit, then the permit description specifies the parameters.

In addition to BAT or WQBEL limits, coal and noncoal NPDES permits establish effluent limitations in the form of implemented Best Management Practices (BMPs) identified in the associated Erosion and Sedimentation Plan, the Reclamation Plan and the NPDES permit application. These BMPs restrict the rates and quantities of associated pollutants from being discharged into surface waters in this Commonwealth.

More restrictive effluent limitations, restrictions on discharge volume or restrictions on the extent of mining that may occur are incorporated into an NPDES permit when necessary for compliance with water quality standards and antidegradation requirements (in accordance with 25 Pa. Code Chapters 91—96).

The procedures for determining the final effluent limits, using a mass-balance equation or model, are found in Technical Guidance Document 563-2112-115, Developing National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) Permits for Mining Activities. Other specific factors to be considered include public comments and Total Maximum Daily Load(s). Additional discharge limitations may apply in the event that unexpected discharges occur.

Discharge rates for surface mining activities are precipitation driven. Discharge rates for proposed discharges associated with underground mining are noted in the permit description.

Persons wishing to comment on an NPDES draft permit should submit a written statement to the Department at the address of the district mining office indicated before each draft permit within 30 days of this public notice. Comments received within the comment period will be considered in the final determinations regarding the NPDES permit applications. Comments must include the name, address and telephone number of the writer and a concise statement to inform the Department of the exact basis of a comment and the relevant facts upon which it is based.

The Department will also accept requests or petitions for a public hearing on NPDES permit applications, as provided in 25 Pa. Code § 92a.82(d). The request or petition for a public hearing shall be filed within 30 days of this public notice and contain the name, address, telephone number and the interest of the party filing the request, and state the reasons why a hearing is warranted. A public hearing may be held if the Department considers the public interest significant. If a hearing is scheduled, a notice of the hearing on the NPDES permit application will be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin and a newspaper of general circulation within the relevant geographical area. When a public hearing is held, the Department will consider comments from the public hearing in the final determination on the NPDES permit application.

EROSION AND SEDIMENT CONTROL PERMITS

The following parties have applied for Erosion and Sediment Control Permits for earth disturbance activities associated with either road maintenance or timber harvesting operations.

Unless otherwise indicated, on the basis of preliminary review and application of lawful standards and regulations, the Department proposes to issue a permit to discharge, subject to certain limitations in the permit conditions. These proposed determinations are tentative. Limitations are provided as erosion and sediment control best management practices which restrict the rate and quantity of sediment discharged.

A person wishing to comment on a proposed permit are invited to submit a statement to the appropriate Department regional office listed before the application within 30 days of this public notice. Comments reviewed within this 30-day period will be considered in the formulation of the final determinations regarding this application. Responses should include the name, address and telephone number of the writer and a concise statement to inform the Department of the exact basis of a comment and relevant facts upon which it is based. A public hearing may be held after consideration of comments received by the appropriate Department regional office during the 30-day public comment period.

Following the 30-day comment period, the appropriate regional office water management program manager will make a final determination regarding the proposed permit. Notice of this determination will be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin at which time this determination may be appealed to the Environmental Hearing Board (Board).

The application and related documents, including the erosion and sediment control plan for the earth disturbance activity, are on file and may be inspected at the appropriate regional office.

Persons with a disability that require an auxiliary aid, service or other accommodation to participate during the 30-day public comment period should contact the specified regional office. TDD users may contact the Department through the Pennsylvania AT&T Relay Service at (800) 654-5984.

Sections I—VI contain actions regarding industrial, animal or sewage wastes discharges, discharges to groundwater, and discharges associated with MS4, stormwater associated with construction activities and CAFOs. Section VII contains notices for parties who have submitted NOIs for Coverage under General NPDES Permits. The approval for coverage under these General NPDES Permits is subject to applicable effluent limitations, monitoring, reporting requirements and other conditions in each General Permit. The approval of coverage for land application of sewage sludge or residential septage under applicable general permit is subject to pollutant limitations, pathogen and vector attraction reduction requirements, operational standards, general requirements, management practices and other conditions in the respective permit. For individuals who wish to challenge an action, the appeal must reach the Board within 30 days. A lawyer is not needed to file an appeal with the Board.

Important legal rights are at stake, however, so individuals should contact a lawyer at once. Persons who cannot afford a lawyer may qualify for free pro bono representation. Call the Secretary to the Board at (717) 787-3483 for more information.

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY PERMITS

The Department has taken the following actions on applications received under the Pennsylvania Safe Drinking Water Act (35 P.S. §§ 721.1—721.17) for the construction, substantial modification or operation of a public water system.

Persons aggrieved by an action may appeal that action to the Environmental Hearing Board (Board) under section 4 of the Environmental Hearing Board Act and 2 Pa.C.S. §§ 501—508 and 701—704. The appeal should be sent to the Environmental Hearing Board, Second Floor, Rachel Carson State Office Building, 400 Market Street, P.O. Box 8457, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8457, (717) 787-3483. TDD users may contact the Board through the Pennsylvania AT&T Relay Service, (800) 654-5984. Appeals must be filed with the Board within 30 days of publication of this notice in the Pennsylvania Bulletin unless the appropriate statute provides a different time period. Copies of the appeal form and the Board's rules of practice and procedure may be obtained from the Board. The appeal form and the Board's rules of practice and procedure are also available in Braille or on audiotape from the Secretary to the Board at (717) 787-3483. This paragraph does not, in and of itself, create a right of appeal beyond that permitted by applicable statutes and decisional law.

For individuals who wish to challenge an action, the appeal must reach the Board within 30 days. A lawyer is not needed to file an appeal with the Board.

Important legal rights are at stake, however, so individuals should show this document to a lawyer at once. Persons who cannot afford a lawyer may qualify for free pro bono representation. Call the Secretary to the Board at (717) 787-3483 for more information.

Plan Description: The planning module for Wayne P. Crouse, Jr., DEP Code No. A3-28906-185-1, APS Id 973752, consisting of 1 new residential lot using an individual onlot sewage disposal system, is disapproved. The proposed development is located at Path Valley Road. This plan is disapproved because submission does not qualify as an exception to the requirement to revise your Official Sewage Facilities Plan because the subdivision proposes the use of onlot sewage disposal systems in an area within 1/4 mile of water supplies documented to exceed 5 PPM nitrate-nitrogen as per Chapter 71, Section 71.51(b)(1)(ii). Fannett Township's Official Plan also requires Component 2 Planning Modules with preliminary hydrogeologic evaluations in areas underlain by carbonate geology. The submission failed to label the soil profile excavations on Tract No. 5, and failed to provide soil profile descriptions for soil profile excavations shown on Tract No. 4. The submission failed to provide a Pennsylvania Natural Diversity Inventory Project Environmental Review Receipt and supporting documentation. The submission failed to include a municipal acknowledgement of the requested waiver of the planning requirements for the residual tract in accordance with Section K of the Component 1 Form. LAND RECYCLING AND ENVIRONMENTAL REMEDIATION

UNDER ACT 2, 1995 PREAMBLE 2

The following plans and reports were submitted under the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (35 P.S. §§ 6026.101—6026.907).

Provisions of Sections 301—308 of the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (act) (35 P.S. §§ 6026.301—6026.308) require the Department to publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a notice of submission of plans and reports. A final report is submitted to document cleanup of a release of a regulated substance at a site to one of the act's remediation standards. A final report provides a description of the site investigation to characterize the nature and extent of contaminants in environmental media, the basis for selecting the environmental media of concern, documentation supporting the selection of residential or nonresidential exposure factors, a description of the remediation performed and summaries of sampling analytical results which demonstrate that remediation has attained the cleanup standard selected. Submission of plans and reports, other than the final report, will also be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. These include the remedial investigation report, risk assessment report and cleanup plan for a site-specific standard remediation. A remedial investigation report includes conclusions from the site investigation; concentration of regulated substances in environmental media; benefits of reuse of the property; and, in some circumstances, a fate and transport analysis. If required, a risk assessment report describes potential adverse effects caused by the presence of regulated substances. If required, a cleanup plan evaluates the abilities of potential remedies to achieve remedy requirements.

For further information concerning plans or reports, contact the environmental cleanup program manager in the Department regional office under which the notice of receipt of plans or reports appears. If information concerning plans or reports is required in an alternative form, contact the community relations coordinator at the appropriate regional office. TDD users may telephone the Department through the Pennsylvania AT&T Relay Service at (800) 654-5984.

UNDER ACT 2, 1995 PREAMBLE 3

The Department has taken action on the following plans and reports under the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (35 P.S. §§ 6026.101—6026.907).

Section 250.8 of 25 Pa. Code and administration of the Land Recycling and Environmental Remediation Standards Act (act) require the Department to publish in the Pennsylvania Bulletin a notice of its final actions on plans and reports. A final report is submitted to document cleanup of a release of a regulated substance at a site to one of the remediation standards of the act. A final report provides a description of the site investigation to characterize the nature and extent of contaminants in environmental media, the basis of selecting the environmental media of concern, documentation supporting the selection of residential or nonresidential exposure factors, a description of the remediation performed and summaries of sampling methodology and analytical results which demonstrate that the remediation has attained the cleanup standard selected. Plans and reports required by the act for compliance with selection of remediation to a site-specific standard, in addition to a final report, include a remedial investigation report, risk assessment report and cleanup plan. A remedial investigation report includes conclusions from the site investigation; concentration of regulated substances in environmental media; benefits of reuse of the property; and, in some circumstances, a fate and transport analysis. If required, a risk assessment report describes potential adverse effects caused by the presence of regulated substances. If required, a cleanup plan evaluates the abilities of potential remedies to achieve remedy requirements. A work plan for conducting a baseline remedial investigation is required by the act for compliance with selection of a special industrial area remediation. The baseline remedial investigation, based on the work plan, is compiled into the baseline environmental report to establish a reference point to show existing contamination, describe proposed remediation to be done and include a description of existing or potential public benefits of the use or reuse of the property. The Department may approve or disapprove plans and reports submitted. This notice provides the Department's decision and, if relevant, the basis for disapproval.

For further information concerning the plans and reports, contact the environmental cleanup program manager in the Department regional office under which the notice of the plan or report appears. The Department has taken the following actions on previously received permit applications, requests for Environmental Assessment approval and requests for Water Quality Certification under section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (FWPCA) (33 U.S.C.A. § 1341).

Except as otherwise noted, the Department has granted 401 Water Quality Certification certifying that the construction and operation described will comply with sections 301—303, 306 and 307 of the FWPCA (33 U.S.C.A. §§ 1311—1313, 1316 and 1317) and that the construction will not violate applicable Federal and State water quality standards.

Persons aggrieved by an action may appeal that action to the Environmental Hearing Board (Board) under section 4 of the Environmental Hearing Board Act and 2 Pa.C.S. §§ 501—508 and 701—704. The appeal should be sent to the Environmental Hearing Board, Second Floor, Rachel Carson State Office Building, 400 Market Street, P.O. Box 8457, Harrisburg, PA 17105-8457, (717) 787-3483. PENNSYLVANIA PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Electric Generation Supplier License Cancellation of a Company with an Expired Financial Security

Public Meeting held
August 2, 2018

Commissioners Present: Gladys M. Brown, Chairperson; Andrew G. Place, Vice Chairperson; Norman J. Kennard; David W. Sweet; John F. Coleman, Jr.

Electric Generation Supplier License Cancellation of a Company with an Expired Financial Security;
M-2018-2640827

Tentative Order

By the Commission:

The Commission's regulations at 52 Pa. Code § 54.40(a) state that an Electric Generation Supplier (EGS) license will not be issued or remain in force until the licensee furnishes a bond or other security approved by the Commission. In addition, 52 Pa. Code § 54.40(d) states that the maintenance of an EGS license is contingent on the licensee providing proof to the Commission that a bond or other approved security in the amount directed by the Commission has been obtained.

Each EGS must file an original bond, letter of credit, continuation certificate, amendment, or other approved financial instrument with Rosemary Chiavetta, Secretary, Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, 400 North Street, Harrisburg, PA 17120 prior to the EGS's current security expiration date. Each financial instrument must be an original document that displays a "wet" signature or digital signature, preferable in blue ink, and displays a "raised seal" or original notary stamp. The name of the principal on the original financial instrument must match exactly with the name that appears on the EGS's license issued by the Commission.

Failure to file proof to the Commission that the company has a bond or other approved security in the amount directed by the Commission may cause Commission staff to initiate a formal proceeding that may lead to the following: cancellation of the company's electric supplier license, removal of the company's information from the Commission's website and notification to all electric distribution companies, in which the company is licensed to do business, of the cancellation of the license.

As of July 24, 2018, the EGS listed in the Supplier Table below has not provided proof to the Commission that it has a bond or other approved security in the amount directed by the Commission, to replace its expired financial security.

Supplier Table—Electric Generation Supplier

Docket Number	Company Name	Financial Security Expiration Date	Commission Approved Amount
A-2011-2224523*	AMERIGREEN ENERGY, INC.	8/12/18	Yes

*Taking title to electricity

As part of its EGS license validation procedures, the Commission's Bureau of Technical Utility Services sent a 90-day Security Renewal Notice Letter to the entity in the Supplier Table above stating that original documentation of a bond, or other approved security, must be filed within 30 days prior to the entity's security expiration date. The company listed in the Supplier Table did not provide the required documentation.

Based on the above facts, we tentatively conclude that the EGS listed in the Supplier Table is not in compliance with 52 Pa. Code § 54.40(a) and (d) and therefore it is appropriate to initiate the cancellation process for the company listed in the Supplier Table, without the necessity of a formal complaint, as being in the public interest; Therefore,

It Is Ordered That:

1. Cancellation of the Electric Generation Supplier License of the company listed in the Supplier Table is hereby tentatively approved as being in the public interest.

2. The Secretary serve a copy of this Tentative Order upon the Office of Consumer Advocate, the Office of Small Business Advocate, the Bureau of Investigation & Enforcement, Department of Revenue—Bureau of Corporation Taxes, all electric distribution companies, the Electric Generation Supplier in the Supplier Table and also cause a copy of this Tentative Order to be published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin with a 30-day comment period.

3. Absent the filing of adverse public comment or the filing of an approved security within 30 days after publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin, the Bureau of Technical Utility Services shall prepare a Final Order for entry by the Secretary.

4. Upon entry of the Final Order described in Ordering Paragraph No. 3 above, the company listed in the Supplier Table will be stricken from all active utility lists maintained by the Commission's Bureau of Technical Utility Services and the Assessment Section of the Bureau of Administration, removed from the Commission's website, and notifications be sent to all electric distribution companies in which the Electric Generation Supplier is licensed to do business.

5. Upon entry of the Final Order described in Ordering Paragraph No. 3, the electric distribution company in which the Electric Generation Supplier is licensed to do business, shall return the customers of the Electric Generation Supplier to default service.

Secretary

Opinion and Order

By the Commission:

Before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission (Commission) for consideration and disposition are the Petitions for Clarification and/or Reconsideration filed by Community Energy, Inc. and Community Energy Solar, LLC (Community Energy); Cypress Creek Renewables, LLC (Cypress Creek); Exelon Generation Company, LLC and Constellation NewEnergy, Inc. (Constellation); and American Municipal Power, Inc. (AMP). For the reasons expressed in this Opinion and Order we will grant, in part, and deny, in part, the Petitions for Clarification and Reconsideration.

Background

Section 11.1 of Act 40 of 2017 amends the Administrative Code (Adm. Code), 71 P.S. §§ 1 et seq., by adding Section 2804 to the Adm. Code, 71 P.S. § 714, that amends the Alternative Energy Portfolio Standards Act (AEPS Act), 73 P.S. §§ 1648.1–1648.8, 66 Pa.C.S. § 2814, by establishing geographical limits on solar photovoltaic (solar PV) systems that qualify for the solar PV share requirement in Section 3 of the AEPS Act, 73 P.S. § 1648.3(b)(2). Act 40 became effective on October 30, 2017.

On December 21, 2017, the Commission adopted a Tentative Implementation Order (TIO) at the above referenced Docket seeking comments on proposed interpretations and implementation of Section 2804 of the Adm. Code.¹ In addition to the TIO, Chairman Gladys M. Brown and Vice Chairman Andrew G. Place issued a joint statement that presented supplemental interpretations of Section 2804(2)(i) and 2804(2)(ii) of the Adm. Code, as well as the status of banked solar PV alternative energy credits (SRECs) for comment. Written comments were to be submitted within 30 days of the publication of the TIO in the Pennsylvania Bulletin, February 5, 2018.²

On April 19, 2018, upon consideration of the comments, the Commission adopted the Joint Motion of Chairman Gladys M. Brown and Vice Chairman Andrew G. Place setting forth the Commission's interpretation and implementation of Act 40. On May 3, 2018, the Act 40 Final Implementation Order (FIO) was entered. On May 16, 2018, the Commission issued a Secretarial Letter providing additional procedural information regarding the Section 2804(2)(ii) of the Adm. Code, 71 P.S. § 714(2)(ii), contract approval process.

On May 11, 2018, Community Energy filed a joint Petition for clarification and/or reconsideration of the May 3, 2019 FIO. In an Order entered on May 17, 2018, the Commission granted the Joint Petition by Community Energy pending review of, and consideration on, the merits. In addition, the Commission stayed the 60-day period for electric distribution companies (EDCs) and electric generation suppliers (EGSs) to file a petition seeking qualification of credits under Section 2804(2)(ii) of the Adm. Code, 71 P.S. § 714(2)(ii).

On May 16, 2018, Cypress Creek filed a Petition for clarification or reconsideration of the Commission's FIO. Also, on May 16, 2018, Cypress Creek filed a Petition for a stay or supersedeas. On May 18, 2018, Constellation filed a joint Petition for clarification and/or reconsideration of the Commission's FIO. Also, on May 18, 2018, AMP filed a Petition for rehearing and reconsideration of the Commission's FIO. On May 29, 2018, the Mid-Atlantic Renewable Energy Coalition (MAREC) filed an Answer in support of the Joint Petition of Community Energy.

On May 31, 2018, the Commission issued a Secretarial Letter stating that the Order entered on May 17, 2018, granting the Joint Petition of Community Energy in accordance with Pa.R.A.P. 1701(b)(3) shall also apply to the petitions for clarification, reconsideration and/or rehearing filed by Cypress Creek, AMP, and Constellation, as well as MAREC's Answer. The Commission also stated that it will address the issues raised in these petitions in conjunction with its disposition of the petition of Community Energy. Finally, the Commission noted that it will address Cypress Creek's Petition for stay in a subsequent order.

Discussion

The Petitions filed by Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation seek reconsideration or clarification of the Commission's FIO interpretation of the contract provisions under Section 2804(2)(ii) of the Adm. Code. MAREC's Answer supports the requests for reconsideration or clarification filed by Community Energy and Cypress Creek. The Petition filed by AMP seeks rehearing of reconsideration of the Commission's FIO interpretation of Section 2804(2)(i) of the Adm. Code. We will address the Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation Petitions together and address the AMP Petition separately.

1. Legal Standard

As noted by the Petitioners, the Commission's standard for granting clarification or reconsideration is set out in Duick v. Pennsylvania Gas and Water Company, 56 Pa. P.U.C. 553 (1982):

A Petition for Reconsideration, under the provisions of 66 Pa.C.S. § 703(g), may properly raise any matters designed to convince the Commission that it should exercise its discretion under this code section to rescind or amend a prior order in whole or in part. In this regard, we agree with the court in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company case, wherein it was stated that “[p]arties. . . cannot be permitted by a second motion to review and reconsider, to raise the same questions which were specifically decided against them. . . .” What we expect to see raised in such petitions are new and novel arguments, not previously heard, or considerations which appear to have been overlooked by the Commission.

Duick, 56 Pa. P.U.C. at 559 (quoting Pennsylvania Railroad Co. v. Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, 179 A. 850, 854 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1935)).

Under the standards of Duick, a petition for reconsideration may properly raise any matter designed to convince this Commission that we should exercise our discretion to amend or rescind a prior Order, in whole or in part. Such petitions are likely to succeed only when they raise “new and novel arguments” not previously heard or considerations which appear to have been overlooked or not addressed by the Commission. Duick, 56 Pa. P.U.C. at 559.

The Commission has held that a Petition for Clarification must meet the same standard as a Petition for Reconsideration. Petition of PECO Energy Company for Approval of its Revised POR Program, Docket No. P-2009-2143607 (Order entered August 24, 2010). Applying the above standards, we shall address the merits of the Petitioners.

2. Positions of Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation

a. Community Energy

Community Energy states that its affiliates have been the developers of certain solar PV installations in states outside of Pennsylvania, which were certified as AEPS Tier I solar PV AECs prior to October 30, 2017, but which it no longer owns, but for which it retains the rights to the AECs. Community Energy asserts that it has long term contracts with Pennsylvania EDCs and EGSs for the sale of AECs, which were effective prior to October 30, ¹ See Implementation of Act 40 of 2017, Tentative Implementation Order at Docket No. M-2017-2631527 (entered December 21, 2017).

² The TIO was published in the Pennsylvania Bulletin on January 6, 2018 at 48 Pa.B. 111.

2017. Community Energy Petition ¶ 1. Community Energy requests that the Commission clarify that all parties in the contractual chain from producer to the EDC and EGS acting in good faith within the boundaries of existing law should not have contracts nullified by a change in law. Community Energy asserts that these parties owning the AECs in the contractual chain of custody should be eligible to grandfather the AECs by a single petition, so long as the statutory criteria are otherwise met. Community Energy Petition ¶ 3.

Community Energy stated that the FIO did not address the situation, such as Community Energy's, where there might be more than one party in the chain from production to retirement of the AECs. Accordingly, Community Energy believes that it is appropriate for the Commission to clarify its FIO to address this situation. Community Energy Petition ¶ 4.

b. Cypress Creek

Cypress Creek states that, through its affiliates, it is the owner of eleven solar PV systems located outside of Pennsylvania, which, prior to the effective date of Act 40, were certified as authorized suppliers of PA SRECs for use by parties with an AEPS Act compliance obligation. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 10. Cypress Creek also asserts that prior to the effective date of Act 40, its affiliated owners of the systems were all parties to contracts for the sale of SRECs for use in meeting the requirements of the AEPS Act. Cypress Creek goes on to assert that its generators entered into contracts for the sale of their PA SRECs with brokers or aggregators and that those brokers or aggregators may not have yet entered into contracts for the sale of all the Cypress Creek-generated PA SRECs to Pennsylvania load-serving entities. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 12. Cypress Creek argues that the retagging of SRECs has implications for contracts requiring the delivery of PA SRECs, as it can no longer deliver the attribute required to satisfy the terms of the contract, with the only way to avoid contract termination is if contracting parties negotiate mutually satisfactory results. Cypress Creek asserts that this problem may likely impact the contracts between solar generators and EDCs/EGSs that the Commission explicitly intended to grandfather. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 17.

Cypress Creek requests clarification of the FIO regarding the Commission's apparent limitation on the protections provided by Section 2804(2)(ii) of Act 40, to existing contracts with only a discrete subset of counterparties. Cypress Creek submits that otherwise qualifying contracts with other types of counterparties, including SREC brokers, should be protected by the Act's preservation of certifications until current contracts expire. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 18. In support of its position, Cypress Creek states that SRECs may be contractually secured through direct, aggregator, broker or financial institution contracts, including a broker contract with generators like Cypress Creek's affiliates that may require a broker to deliver qualified AECs to an EDC or EGS. Cypress Creek posits that while a broker may or may not be assigned the ownership of a particular AEC, it is contractually obligated to provide a set number of AECs to the EGS or EDC during a specified time period. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 22.

Cypress Creek argues that several legislators, through their comments, urged the Commission to preserve these contracts. In particular, Cypress Creek cites Senator Scavella as stating that "this [grandfathering] language was included only at the request of AEPS contract holders to further emphasize that contracts shall be allowed to sunset." Cypress Creek also cites Representative Frankel as stating that "out-of-state facilities can maintain AEPS certification only until their current contract expires." Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 26.

Cypress Creek asserts that applying Act 40 in a way that undermines contracts that were entered into prior to passage of the Act would be a retroactive modification of existing contractual rights that is plainly illegal, especially without a clear and unambiguous directive from the General Assembly to mandate that result. Cypress Creek also asserts that arbitrarily limiting the grandfathering clause to only contracts with certain counterparties raises serious constitutional issues because it treats two sets of out-of-state contracts differently without any rational basis for doing so in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 28. Cypress Creek goes on to assert that such disparate treatment, resulting in interfering with existing contracts would also violate the Contracts Clause of the United States Constitution.³ Cypress Creek argues that if the FIO was interpreted to grandfather only a certain subset of contracts (those between an EDC/EGS and a solar system) this interpretation of Subsection 2804(2)(ii) would severely if not totally impair the value of the Cypress Creek pre-existing SREC contracts. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 29.

Cypress Creek states that it is important to make clear that it does not oppose and in fact agrees with the Commission's interpretation and application of the Act to, on a going forward basis, close the state's borders to the use of out-of-state RECs as PA SRECs. Cypress Creek narrowly requests that the Commission clarify or modify the grandfathering provision to be interpreted as including all binding contracts for the sale and purchase of SRECs until contract expiration, and not just those contracts between an out-of-state system and an EDC or EGS. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 30.

c. Constellation

Constellation states that ExGen provides wholesale power and risk management services to wholesale customers, including through participation in wholesale load procurements, in both regulated and restructured energy markets. Constellation Petition ¶ 2. Constellation also states that Constellation is an EGS in Pennsylvania and that its national retail energy platform offers its retail residential, commercial, industrial and public-sector customers electric and natural gas commodity, energy efficiency and load management solutions, and both grid-scale and behind-the-meter distributed energy resource development. As an active EGS in Pennsylvania, Constellation is subject to the AEPS Act requirements as amended by Act 40. Constellation Petition ¶ 3.

Constellation states that it supports the Commission's first requirement that maintained certification under Section 2804(2)(ii) is only available for contracts for SRECs generated by out-of-state facilities that were certified prior to October 30, 2017, the Act 40 effective date. Constellation, however, requests clarification regarding the contracts eligible for maintained certification under the Commission's second requirement for Section 2804(2)(ii). Constellation Petition ¶ 9.

³ Cypress Creek cites Nieves v. Hess Oil Virgin Island Corp., 819 F.2d 1237, 1243 (3d Cir. 1987) for the proposition that if a law operates as a "substantial impairment of a contractual relationship," then the law is invalid unless: (a) the State can provide a "significant and legitimate public purpose behind the regulation," and (b) the adjustment of the contracting parties' rights and responsibilities under the law is (i) based upon reasonable conditions, and (ii) is of a character appropriate to the public purpose justifying the legislation's adoption.

Constellation asserts that Community Energy's filing correctly acknowledges that there are often more than two parties and more than one contract involved in the SREC supply chain, and that any process to honor pre-existing SREC contracts must recognize the intricate wholesale market that lies between the facility at the beginning of the supply chain and the EDCs and EGSs at the end of the supply chain. Constellation Petition ¶ 10. Constellation posits that it is common practice for SRECs produced by solar facilities to be bought and sold many times before being acquired and retired by an EGS or EDC to meet current load. Constellation further posits that it is also common practice for aggregators to purchase SRECs pursuant to a contract under the premise that they can resell those SRECs to market participants. Constellation Petition ¶ 11. Constellation states that it and its affiliates take a portfolio approach to SREC procurement, contracting with many different parties to procure the SRECs necessary to meet the requirements of its wholesale default service supplier, EGS and on behalf of other entities such as EDCs. Constellation further states that it and its affiliates procure SRECs directly from certified out-of-state solar PV facilities and through contracts with intermediaries. Constellation Petition ¶ 12.

Constellation asserts that the language in Section 2804(2)(ii) supports the view that the appropriate focus should be on the facilities, not the EDC or EGS. Constellation asserts the statute expressly contemplates that facilities meeting the requirements in Section 2804(2)(ii) will maintain their certification and that the statute does not say that facilities meeting that criteria will be decertified and may then petition to be recertified or to have their SRECs retagged. Constellation Petition ¶ 13. Constellation acknowledges the footnote in the Commission's May 16, 2018 Secretarial Letter that provided guidance with respect to the "trail of contracts" that typically occurs throughout the lifetime of an SREC that would put entities at the very end of the supply chain in a position of having to potentially trace an SREC back to its origins. Constellation states that this guidance could be interpreted to require EGSs and EDCs to submit their contracts with an aggregator and the aggregator's contract with the entity from which it purchased the SRECs, and then the next entity, tracing the contract trail all the way back to the certified facility. Constellation argues that this "trail of contracts" is unnecessary, onerous and, in many cases, impossible. Constellation Petition ¶ 15. Constellation asserts that as each SREC has its own serial number and a state-specific certification, this information is enough to ensure that each SREC is only used once and there is not double counting and that this tracking system eliminates the need for demonstrating the contract path. Constellation Petition ¶ 16.

Constellation supports Community Energy's request that the Commission clarify that the grandfathering under Section 2804(2)(ii) is available for "all parties in the contractual supply chain from producer to the EDC and EGSs [and wholesale default service suppliers] acting in good faith within the boundaries of existing law." Constellation, however, offers additional proposals to help address the difficult question of how to recognize the full SREC supply chain. Constellation Petition ¶ 20. First, Constellation proposes that the Commission focus on the beginning of the supply chain and clarify that a certified out-of-state facility's SREC contracts entered into prior to October 30, 2017 will be honored under Section 2804(2)(ii) and extending the protection to all parties in the supply chain. Constellation asserts that this interpretation of Act 40 will allow for a thoughtful, deliberate "closing of Pennsylvania's solar border" as opposed to the market uncertainty that would ultimately result if the Commission were to decertify hundreds of thousands of valid SRECs that have been purchased pursuant to negotiated contracts entered into before the effective date of Act 40. Constellation Petition ¶ 21.

Next, Constellation offers an alternative to address the supply chain issue that allows EGSs, EDCs and/or their wholesale suppliers be permitted to present contracts for the sale of SRECs commensurate with the filing entities' Pennsylvania load. Under this alternative, the supplier could only pursue the grandfathering of contracts commensurate with load served in Pennsylvania, but the supplier would decide which contracts (within its portfolio of SREC contracts) to bring forward. Constellation notes that this alternative offers a phased-in approach to Section 2804(2)(ii) that protects customers from higher prices. Constellation Petition ¶ 23. Constellation asserts that this approach recognizes that EDCs rely primarily on contracts with wholesale default service suppliers such as ExGen to fulfill a significant portion of the default service supply obligation, noting that EDCs generally require wholesale suppliers to provide electric generation supply bundled with the SRECs, Tier 1, and Tier 2 AECs required to satisfy the AEPS obligations for the electric generation provided. Constellation Petition ¶ 24. Finally, Constellation asserts that this alternative recognizes that EGSs generally purchase their SRECs from a number of sources, including aggregators, and that by allowing EGSs to present contracts commensurate with their Pennsylvania load, the Commission ensures that EGSs will not incur additional costs. Constellation Petition ¶ 25.

Constellation also raises some other issues relating to the implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii). First, Constellation requests that the Commission direct the AEC Program Administrator to re-tag SRECs in PJM-GATS from facilities that are subject to Section 2804(2)(ii). Constellation Petition ¶¶ 27—31. Next, Constellation requests that any confidential contracts filed redact the price per SREC as it asserts that this information is not relevant to a solar PV facility's eligibility status under Section 2804(2)(ii) or to any other determining factor in this proceeding. Constellation is also concerned that as these contracts have confidentiality provisions it will be onerous, if not impossible, to produce the contracts timely as each EGS and EDC might need to notify the transacting parties and afford them a reasonable time to respond. Constellation Petition ¶¶ 32—35. Finally, Constellation states that because of the uncertainty arising out of the implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii), it recommends that the Commission consider extending the AEPS compliance reporting due date. Constellation Petition ¶ 36.

3. Disposition

We find that Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation have met the standards for granting a Petition for Clarification. All three parties have raised new and novel arguments about the implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii) of the Adm. Code, 71 P.S. § 714(2)(ii), that were not previously raised or considered by the Commission. This is evident by the fact that they seek further clarification of implementation and procedural issues initially addressed in the Commission's May 16, 2018, Secretarial Letter issued subsequent to the adoption of the FIO. Accordingly, we provide the following clarification as to the Implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii) as set forth below.

In the FIO, we stated the following regarding Sections 2804(2)(i) and (2)(ii):

For the reasons expressed in Section F.2. above, when reviewing the totality of comments described above, it becomes evident that Section 2804(1)(i), 2804(1)(ii), and 2804(1)(iii) explicitly describe the qualifications for Tier I Solar facilities after passage of Act 40; Section 2804(2)(i) clarifies that all Tier I Solar facilities certified before passage of Act 40 that are located within the geographic boundaries of Pennsylvania are to be held harmless from this legislation; and Section 2804(2)(ii) enjoins the legislation from breaching existing contracts from out-of-state Tier I Solar facilities which were entered into before passage to serve the AEPS Act needs of Pennsylvania entities.

FIO at 26. We went on to state that “we interpret this section to only permit out-of-state facilities that are (a) already certified as AEPS Tier I Solar Photovoltaic and that (b) have entered into a contract with a Pennsylvania EDC or EGS serving Pennsylvania customers, for the sale of solar credits, to maintain certification until the expiration of the contract.” FIO at 26-27. We further stated that “this maintained certification should only be applicable to the amount of credits contractually committed to by an out-of-state certified facility to an EDC or EGS.” FIO at 27.

a. Section 2804(2)(ii) Clarification

We agree with Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation that further clarification is needed regarding the contracting parties covered by these statements regarding the implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii), which we provide here. However, we cannot adopt the position of Cypress Creek and Constellation that all contracts entered into by any out-of-state solar PV facility prior to October 30, 2017, qualify under Section 2804(2)(ii) as these parties suggest, as it would make this Section meaningless. To explain, we begin with the words of the statute. Section 2804(2) states as follows:

(2) Nothing under this section or section 4 of the “Alternative Energy Portfolio Standards Act” shall affect any of the following:

(ii) Certification of a solar photovoltaic system with a binding written contract for the sale and purchase of alternative energy credits derived from solar photovoltaic energy sources entered into prior to the effective date of this section.

A key phrase in this section is “for the sale and purchase of alternative energy credits.” Alternative energy credits (AECs) are defined in the AEPS Act and our regulations as “[a] tradable instrument that is used to establish, verify and monitor compliance with [the AEPS Act].” The definition goes on to state that “[a] unit of credit shall equal one megawatt hour of electricity from an alternative energy source.” See 73 P.S. § 1648.2 and 52 Pa. Code § 75.1. A solar photovoltaic system that produces electricity is an alternative energy source under the AEPS Act. See 73 P.S. § 1648.2 (definition of alternative energy source). Therefore, one megawatt hour of electricity produced by a solar photovoltaic system can produce one AEC, if it is used to meet the requirements of the AEPS Act and meets all the other requirements of the AEPS Act, as amended.

With that said, we find it significant that solar photovoltaic is an alternative or renewable energy source in every state that has a renewable energy standard.⁴ We also find it significant that many persons and entities, including Pennsylvania EGSs, buy and sell credits created by solar PV systems as a value-added service or product, to offset their carbon dioxide footprint, or to simply support solar PV development.⁵ Accordingly, one megawatt of electricity generated from a solar PV system can be sold and used to satisfy any alternative or renewable standard requirement or can be sold as a product to any entity seeking to purchase it for their own purpose. As such, one megawatt hour of electricity from a solar PV can only become an AEPS Act AEC, if it is in the end used to establish, verify and monitor compliance with the AEPS Act. Otherwise, it is simply a product that can be bought and sold for any state renewable energy standard requirement or for any purpose by any person or entity that does not have a requirement to purchase such energy under such standards.

We find it significant that there are 5,094 out of 5,965 out-of-state solar PV facilities⁶ that are certified in Pennsylvania as well as other states, indicating that a vast majority of these facilities can sell their solar credits to multiple entities for use in other states, not just Pennsylvania. We also find it significant that all of these solar PV facilities can sell their solar credits to other entities for uses other than to meet an alternative or renewable energy standard.

We also disagree with Cypress Creek’s characterization of comments submitted by Senator Scavello and Representative Frankel. Cypress Creek quotes Senator Scavello as stating that “this [grandfathering] language was included only at the request of AEPS contract holders to further emphasize that contracts shall be allowed to sunset.” Cypress Creek also cites Representative Frankel as stating that “out-of-state facilities can maintain AEPS certification only until their current contracts expire.” Cypress Creek posits these selective quotes as legislative support for its position that the Commission preserve all contracts. Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 26. We, however, find that based on the entirety of the comments submitted by Senator Scavello and Representative Frankel that their comments in fact support the Commission’s position as stated in the FIO. Senator Scavello’s entire comment on the contract provision was as follows:

On the language regarding contracts: This language was included only at the request of the AEPS contract holders to further emphasize that contracts shall be allowed to sunset. Most of these contracts are only 3—5 years and once those contracts sunset, they will not be renewed if the (solar system) distribution system is not within the geographical boundaries of the Commonwealth. If the Commission finds that the language of the Act refers to “contracts” other than those used for AEPS compliance, then the purpose of Act 40 will be rendered useless.

Senator Scavello’s December 27, 2017 Comments (emphasis in original). The last sentence in this comment, which Senator Scavello put in bold to provide further emphasis, clearly indicates his support for the Commission’s position.

⁶ See PJM-EIS Renewable Generators Registration in GATS report as of July 18, 2018 available at <https://www.pjm-eis.com/reports-and-events/public-reports.aspx>.

Regarding the Comment attributed to Representative Frankel, Cypress Creek conveniently left out the first part of the sentence, in which Representative Frankel stated that “[t]he Brown/Place supplemental interpretation would ensure that only in-state Alternative Energy Portfolio Standards (AEPS) certification are grandfathered in. . . .” This clearly indicates Representative Frankel’s support for the position expressed by Chairman Brown and Vice Chairman Place in their Joint Statement regarding the TIO. That Joint Statement had the following, regarding Section 2804(2)(ii):

2804(2)(ii)—Here we propose to interpret this section to only permit out-of-state facilities already certified as AEPS Tier I Solar Photovoltaic that have entered into a contract with a Pennsylvania electric distribution company, electric generation supplier serving Pennsylvania customers, load serving entity, electric cooperative, or municipal cooperative, for the sale of SRECs may maintain certification until the expiration of the contract.

This is the position adopted by the Commission in the FIO. Accordingly, we find that both Senator Scavella and Representative Frankel’s comments support the position adopted by the Commission.

Section 2804(2)(ii) specifically requires that the contract relate to the sale and purchase of AECs. Accordingly, in order to qualify under Section 2804(2)(ii), the sale and purchase of a solar PV credit must be connected, in some way, to use by an EDC or EGS for compliance with the AEPS Act before it can even be considered an AEC. As we stated in the FIO, Section 2804(2)(ii) only applies to the amount of credits committed to by an out-of-state certified facility to an EDC or EGS. See FIO at 27.

We recognize the industry practices described by Cypress Creek and Constellation that credits are bought and sold many times before being acquired and retired by an EGS or EDC to meet the AEPS Act requirements. We note, however, that such a practice, on its own, does not meet the requirements of Section 2804(2)(ii). Section 2804(2)(ii) has a predicate that only contracts entered into prior to the Act 40 effective date meet the exception provided. What Cypress Creek and Constellation describe, without more specific information, are new contracts for the sale and purchase of credits entered into after the effective date of Act 40. Cypress Creek acknowledges this when it states that its generators entered into contracts for the sale of their PA SRECs with brokers or aggregators and that “those brokers or aggregators may not have yet entered into contracts for the sale of all of Cypress Creek-generated PA SRECs to Pennsylvania load-serving entities.” Cypress Creek Petition ¶ 12 (emphasis added).

Constellation makes a similar acknowledgement when it states that “[i]t is common practice for aggregators to purchase SRECs pursuant to a contract under the premise that they can resell those SRECs to market participants.” Constellation Petition ¶ 11. Again, without more, we find that this is not enough to meet the Section 2804(2)(ii) requirement that only contracts entered into prior to the effective date of Act 40 qualify for the exception. Any sale of an AEC through a contract that was entered into after October 30, 2017, cannot qualify under Section 2804(2)(ii).

Based on this new information and the above analysis, we provide the following clarification as to the implementation of Section 2804(2)(ii). We will adopt a modified version of Community Energy’s proposal and Constellation’s second proposal. Specifically, we clarify that all contracts with EGSs, EDCs and/or their wholesale suppliers, as well as any other entity holding contracts entered into prior to October 30, 2017, and within the chain of production of the solar AECs supplying those contracts may file a petition. Such Petitions may seek to have the AECs covered by the contracts with the EGS, EDC or their wholesale supplier certified for use by the EGS or EDC for compliance with the AEPS Act solar PV share requirement. We emphasize that only the AECs directly attributable to an EGS serving load in Pennsylvania, an EDC serving load in Pennsylvania or its wholesale supplier will be eligible to be used for the AEPS Act solar PV share requirement pursuant to Section 2804(2)(ii). To do otherwise would make Section 2804(2)(ii) meaningless by making the exception become the rule, in that it would permit the sale and purchase of all credits generated by out-of-state facilities eligible and include contracts not entered into prior to October 30, 2017.

b. Retagging of Credits

Regarding the request by Cypress Creek and Constellation to retag all out-of-state facilities from PA-NNNNNN-NSTI-I to PA-NNNNNN-SUN-I, we decline to do so as such an action would increase, not decrease confusion. We note that out-of-state solar PV facilities that were certified as an AEPS Act alternative energy system prior to October 30, 2017, now have two certification designations. These facilities have the SUN designation for all electric production reported prior to November 1, 2017 in GATS. All of these AECs continue to be eligible for use by EDCs and EGSs to meet their AEPS Act solar PV share requirement. See FIO at 29-30. These same facilities, along with any newly certified out-of-state facilities, have the NSTI designation that will apply to all electric production reported from November 1, 2017 and thereafter.

This NSTI designation signals to all market participants, and in particular EGSs and EDCs that purchase AECs for compliance, that these AECs cannot be used to meet their AEPS Act solar PV share requirement, unless they were bought through a contract that meets the Section 2804(2)(ii) exemption. As this exemption involves contracts that were entered into prior to October 30, 2017, the number of AECs eligible will be dictated by such contracts and only that number of qualifying AECs with the NSTI designation will be permitted by the AEC Program Administrator to be used by an EDC or EGS for compliance with the solar PV share requirement.

c. Confidentiality

Regarding Constellation’s request that parties filing contracts for approval be permitted to redact the price per SREC as it asserts that this information is not relevant to a solar PV facility’s eligibility status under Section 2804(2)(ii) or to any other determining factor in this proceeding, we will grant this request as modified herein. We find that to facilitate the filing of contracts by parties seeking to have the AECs associated with those contracts approved for use to meet the AEPS Act solar PV share requirement under Section 2804(2)(ii) that the parties may redact the price per credit in its filing. We note, however, that if the price per credit becomes an issue in the proceeding, then such information must be provided under appropriate confidentiality safeguards.

We also note that 52 Pa. Code § 5.41 requires that petitions must state clearly and concisely the interest of the petitioner in the subject matter, the facts and law relied upon and the relief sought. We strongly encourage that the petition clearly identify sections or portions of any submitted contract that identify the relevant facts to support the petitioner's claims.

d. Filing Deadline

Regarding Constellation's request that more time may be needed by parties to secure confidentiality agreements related to contracts being filed for approval under Section 2804(2)(ii), we will revoke the requirement in the FIO that EDCs and EGSs seeking to qualify credits under Section 2804(2)(ii) file a petition within sixty days of the entry date of this Order. Parties are free to file a petition whenever they deem necessary to obtain the benefits of Section 2804(2)(ii). We note that Section 2804(2)(ii) only impacts credits generated on or after November 1, 2017, and that such credits are eligible for use by an EDC or EGS in the reporting period they were produced or the two immediately following reporting periods. See 52 Pa. Code § 75.69(a). Accordingly, depending on the length of the contract covered by Section 2804(2)(ii), associated credits have a useful life of at least two reporting periods after the present reporting period covering June 1, 2017 through May 31, 2018, decreasing the immediacy of the need to file petitions seeking such approval.

e. True-up Period Extension

Regarding Constellation's request that the Commission consider extending the AEPS Act compliance reporting due date, we will decline to establish a blanket extension. We will, however, entertain petitions filed by any EDC or EGS seeking to extend the AEPS Act true-up period beyond September 1, 2018, due to Act 40 and the Commission's implementation of that Act.

4. Position of AMP

AMP asserts that despite the lack of ambiguity of the plain language, the Commission, in an apparent attempt to add meaning to Act 40's Section 2804(2) that is not plainly stated, found in its FIO that Section 2804(2) contains vague and unclear language and relied on comments submitted by legislators to effectively rewrite the plain language of Act 40 to change "certification" to "facility" in Section 2804(2). AMP Petition ¶ 10. AMP argues that in doing so, the Commission erred by inferring intention into legislation when the plain meaning is clear in violation of the Rules of Statutory Construction that instruct the Commission to not disregard the letter of legislation. AMP Petition ¶ 11. AMP requests that the Commission revert to the TIO to recognize the certifications granted to out-of-state solar facilities by Pennsylvania prior to Act 40's enactment in accordance with the plain language of Act 40. AMP Petition ¶ 14.

Next AMP asserts that under the Rules of Statutory Construction, when interpreting legislative text, administrative agencies should presume against a retroactive effect unless the legislation specifically declares as much. AMP Petition ¶ 15. AMP argues that there is no declaration, express or even implicit, that Act 40 shall apply retroactively and that Act 40 clearly states that it does not become effective prior to October 30, 2017. AMP further asserts that the Commission rightly concluded in the TIO that facilities already certified on and prior to October 30 should retain their certification and that the Commission did not address the concerns of retroactive application on certification in the FIO. AMP Petition ¶ 16. AMP argues that the Commission should apply Act 40's border limitation on a prospective basis only. AMP Petition ¶ 18.

Finally, AMP asserts that the Commission's FIO runs afoul of the U.S. Constitution in its discrimination against out-of-state solar facilities, citing Article I, Section 8, clause 3 of the United States Constitution or the "commerce clause" allows Congress to regulate interstate commerce. AMP Petition ¶ 19. AMP asserts that state laws and regulations that discriminate against interstate commerce have been routinely struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court as a violation of the commerce clause, unless the state-administered discrimination is "demonstrably justified by a valid factor unrelated to economic protectionism. AMP Petition ¶ 20. AMP argues that the Commission's FIO confers economic benefits and disparately treats in-state solar facilities to the detriment of out-of-state facilities. AMP Petition ¶ 21. AMP argues that the Commission has failed to provide a valid reason for its discrimination against out-of-state solar facilities that does not rest on economic protectionism. AMP Petition ¶ 22. AMP asserts that the Commission should revert to the TIO to recognize the certifications granted to out-of-state solar facilities by Pennsylvania prior to Act 40's enactment. AMP Petition ¶ 23.

5. Disposition

We find that AMP has failed to meet the standards for granting a Petition for Rehearing and Reconsideration. AMP has not raised any new and novel arguments about the implementation of Section 2804(2) of the Adm. Code, 71 P.S. § 714(2), that were not previously raised or considered by the Commission. In fact, AMP's Petition is replete with references and reliance on the Commission's TIO. In the FIO, the Commission considered and explained why we adopted positions different from those proposed in the TIO. In fact, through their Joint Statement, Chairman Brown and Vice Chairman Place proposed, for stakeholder and Commission consideration, many of the positions adopted by the Commission in the FIO, after due consideration of the comments and issues, that are raised by AMP in its Petition. Accordingly, we deny AMP's Petition for rehearing and reconsideration.

Conclusion

For the reasons expressed in this Opinion and Order we will grant, in part, and deny, in part, the Petitions for Clarification and Reconsideration filed by Community Energy, Cypress Creek and Constellation. For the reasons expressed in this Opinion and Order we will deny the Petition for Rehearing and Reconsideration filed by American Municipal Power.

Therefore,

It Is Ordered That:

1. The Petition of Community Energy, Inc. and Community Energy Solar, LLC for Clarification and/or Reconsideration of the Commission's May 3, 2018, Final Implementation Order is granted, in part, and denied, in part, consistent with this Opinion and Order.

2. The Petition of Cypress Creek Renewables, LLC for Clarification or Reconsideration of the Commission's May 3, 2018, Final Implementation Order is granted, in part, and denied, in part, consistent with this Opinion and Order.

3. The Petition of Exelon Generation Company, LLC and Constellation NewEnergy, Inc. for Clarification and/or Reconsideration of the Commission's May 3, 2018, Final Implementation Order is granted, in part, and denied, in part, consistent with this Opinion and Order.

4. The Petition of American Municipal Power, Inc. for Rehearing and Reconsideration of the Commission's May 3, 2018, Final Implementation Order is denied consistent with this Opinion and Order.
